Couple Visits Mothers Here

Recently Dr. G. E. Sayles and family of Fort Dodge, Ia., were able to spend a weekend in Plattsmouth the first old home town with Mrs. G. R. Sayles and Mrs. R. B. Hayes, who are still living in the home residences.

The Sayles family have had a high school student from Italy as a member of the family by the Schools Student Exchange System of our country. He graduated with the senior class of Fort Dodge High School late in June and all foreign students in Iowa under this system assembled at Cedar Rapids and by bus traveled through many interesting cities and localities returning by ship from New York to home families.

The Sayles family greatly missed their son Franco after he left and he still claims he has a family home in USA as he happily entered into and learned a great deal of youth activities in American homes and communities.

When the Sayles family returned home, Mrs. Hayes traveled with them to Sac City, Ia., where she spent a Monday looking after the activities of her property there.

She attended the Sac County Fair Bureau Dinner and business meeting at Odebolt and returned home the next day. There were some four hundred members at the dinner and a program of entertainment and special speeches on the current subjects of the day for farmers.

The Wesleyan Guild has Membership Tea

LOUISVILLE (Special) — The Wesleyan Service Guild held a membership tea at the Methodist church. Twenty seven members and guests were present.

No. 2 OF A Series On Rescue Breathing

APPROVED METHOD FOR PERFORMING ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION

No. 2—Victim's Head Position

After quickly wiping foreign matter from victim's mouth, tilt the head back with victim on his back, neck fully extended, as shown above.

When a person is unconscious and not breathing, the base of the tongue tends to press against and block the upper air passageway.

DO NOT DELAY

If victim is not breathing, begin artificial respiration at once. Do not delay your efforts, to summon aid. Tell first available bystander to call for doctor, police, etc., while you continue artificial respiration.
