Marriage and Motor Bikes

Over in Easingwood a lass named Pauline Dunhill, who is described as seventeen and pretty, recently uttered some rather interesting words. It all started a few weeks ago.

Pauline left Easingwood with her fiance, Ken Robinson, a farmer, and was due to be married.

It seems that, however, before the actual marriage, Pauline took a shine to the best man, David Lawn, and so she handed Ken the brush at the last minute, leaving a note behind, saying she had run off with Dave, and that he should remember that he had always said that her happiness came first.

Another switch was in the books, though, and Pauline found that David ran out of money before marriage - time. This was too much for Pauline, who had jilted a farmer (apparently with money) and so Pauline decided to go back to Mother. The latest quote from Pauline was, "I don't want to marry either of them. It was their motorbikes that really attracted me."

While this is something of a compliment for the motorbikes of the two gentlemen involved, it does not seem to reflect much credit on their personal qualifications, for they obviously rate second to the motorbike. All of which proves, once again, that anything can happen in love and war - which are, after all, very similar in many respects.

Down Memory Lane

20 YEARS AGO

The local law enforcing officials have been searching for clues that might reveal the death journey of Boyd Hubler, 28 year old river worker. Possibilities that the slaying might have occurred anywhere from Omaha to Union where he lived for two years have made the task more difficult. The weapon, that of a part of a dismantled shot gun, leads to the belief that it was prepared in use as a slugging weapon or a murder that it was used to complete.
