Navy Sets NROTC Exam for Dec. 12

V-Adm. H. P. Smith, Chief of Naval Personnel, announced today that the 14th annual national competitive examinations for the Regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps will be given to eligible high school seniors and graduates on December 12. Application forms are now available and must be received before November 14.

Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a regular commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has an NROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books a freshman through a fourth year are furnished by Navy, and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years.

During the summers the student goes on interesting training cruises as a midshipman. After completing the usual four year college course, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty as a prospective career officer with the Navy's far-flung fleets. For those who apply and qualify, immediate assignment to flight training will open new careers in naval aviation.

High school seniors and graduates who have reached the 17th anniversary of birth and have not reached the 21st anniversary of birth on 1 July 1960 may apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid physical exam early in 1960. From the pool of qualified young men remaining in competition, approximately 1600 will be selected to begin their naval careers next September.

The NROTC college training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty with the Navy and Marines. Separate quotas are established for applicants within these services.

Application forms are available at high schools, colleges, from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Department of the Navy, Washington 25, D.C.
