new county highway superintendent.

Todd told him that the decision to hire Clark was made by an unanimous action of the Board after it had interviewed about a dozen applicants for the position.

Law now requires that the county roads program and funds be administered on a county-wide basis under supervision of a highway superintendent.

The latter, the law says, can be either an engineer, engineering consulting firm or an experienced road builder.

Todd said Clark qualifies as a road builder. His salary ($6,000 a year) was the lowest of any proposed by an applicant, Todd said, the others ranging from $8,000 to $27,000.

One of the visitors asked if it would be cheaper for the county to hire an engineering firm, in view of the fact that the county still has to hire such a firm to do engineering on federal matching projects.

Todd said "no," that applicants for the position who were engineers indicated that extra charge would be made for federal matching work, besides the salaries they proposed.

In the afternoon, Bornemeier remarked that he was satisfied with the way Clark is administering the roads program. Todd agreed. Nolte made no comment at that time.

Bornemeier said it was expected that there would be some problems with the shift from the former method of each Commissioner supervising his own district's work and supplying his own equipment and labor.

About the Weeping Water East road, Todd said the Commission decided it would be better not to try to begin work on the project and possibly have the road in a torn-up condition, as long as there is no way of knowing when federal funds will be available.

The Commission was queried Tuesday morning about improvement of the Mynard Road. Todd said the Commission had decided in a majority decision that the project would be the very next in federal matching after the Weeping Water East road.

He also said it was a majority decision that the work begin at Highway 50 and proceed east since there are mud roads at the west end of the road.

He said that when those mud stretches are completed he doesn't care which parts are done next, that that would be up to Mr. Nolte. It had been asked whether the work could begin at Mynard and go west.

Nolte said he wanted to start at Mynard.

The Commission is in process of acquiring right-of-way for the Mynard road project.

At one point in the discussion Tuesday, a visitor remarked that he didn't see how the Commission got anything done "the way you fight." His comment followed an exchange between Nolte and Bornemeier.

Todd commented that there certainly has been friction between the two men and that he was in the middle trying to keep the peace and having to make some decisions on his own because of it.

The Commission meets again Sept. 15-16, the regular second meeting of the month.

attorney to prepare a resolution of necessity and ordered a notice of hearing prepared for publication.

If the resolution is passed after the hearing, a district would be formed, plans and specifications will be drawn, approval obtained from the State Dept. of Health and bids called for construction.

According to the preliminary report, the lateral sewer would be 5,000 feet long, containing 3,900 feet of 8-inch pipe, 1,100 feet of extra-strength pipe and 14 manholes.

Henningson, Durham and Richardson, the engineering consultant, estimated the cost at $21,800.

The sewer would be an average of 11 feet deep and 16 feet at its deepest points.

Only two of the now existing properties on the sewer route could not be served with basement drains if the sewer were installed as outlined.

The estimated cost per front foot, if the total cost is assessed on a front foot basis as is customary here, would be $2.21, according to the engineering report.

This compares with $2.26 for Sewer District 14 construction completed last year and $3.96 for District 15 where a creek had to be spanned and a line run beneath paving at added expense.

'Basis Rate' Needed For Participation In Soil 'Reserve'

LINCOLN — Farmers who wish to put cropland in the Soil Bank's 1960 Conservation Reserve must ask the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee to set a basis annual rate per acre for the offered land.

In setting the basic annual per-acre rate for land offered, the county committee will take into consideration the productivity of the land. The rate will be limited to the local fair rental value of the land based on the crops harvested from it during the past five years.

When all the eligible crop-land on the farm is offered for the Conservation Reserve, the rate generally will be set 10 per cent higher than the rate for only part of the eligible land.

After the basic rate has been determined, the farmer may apply for a contract at any figure below the basic rate established for the land offered in the request for rates. If necessary, a priority system will be used to determine which offers are accepted.

Contracts under the Conservation Reserve may run for as long as 10 years. During the time of the contract, the farmer will receive an annual rental payment on the reserved land for the life of the contract and he will also receive cost-sharing help in establishing an approved conservation practice.

The basic per acre rate of payment under the 1960 Conservation Reserve in Nebraska is $12.50, the same as under the 1959 program. Tentative acreage goal for the state is 227,000 acres.
