'Easter Parade' Began in Early Christian Days

The first Easter Parades weren't the fashion shows Irving Berlin wrote about, but the celebration of a "new life."

The custom of wearing new clothes on Easter Sunday dates from the early days of Christianity, when newly baptized Christians were clothed in garments of white linen.

Researchers with World Book Encyclopedia report the baptism has always been closely associated with Easter. Just as the Resurrection represents the new life of Christ, so baptism represents the initiation of the believer into a new life.

In the early Church, Lent was the annual season of preparation for baptism, and the sacrament was celebrated on Holy Saturday during the Easter Vigil.

Eventually all Christians began to dress up for a joyful parade through town... much to the joy of today's clothing manufacturers.

In fact, it might have been an early advertising executive who coined the English rhyme, "At Easter let your clothes be new or else be sure you will rue."
