FLAGS FOR SCHOOLROOMS — The Plattsmouth American Legion Post Tuesday night presented the first of flags it is getting for local schoolrooms as part of the post's Americanism program. Legion Commander Kenneth Young presented flags for Junior High and Central grade school rooms to Mrs. John Adkins, president of Central PTA, prior to the regular PTA meeting.

VFW Backs 'Lights On' Vote Drive

"Let's LIGHT up for democracy on election eve and LIGHT out for the Polls on election day" is the slogan sung by the local VFW Post 2543, national program to promote all householders and business places to light up their homes and business establishments on election eve between 8 and 9 o'clock.

"The veterans fought bravely for the right to vote," Commander Jack Barnard said in urging all veterans to exercise this treasured privilege and do everything in their power to encourage others to do the same.

- National statistics of recent elections which showed at best nearly 40 percent of the electorate who did not cast ballots reminds all of us what to do this Nov. 8, Barnard said. "The VFW wants to have all Plattsmouth citizens light their homes from 8-9 p.m. to remind the world that they too must light out for the polls election day," he said. The local VFW Auxiliary will baby sit for any voting citizen between 2 and 4 p.m. Nov. 8 at the local VFW Club rooms. Nov. 6, Commander-in-Chief Ted C. Connell of the VFW will be the guest of Dave Garroway on his TV program "Monitor" and at the same time there will be 200 other prominent VFW leaders throughout the U.S. on their own local NBC stations to discuss the 'Lights On' program.

Neil Lancaster Named Co. Supt.

Neil Lancaster of Plattsmouth Tuesday was appointed Cass County Superintendent of Schools effective Dec. 1 by the County Board of Commissioners. He will succeed L. A. Behrends who resigned effective that date. The unexpired term runs until January, 1962.

Lancaster, a 1938 graduate of Plattsmouth High School, has had 19 years teaching experience and presently is teaching 4th grade at Avery School south of Omaha.

Prior to that he taught five years at Mt. View Rural School in Douglas County, also 4th grade, and also taught in Cass County.

Camp Fire Girls, Blue Birds Here To Sell Candy

Nov. 9-30 are the dates set for this year's Candy Sale to be conducted annually by the Camp Fire Girls organization and its junior members, the Blue Birds.

This is the only fund-raising drive made by this organization. "Nearly 140 girls, representing 15 groups in the Plattsmouth vicinity, will be soliciting your support through your purchase of dollar boxes of chocolates," one of the adult leaders said.

From each box of candy sold, 40 cents is realized for the support of Camp Fire Girls. Five cents of this remains in the girls' group treasury. (Continued On Page Seven)

Polling Sites for 8 to 8 Voting Tuesday Listed for Cass County

Election Procedures Stressed

County Clerk Chas. Land, election clerk for Cass County in Tuesday's general election, today listed the following procedures in connection with the election, contained in a letter to him from Secretary of State Frank Marsh.

Ballot placement — All election board members who hand ballots to voters should be thoroughly briefed on the procedure with special emphasis on the point that the blue ballot, containing the proposed Constitutional Amendments submitted to the voters by the Legislature, should be placed on top of the stack of ballots when handed to the voter.

Authenticating ballots — Under no circumstances are election officials to sign anything other than their own name on the back of the official ballot. It has been reported that one election judge was observed signing his name and the name of the other judge on the back of each ballot.

Campaigning near polling places — Numerous complaints have been received of campaigning by interested persons closer to the polls than the designated one hundred feet restriction.

See Sample Ballots—Inside

Today's Journal contains samples of the ballots to be voted in Cass County in the general election Nov. 8.

There will be four ballots for most of the county, five for voters in Commission District One who will elect a Commissioner.

There'll be the main election ballot for national and state political offices and state and county non-political offices, a ballot containing state constitutional amendments proposed by the 1959 and 1960 Legislative sessions, a ballot on the amendment to the Constitution to provide for election of a Commissioner of Education proposed by initiative petition and a ballot on a special levy for the Cass County Historical Society.

(County Clerk Chas. Land, election clerk for the general election, suggests voters clip and save the sample ballots in today's Journal and study them before going to the polls Tuesday).

Change in Site for One City Precinct

One change since the primary election had been noted by which today listed the polling sites for the general election Tuesday, Nov. 8.

'WILLIE' AND ESCORT — Willard (Willie) Simons is shown with Ernie Schultz who will accompany him to New York City next week to check Willie in for scheduled eye surgery it is hoped will rescue him from nine years of blindness.

Willie Goes to N.Y. Nov. 9; Fund Reckoning: $1,564.16

Willard (Willie) Simons, 31, will leave here Nov. 9 for New York City where he will undergo eye surgery he, his family and hundreds of his friends here and elsewhere hope will restore sight to one eye.

Those friends, most of whom contributed to a fund begun by the Plattsmouth Lions Club to finance the trip and Willie's stay at a hospital after a corneal transplant, will be pulling for Willie to see again after nine long years of blindness.

Contributions to the fund total $1,564.16. L. W. Moore, Lions Club president, said containers placed at local taverns were picked up Wednesday and a final reckoning made.

Contributions came from all over Cass County, from other places in Nebraska and from as far distant as California, where-

Otto Schafer Of Nehawka Dies at 73

Otto Schafer, 73, one of the best known prominent residents of Cass County, died Tuesday night at 11 o'clock at an Omaha hospital as result of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was ill two days.

He was born August 27, 1887, at the farm home north of Nehawka, son of Jacob and Mary Egger Schafer, early day residents of that community.

Here, he has spent his lifetime, assisting in building the farming and stockraising business. His father died when he was young and he assisted the mother and members of the family in developing the family interests and holdings in that section of Cass County.

February 25, 1915, he was married to Miss Carrie Terryberry, member of a pioneer family of near Louisville, who preceded him in death January 23, 1958.

Surviving are sons and daughters, James Schafer, Nehawka; Mrs. Florence Heeter, Circleville, Ohio; Mrs. Kathleen Boettel, Mrs. Ruth Gift, Mrs. Betty Schmitz, all of Omaha; Mrs. Norma Beatty, Hancock, Ia.; Lyle Schafer, Nehawka; Mrs. Marilyn James, York; brother, Philip Schafer, Nehawka; sisters, Mrs. Christena Friedrich, Fontana, Calif.; Mrs. Rose Wohlfarth, Murray; nine grandchildren.

Mr. Schafer was known over this section of the west for his raising of purebred Angus cattle, showing his cattle in sectional and national shows with high honors. He was a member of the Cass County Feeders association and for many years an active booster and served as president of the Cass County Fair board. He was also an ardent booster of 4-H work in Cass County.

Mr. Schafer was a member and strong supporter of the Christ Lutheran Church, seven miles west of this city on the Louisville Road.

Personally a most genial gentleman, Mr. Schafer possessed a wide circle of friends over all Cass County.

Funeral services will be Friday at 2 p.m. at Christ Lutheran, Dr. A. B. Lentz, officiating. Burial will be in St. John's Cemetery north of Nehawka. Pallbearers will be Roy Englekemeier, Eugene Fitch, Fred Hike, Arthur Hild, Oliver Meisinger and Howard Philpot.

Visiting hours will be today (Thursday) 4 to 6 and 7 to 9 at the Caldwell-Linder Chapel.
