Advent Season Time To Prepare For Christmas

By Rev. Charles Nenow
Pastor, First Lutheran

Christmas is the gift of the Church to all people. Therefore the Church is in a position to show all people the real meaning of Christmas and how to properly celebrate this holy day.

The Advent season, which began Sunday, Nov. 27, and continues till Christmas Day, is the time the Church has set aside to show the meaning of Christmas.

The word "advent" means "to come." In this instance it refers to the coming of Christ at CHRISTMAS time. It is a time for preparing for Christmas.

Though Christmas is a gift to all people from the Church, it is the non-Christian segment of society which tries to show how one should prepare for Christmas.

In their suggestions for preparation they cover up the fact that this is a religious holy day. Their success is shown most pointedly when we think of the two women who stopped before a store window with a manger scene. One turns to the other and says: "See Mary? The churches are trying to force religion into everything, even Christmas!"

First Lutheran Church desires to help all people prepare for Christmas as a holy day. To this end we are having Advent services each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Here, the spiritual purpose for Christmas will be shown. Added to this will be the implications Christmas has for the lives of each one of us.

Communities Must Find Place for Farm 'Emigrants'

Communities have a responsibility to provide employment to persons who are leaving the farm in increasing numbers, if those communities want to continue to prosper.

That was a theme of a talk given here last Tuesday before the Plattsmouth Rotary Club.

Speaking was Cecil Means, vice president of Stockyards National Bank, Omaha.

He said the increasing trend is to larger and fewer farms with consequently fewer people operating them and more people seeking urban life.

To find a place for those people is the challenge with which communities are faced, he said.

Program chairman was Carl Schneider, Rotarian who is president of Plattsmouth State Bank.

The Rotary Club this week will have a Rotary Ann (ladies night) meeting at the Lions Building.
