1960 Oldsmobile Has Balanced Design

Many features of the balanced design of Oldsmobile for 1960 may be seen in this photograph. Entering the picture at the left is a 1960 Oldsmobile Dynamic "88" Celebrity Sedan. The chrome-plated bars in groups of three across the front give the grille a wide stable look. The outboard pair of headlights are set slightly to the rear of the inboard pair with a block numeral "88" for identification. In the "88" and Super "88" series the Oldsmobile crest is used for identification. The parking lights are safely recessed in the corners of the sturdy bumper. At the right is the unique rear end treatment of the 1960 Oldsmobile as seen on the "88" Holiday Sport Sedan. The gas filler cap is located behind the hinged license plate. In the center background is a 1960 Oldsmobile "88" Holiday Sport Coupe showing the clean lines which feature Oldsmobile's balanced design for 1960. This combination of views shows the low, level design of the hood and the expansive "Clean-Sweep" rear deck to good advantage.

Schacht said Atomics International, the Canoga Park, Calif., firm which is designing and building the nuclear reactor vessel, has a model of the plant. O. J. Foust, A.I.'s operations manager for the Hallam project, will discuss the Hallam work with young Linkletter and use the plant model for demonstrations.

Young Linkletter will open his "On The Go" show by discussing the atomic bomb and a bomb shelter built by a Los Angeles family in the family's backyard. He will then show how atomic power has been put to peaceful use — including CPPD's nuclear power facility.
