British Stress Education

The British government has announced that British children will be required to attend school through the age of sixteen in the future

For many years, British children were only educated through their fifteenth year. The announcement from London is an obvious indication that the British, like so many Americans, are concerned with the challenge of the times-in education. in science, and in so many other fields.

Even though the British system is considered to be far superior to the American educational system, year for year and student for student, by age, the British are lengthening their schooling by one year. Other than much talk, and a series of articles, and a resulting emphasis on science courses, the Amercian school system has changed relatively little in the face of the communist challenge.

It would be a tragic departure from our traditional way of life for our school system to be revamped along the lines of a twelve-month year. The traditional summer holiday would be lost, and much of the youth's development, that area which is not directly concerned with academic work, would perhaps suffer.

Nonetheless, stiffer curriculums, better school systems better teachers and a generally-improved school system is a "must" in the United States if our educational process is to keep pace with that in communist Russia. Patriotic Americans may not like to think that the Russian system is superior to that in the United States, or that the average school system in Europe is superior, but nevertheless these are facts.

It would be much better to do something about it, before we are suffering serious consequences, than to exhibit false pride by depreciating other systems.

YEARS AGO Civilian Conservation Corps camp No. 751 of Weeping Water observed the seventh anniversary of the establishing of the Corps over the nation by holding "open house" at the camp. This is the fourth year the local camp has been in operation. At this time there are 196 boys enrolled. They are young men from 17 to 24 years of age. Many of the boys have been guests at Weeping Water homes and a fine feeling has grown up between the residents of the city and the boys. The attendants at the camp are enrolled for a six months period. When the camp was first opened there was the rigors of a severe winter to undergo, the buildings at time being were inadequate, with shortage of tools, but this has been remedied and new buildings added from time to time and adequate facilities for study and recreation installed. Gulfied and waste areas totaling ledge of learning truck driving, maping, soil work, typing, drafting, cooking, surveying, carpentering, use of engineer instruments, and many unskilled jobs. Music classes are handled from Weeping Water schools and many have the opportunity of attending classes at the city schools-At a double wedding ceremony at the Holy Rosary church in this city, Misses Lillian and Antoinette Koubek were married to Leo and Mark Hohman, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hohman of near Wabash. This was the first double wedding in the fortyseven years history of the church. Attendants were Miss Gladys Hohman of Omaha. sister of the grooms and George Lepert of this city, cousins of the bride. Rev Father Joseph R. Sinkula, pastor of the church celebrated the wedding service. Following the wedding the reception was held at the home of the brides parents where over fifty persons were there to spend the day. -Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, widow of John Fitzgerald, railroad contractor, died at Lincoln. The Fitzgerald's were residents of Plattsmouth in the seventies and eighties. In the period up to 1880 Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald had a large part in the development of Plattsmouth. They gave liberal support to the erection of the St. John the Baptist church in this city in 1878. In 1879 the family moved to Lincoln. * * *

30 YEARS AGO
City schools joined in observing Ne braska's own holiday, Arbor day, with a program of tree planting, the students and teachers taking an active part in seeing that trees that were dying were replaced Each high school class is sponsoring a tree previously planted. The freshmen have taken over the care of a tree planted by the class of 1929. A committee from each class has been made responsible for the care and protection of their class tree-The Plattsmouth Water Co., are completing the work of laying a pipe line from the pumping station in this city to the U. S. rifle range north of this city. The range is used very much in the summer by troops from Fort Crook as well as reserve officers and the Fort Crook training camp-Seniors of the high school occupied a portion of the program from radio station KFNF and station KMA at Shenandoah, Ia, R. Foster Patterson, the silver tounged orator of the Ozarks was at the "mike." The program embraced a baritone solo, "The Bells of Donna" by Gorge Sayles, two piano numbers, "The Stein Song" of the University of Maine, and "Should I" by Charles Nowacek, a violin duet by Donald Rainey and Ira Mumm, with the vocal refrain by Mumm, John Albert pepped up the program with two saxaphone solos - John Nelson who came home from Denver to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson, Sr., and enjoy a rest from his work with the Burlington, was taken down with an attack of appendicitis. He was taken to the Clarkson hospital for emergency operation.-The "Chozie" bridge club, composed of a number of the ladies of the high school, were guests of Miss Florence Nelson at her home on Rock street. Guests were Misses Maxine Cloidt, Patricia, Ruth and Rose Ferrie, Mildred Jahrig, Marie Vallery, Mildred Schulz, Kathryn Hirz, 283 acres have been planted. Last year Ellen Nora Meisinger, Margaret and Flor-215,000 trees were planted over the coun- ence Nelsen, Kitchen guests were Lyle ty. The boys at the camp have the privi- Lawton and Bill Nelson.
