CC Strives For Cleaner Downtown

Cleaner sidewalks and streets in Plattsmouth's business districts is the aid of a campaign being promoted by the Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber Manager Harold Smock said the Chamber had been assured full cooperation by the City Street Dept. and in turn Street Commissioner Art Hellwig has asked cooperation from proprietors of businesses.

The Street Dept. will continue and make more frequent its sweepings of streets and get the job done early in the morning when there is minimum interference by parked cars.

The Street Commissioner asked that proprietors cooperate by sweeping the sidewalks bordering their places "from the curb in" and then whisk up the accumulation and dispose of it.

Often in the past, sweepings have been pushed onto streets after the sweeper has made its rounds.

Smock asked too that residents cooperate by using the trash containers at corners of downtown streets for deposit of confection and cigaret wrappers instead of throwing them on the sidewalk or street.

Marilyn Hendricks In 'Corinthians'

Marilyn Hendricks, of Plattsmouth, a Junior at the University of Omaha is one of 10 students eligible for membership in the Corinthian Society.

Corinthians, a scholastic honorary recognizes outstanding achievements by Junior and Senior college students.

The new members will be welcomed at a dinner meeting Thursday, Nov. 10, in the Student Center. The program will include Dr. Ivo Lambi, visiting professor of history from Estonia, who will compare student life and education in Europe and North America.

RUBINOFF AND HIS VIOLIN, in Concert Here Tonight

'Day with Rubynoff' Ends with Concert at 8:15 Here Tonight

When you see and hear Rubynoff and His Violin in concert here tonight at 8:15 at the High School auditorium you will share one day out of the nine months he spends each year touring the nation.

These nine months will add up to some 125 cities visited, 250 matinee and evening concerts played with an additional 1250 free performances at ser-vice club luncheons, hospitals, radio broadcasts, and with at least 1,000 of these free appearances before students in school assemblies.

A day with Rubynoff is a whirlwind of activity. He is up at four and five o'clock in the morning and as a rule travels one or 200 miles before breakfast. Weekends are usually spent in cross country train and plane flights. If the schedule permits, he will visit four or five churches on Sunday morning. Red Oak, Iowa, holds the record for the most churches visited in one morning. The Ministerial Association there presented him with a beautiful Bible recognition of his playing for seven churches.

To start his day (today here was typical of this) Rubynoff arrives for a hurried greeting with sponsors, perhaps a picture for the local press, and then he is off to an escorted tour of practically the whole city's school enrollment for free school assemblies with only breaks of five or ten minutes between for transportation.

Almost without exception he is invited as guest speaker for a service luncheon, but winds up "fiddling for his lunch." (A Rotarian, he was a Rotary guest this noon).

The Student Matinee followed this afternoon with time spent autographing for his young friends after the concert. Next it is time for a change into full dress, dinner, and the big event of the day, the evening concert.

An ironclad rule with Rubynoff is to be at the auditorium an hour before he begins his beloved Stradivarius. The Maestro is often questioned as to why he has to practice after having played the violin for 50 years.

His serious reply is that with all the many appearances he makes, that still does not allow him time to polish and perfect individual notes and passages. Difficult exercises also keep his fingers flying at the effortless speed maintained for hours at a time. Even in his automobile or on the train, Rubynoff either uses his Strad or his specially built pocket fingerboard to keep up with his rigid practice schedule.

'Fly Flags On Nov. 11, Legion Asks

A plea to have an American flag flying at every home in Plattsmouth on Veterans Day, Nov. 11, was voiced today by Commander Kenneth Young of Hugh J. Kearns Post No. 56 of The American Legion here.

"In the interest of showing the rest of the world the unity of the American people, every home throughout the land should display an American flag on Veterans Day," Commander Young said.

He pointed out that the eyes of the world, and particularly those of the forces of world communism, are constantly looking for any signs of internal weakness which might forecast the downfall of the United States.

"We here in Plattsmouth can do our part to help discourage any such thoughts about a weak, apathetic, dispirited American citizenry by flying the Star-Spangled Banner on this patriotic holiday," Commander Young declared.

"With the American flag displayed in front of every home and place of business we can make this observance of Veterans Day an unforgettable demonstration of Americanism, and at the same time show our community's measure of appreciation on occasions."

He further urged any homes which do not have a flag to obtain one, not only for display on Veterans Day but all patriotic holidays.

Veterans Day Is Holiday For Some Here

The Courthouse, Post Office and Plattsmouth State Bank will close for Veterans Day, Nov. 11. Otherwise it will be a business and school day as usual.

The Post Office windows will be closed all day and there will be no deliveries. Mail will be received and dispatched, however.

The bank will be open all day Thursday, closed all day Friday. The bank normally closes at noon Thursdays.

In the schools Friday, Veterans Day will be observed with special assemblies and reading of patriotic writings.

Business places are asked to fly the flag in observance of the day.

280 Attend Dad-Daughter Camp Fire Party Here

The Camp Fire organization held its annual Dad-Daughter party here Thursday evening at The High School Auditorium with approximately 280 in attendance.

The party serves each year as a "kick-off" to the Camp Fire Candy Sale, which will begin this year Nov. 9 and close on the 30th.

The program for the evening consisted of skits, songs, a kitchen band, verse recitations, audience participation games and even a comedy style show, put on by each of Plattsmouth's Bluebird and Camp Fire groups. Groups participating were as follows:

Camp Fire groups: Mrs. Albert Young, guardian. Group name, Ne-To-Pew; Mrs. Stanley Cowan, Tan-Wanne; Mrs. Eugene Meisinger, O-Ki-Hi; Mrs. Richard Mays, Tandra; Mrs. Jack Brookhouser, Ot-Yo-Kwa.

Missilemen In Possession Of Site Near Louisville

LOUISVILLE — Battery B of the 6th Missile Battalion, 43rd Artillery, U.S. Army Friday took possession of its new missile site near here Friday.

Engineers were still working at the site and the main equipment for the guided missile launching installation probably won't arrive and be assembled until next spring.

But, it was a big moment for some 120 enlisted men and 10 officers who have been awaiting the move to site for weeks.

About 100 men will live in barracks on the site. The rest of the missilemen and officers will live in private home in the surrounding area.

Arrival of first equipment, the radar units, is expected this week.

Missile Base May Be Named For Serviceman

Thursday evening at the November meeting of the Hugh J. Kearns post of the American Legion, held at the 40 & 8 Club, it was revealed that the Missile Base west of this city near Louisville, may bear the name of a World War 2 or Korean War serviceman or be dedicated to their memory. This was revealed by CWO Lewis Barton and CWO Warren Parks of the Missile Base, who were present.

The name of the honored one will be recommended from a list submitted by the Legion posts of Plattsmouth and Louisville. The local post selected as a committee to submit the names, E. O. Vroman, Alva Linder, Orville Julian and Albert Olson.

Another pleasing note was the announcement that the Hugh J. Kearns Post has 240 paid up members at this time and is rolling along to the quota mark for 1961.

The local Legion post has been sponsoring the move to see that the various schools of the city have a new 50-star flag for their room, already some have been supplied.

Sick call revealed one member on the sick list, Robert M. Walling, first adjutant, but who is now home recuperating.

The post voted $5 to the Chamber of Commerce to help finance a booklet that the C of C is preparing on Plattsmouth.

Plans are being made for a party for Veterans Day, Nov. 11, for the Legion and Auxiliary.

Nolte Seeks Re-election Over Gregg

Plans now are to have an "Open House" next April when the installation is completed. Capt. James H. Rutan is battery commander.

12 Named to Cass County 4-H Council

Twelve members were elected to the Cass County 4-H Council in an election Oct. 27.

An election is held each year in one of the three Commissioners Districts. One man and one woman is elected from each precinct.

Elected to 3 year terms on the 4-H council from the following precincts are: Liberty, Mel Todd Jr. and Mrs. Merle Rogers; Avoca, Malcolm Pollard and Miss Evelyn Wolph; Nehawka, John Knabe and Mrs. Vance Balfour; Louisville, Herbert Hell and Mrs. Clarence Stohlmann; Mt. Pleasant, Franklin Wehrlein and Mrs. Harold Meisinger, and Center, Alvin Groesser and Mrs. Earl Puls.

The County 4-H Council plays a very important role in the conduct of the 4-H club program in Cass County.

He lives and farms in West Rock Bluff Precinct where he has lived since 1917.

The Noltes have a married daughter in Iowa and a son, Eugene, at Murray.

Gregg, a farmer and cattle feeder in West Rock Bluff, is seeking political office for the first time.

He has been active in many farm groups in Cass County and in his school district where he has been a school board member.

The Greggs have three children, Tom, Linda and Barbara Jo.

County Judge Raymond J. Case of Plattsmouth is unopposed on the non-political ticket for re-election.

Judge John M. Dierks of Nebraska City is unopposed for re-election as District Judge, Second Judicial District.
