-Kornation (Continued from Page 1) Amid fanfare, the crown bearer, Thomas Gleason, age 4 son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Gleason of Ames, Iowa, made his appearance. His grandfather, the new king, Walter Gleason, followed close behind. King Gleason, better known to all as Walt, was born on a farm in York County. He was one of a family of 2 boys and a girl. His father was a locomotive engineer and was killed in a Grand Trunk Pacific Railroad accident in British Columbia, Canada, when King Gleason was 12 years old. His mother, Mrs. Kate DeBoer Gleason lives in York, making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Lee Evans. The King is also of pioneer heritage as his grandfather Gleason was a Civil War Veteran and lived in York County until the late 1880's. He received his education in the Canadian Public Schools, attended school at Alliance and completed his education in York. He was married in 1927 to Edna A. Moyer and to them was born one child, Burton, who is now with the Atomic Energy Commission at Ames. There are three grandchildren, a grandson and two granddaughters. King Gleason entered into the Public Utility business in 1928 with the Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power Co. which was the predecessor to the present Central Electric and Gas Company. He was scout master for 4 1/2 years, 5 years president of the volunteer fire department and five years assistant fire chief at Aurora. As manager of our local Gas Company he has merited the respect and confidence of the people of this community as a conscientious and cooperative utility manager. King Gleason has been an active member of the Presbyterian Church of this city and has served on various committees in church work. He is also active in civic affairs, serving on the board of directors of the chamber of commerce for 10 years and headed many of the important committees and activities of that organization, and serving as president of the chamber for one year.
