Corn Topping May Have Some Advantages

LINCOLN — In response to questions on topping corn plants, University of Nebraska agronomists report that the practice will not solve all corn harvesting problems, but it is something farmers may want to consider.

John Furrer, Extension agronomist at the University, reports that the University of Illinois conducted research from 1950 to 1952 on the value of mechanical topping for hastening field drying of corn.

The studies showed that mechanical topping, like chemical topkilling, had only a minor effect in reducing moisture content to a safe storage level. If topping is done before the corn is actually mature (around 30 to 35 per cent moisture), yield is apt to be reduced.

"Even though corn topping may not be practical from the standpoint of field drying, certain harvesting advantages may be realized from it."

"Although we have no data to provide evidence, some farmers in Illinois have reported such advantages as:

- Less lodging;
- Easier picking (less clogging of the snapping rollers);
- Cleaner picking with less trash in the corn; and
- Better shelling efficiency if harvesting is done with a combine.

"If you are interested in corn topping, you may wish to try it on a small scale in your own field this fall. Somewhere away from the edge of the field, top a small part of two or four rows by hand just above the ear."

"When you harvest the corn, note any differences in lodging, ease of harvesting, or other characteristics. If possible, compare yields of the topped rows with those of the same amount of untopped corn next to them," Illinois scientists suggest.

Longer Goose Season?

LINCOLN — If the Fish and Wildlife Service goes along with recommendations made last week at Helena, Mont., by the Central Flyway Council, then Nebraska goose hunters are going to be on the winning end.

The group recommended a 75-day-long season on all geese. This is particularly significant as far as Nebraska is concerned, for it will give state hunters a better chance at both the early geese coming down the Missouri River and the late Canada geese hitting western Nebraska.

In 1958, there was an Oct. 1 to Nov. 29 season for Canada geese and its subspecies and white-fronted geese, and a Oct. 1 to Dec. 14 season for blue and snow geese. Bag limit was five, as was the possession limit. Similar limits were suggested for this year.

The reduced duck population because of drought conditions to the north was reflected in the flyway council's recommendation for a 75-day season with a bag of four and possession limit of eight. An optional season of 60 days with limits of five and 10 was also recommended.

Last year's duck season started Oct. 1 and continued thru Dec. 29.

Because of the low numbers of redheads and canvasbacks, the council recommended a closed season on those two species. Announcement of the actual seasons is expected Aug. 14.

New Wing To Be Organized at Offutt AFB

OFFUTT AFB — The 4321st Strategic Wing, consisting of 34 people, will be organized at Offutt AFB, Oct. 1. It will supervise and control activities of the 34th Air Refueling Squadron and the 566th Strategic Missile Squadron.

The new organization is basically an operational unit; therefore it will be a part of SAC's Second Air Force, located at Barksdale AFB, Shreveport, La., and will be assigned to the 17th Air Division, which is headquartered at Whiteman AFB, Mo.

Offutt's 3902nd Air Base Wing, commanded by Col. William B. Campbell, will furnish the necessary housekeeping services and support for the new unit, just as it does now for other units at Offutt.

The Strategic Wing will have 18 officers, 13 airmen and three civilian employees authorized.

Col. Edwin H. Garrison, currently base commander at Chennault AFB, Lake Charles, La., has been selected to command the new wing.

A. N. Sadiak (R-Conn.) former representative: "I am convinced that achievement of a moderate schedule of income tax rates is necessary to the continued vitality and growth of our nation's economy."

WHY DO WITHOUT A LITTLE LUXURY LIKE THIS... LET ALONE THESE BIG CHEVY VIRTUES!

greater roominess
Automobile Manufacturers Association records carry the facts on this. In a Chevy sedan, for example, you've got more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars! And Chevy's front seat hip room spreads up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars.

bigger savings
Here's solid proof that Chevrolet squeezes more miles out of a gallon: In the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, two Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide took the first two places in their class. Winning mileage: 22.38 m.p.g. And that, friends, took top honors for Chevy from every full-sized car!

full coil ride
You're the expert on ride, so you'll want to try Chevy's easygoing smoothness for yourself. MOTOR TREND magazine can give you a hint of what you're in for: "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." And Full Coil springs, of course, never squeak, never need grease.

bigger brakes
Bigger, yes, and built with bonded linings for as much as 66% longer life. And how's this for proof that Chevy's a real stopper: in a NASCAR*-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds, Chevrolet outstopped both of the "other two" time after time.

award-winning engines
The NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award goes to Chevrolet! Chevy wins for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines... for the establishment of new levels of V8 compactness combined with outstanding smoothness." And you can choose among eight V8's and the Six that won the Mobilgas Economy Run for its class.

fresh styling
POPULAR SCIENCE magazine gave Chevy's styling a thoughtful look, then said it this way: "In its price class, Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling..." You'll find your own happy way of saying that Chevy's the only unmistakably modern car in its class.

higher trade-in
N.A.D.A.* Guide Books prove that your Chevrolet will keep its value. Chevy used car prices last year, for example, averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the other two cars in Chevrolet's field.

22 Years of SERVICE AND PROGRESS FOR NEBRASKANS!

Consumers Public Power District, serving more than 120,000 owner-customers in 356 Nebraska communities, has now completed its twentieth year.

Consumers has followed a policy of providing ever-better electric service at ever-lower costs. Residential customers live better electrically today, while paying an average of only 2.565 cents per kilowatt-hour used, as compared with an average of 4.71 cents per kwh used 20 years ago.

The future looks even brighter. The Sheldon Station and Nuclear Power Facility at Hallam—just one facet of Consumers' long-range plans—not only will produce 100,000 kilowatts of needed electricity, but will open up new avenues for further agricultural and industrial progress in Nebraska.
