Legion Midgets Lose in Meet

Plattsmouth's American Legion Midget baseball team lived through a nightmarish five-inning game against big, experienced Hallam Sunday and bowed in the district tournament, 24-1, at Seward.

Things got even worse after an 8-run Hallam first and the winners tallied 13 more in the third. The game was scheduled for seven innings, was called after four and one-half on the 10-run rule.

Plattsmouth got all its three hits and its run in the first. After that it was defensive labor as three pitchers in each of the first and third couldn't stem the tide.

Restaurant Here Changes Hands

A restaurant that has been in the hands of one family for the past 18 1/2 years changed ownership this past week when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Soderlin of Waterloo leased the Kent Cafe on Washington Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Story opened the business on the site of what was then a mill in December, 1941.

Since that time, the Storys have expanded their interests to where, according to them, they could not adequately care for their customers and maintain their other interests.

The Soderlins are experienced restaurant young people, he, an experienced chef, and his wife a waitress. They have a daughter about a year old.

Walter J. Schneider Laid to Rest Friday At Glendale Cemetery

Funeral services were held Friday, July 15th for Walter J. Schneider at the Methodist church in Ithaca, Nebraska, where he has made his home in recent years. Rev. Ralph Rasmussen of Wahoo officiated at the services with Mrs. Merle Sherman and Mrs. Herman Wolff, Jr. giving as a duet "The Old Rugged Cross" with Mrs. Ray Schiefelbein as organist.

The interment was at Glendale cemetery, Cedar Creek with Dick Hageman, Emil Pacula, Herman Bonow, Louis Konecky, Ernest Molloy and Ed Stillger as casket bearers.

Attending the last rites at Cedar Creek among the relatives and friends from this city and vicinity were Mr. and Mrs. John Blotzer, Sr., John Blotzer, Jr., George Blotzer and wife, Mrs. Hattie Meisinger, Mrs. Fred Hirz, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hirz, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wiles, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Wiles, Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Schneider, Harry Franke of Cedar Creek, Philip Thieroff of Omaha, an old friend.

Obituary
Walter Jacob Schneider, son of Jacob and Sarah Schneider, was born September 11, 1882 at the farm home near Cedar Creek. He was married April 22, 1918, to Miss Marie Blotzer. He was engaged in farming in the community of his birth for many years and later as manager of the elevator at that place. In 1929 he moved to Ithaca, where he served as manager of the elevator until failing health made necessary his retirement.

There is surviving his death: wife, Marie, Ithaca; two sons, Don F. Schneider of Lyons; Leo Schneider, Coon Rapids, Ia.; sister, Mrs. Nettie Paekler, Bennington, Nebr. Several grandchildren.

Toadstools, Puffballs

LNOLN — With continued rainy weather throughout the state, many gardeners and lawn enthusiasts are finding toadstools, mushrooms and puffballs in their lawns and gardens.

According to John Wehling, Extension plant pathologist at the College of Agriculture, these pests can be controlled by the use of panogen turf spray or mercuric chloride.

Wehling said that the panogen turf spray should be used according to the directions given on the label of the container.

He suggests that if mercuric chloride is used, a solution of one to 1,000 mercuric chloride should be made by adding a 7 1/2 grain tablet of mercuric chloride to one pint of water. He added that a drop or two of liquid detergent should be added to this solution to give it greater wettability. Then loosen the soil where the fungus is present and soak the area with the mercuric chloride solution at about one pint per square foot of soil surface.

Extreme caution should be used when working with mercuric chloride around children, pets, etc. since it is a deadly poison. It is also corrosive to metal and should be handled with care.

Science, doctor and pharmacist - all sworn to protect the community's best health.
