St. John the Baptist is the first diocesan parish in the diocese of Lincoln to reach its Centenary Year. It is true that Catholicism in the Plattsmouth area reaches back to the Coronado Expedition of 1541. It is even possible that the first Martyrs in this area to shed their blood for Christ did so on Plattsmouth soil.

The town was founded and planned by a Catholic, Samuel Martin in 1852 and incorporated by him in 1854. But formal organization of a parish began only in May, 1859. The first Mass for the new congregation was said on July 7, 1859, by Father Francis Cannon O.S.B., in the Conrad Schlaier home.

The Fitzgerald Brothers still living in Plattsmouth are direct descendants of the Conrad Schlaier. Another direct descendant, Eugene Tighe, is coming all the way from California to be present at the Centenary.

The first Parish Church was built in 1863 by Father Emmanuel Hartig O.S.B., at 4th St. and Second Ave. It still stands and is now a residence. The present church was begun by Father Francis Bobal and is largely the gift of the Hon. John Fitzgerald, Nebraska's First Millionaire.

During the last year, the Church underwent extensive repair, redecoration and the addition of a 40'x16' sacristy and 38'x10' vestibule. Some 15,000 hours of volunteer work went into the repair job. Only the Perma-stoning of the new vestibule, the preparation and installing of the seven new stained glass windows were done by professionals. The cost of restoring Old St. John's is estimated at about $45,000. But the actual outlay of money was only about $10,000 because of the volunteer labor.

The Solemn Centennial Mass and the Centennial Dinner and Program are open to the public. Tickets to the dinner may be purchased at the Wee Wardrobe, Feldhausen Drugs, and B. & H. Shoe Store.
