Danny Kaye to Open In "The Five Pennies"

All the Danny Kaye fans in town (which takes in just about everybody!) who think that it's always too long a time between his pictures, will be happy to hear that Sun., Mon., Tues., Nov. 29, 30, Dec. 1, "The Five Pennies," his new Paramount production, can be seen at the Cass Theatre.

Filed in Technicolor, the dramatic story about the jazz-filled life of famed cornetist "Red" Nichols also stars Barbara Bel Geddes, Louis Armstrong, Harry Guardino, Bob Crosby and Bobby Troup. Jazz hepcsters will be interested in the composition of the screen band as it compares with Nichols' original Five Pennies. Bandleader Ray Anthony plays Jimmy Dorsey; drummer Shelly Manne plays original drummer Dave Tough; Pianist leader Bobby Troup plays pianist Arthur Schutt; actor Ray Daly portrays Glenn Miller, and Harry Guardino (who scored a big hit in "Houseboat") portrays Nichols' original guitarist.

Twenty-five songs background the true-life story of the talented musician who disappeared at the height of his career when tragedy struck his family, and who made a successful comeback under the most dramatic and exciting circumstances.
