Elmwood Student Writes Tribute To Superintendent

ELMWOOD (Special) — The pupils of the Elmwood school and the faculty are saddened by the loss of their superintendent, Mr. Clarence Soucek. He died at his home Saturday night.

He had been back to school each morning last week for a few minutes; the first time since the serious heart attack he suffered in January. He received a hearty welcome from all the pupils. Everyone looked forward to seeing him more often this week as he had planned to take care of his books for the rest of the year.

Stephen . . . a junior at Elmwood wrote the following tribute about a week before Mr. Soucek's death. This was written for the school paper.

"I would like to pay tribute to a man whom we all like and respect. A man who has kept this school running smoothly for four years and has never stopped to think about himself and the great sacrifices he makes to do this job.

"Who is this man? It is none other than Mr. Soucek. His life is in his teaching. He has always gone into every new situation with one thought — 'How will it help the people who are coming up in the world?'"

"Mr. Soucek had a heart attack and isn't teaching now. As happens so many times, we didn't realize the worth of this man until we lost him.
"We look forward to his return in the fall." — Stephen Jicka.

A load of prime 1368-pound steers scored a 10-month high of $31 in the week's initial trading session at Omaha; next best on steers was $28.50, paid for 1299-pounders. Other steers and yearlings with above-average finish sold from $27 to $28, more in a range of $24.50-$26.75; plainer cattle $24 down. Fed heifers weighing 920-1027 cashed at $27.25, others $26.75-$27, bulk $24.50-$26.50, lesser quality and finish $24 down. Heifers as heavy as 1163 scored $26.75.

Cows sold largely steady, most canners and cutters $13.50-$15.75; beef cows on up to $18 sparingly. Bologna bulls early in the session sold to $20 sparingly; late limit $19.50. Veal calves continued to sell to $27.

A stocker and feeder run of some 6,000, almost on a par with the big replacement cattle run of the previous Monday, sold steady to a quarter lower. Yearling feeder steers near 300 pounds scored $27.50; yearling stock steers in the 5's and 6's sold from $27.25-$30; and there were 990-pound Holstein feeder steers at $18.75. An Open Letter . . . to the Citizens and Voters of Cass County!

Dear Friends:

I had wanted to visit each of you at your homes and farms, but due to the weather and road conditions this spring I found that impossible so will use this media.

This question has been asked me: "Why would you want a Commissioner's job?" Very frankly and to the point I am seeking the office in the interest of better government for Cass County. We have a family of three boys growing up in Cass Co. and they, as well as many others, will be future voting citizens. There are conditions and situations which should be remedied.

In regard to the tax situation, I am very tax conscious and realize there are too many inequalities. The condition and squeeze that the farmer, laborer and small business man find themselves in at present should be protested by a resounding vote. Each one of us should use his right of suffrage and express himself by voting. Do you realize that 12c of the price of a 24c loaf of bread is hidden tax? We are not paying a 20% tax (as many think) but 50% and above.

In regard to roads and highways, to a degree we are headed in the right direction. We need competent men and engineers on the job down to the last maintenance man. I propose a road plan whereby the roads needed and constructed will be based on actual use and service to the greatest number of our citizens. No political roads but a point system (not like — but similar to the state system.)

By investigation, I find Cass Co. has paid $4000 per motor grader over and above what the state pays for similar machines. If the Co. Commissioners cannot use the state purchasing agent, and if I am elected, I will propose legislation to that end. We also need better public relation with the state department. Many counties are getting benefits which Cass Co. is not.

Your Commissioner should have business experience (as he spends thousands of the tax payers' dollars), be intelligent and have a limited knowledge of road construction. I feel it is an important office for the above reasons and would give it much of my time and effort.

Vote for Gerald W. "Jack" Ault, Commissioner Candidate for District I.

Sincerely,
G. W. AULT
