Result: you enjoy a smooth, solid, steady big-car ride you'd expect to pay much more for. There's plenty of stretch-out room in Mercury, too-even more rear seat hip, shoulder and head room than in last year's spacious Mercury. Wider doors and more trunk space, too,

Mrs. Mabel Lambert and Wil-

The recent passage of the Industrial Development Amendment . . . increased promotional activities on every hand, from the state level right down through the smallest communities . . . all underscore Nebraska's determination to balance its agricultural economy with an expanded industrial economy. Latest evidence of this determination is Consumers Public Power District's announcement of a comprehensive community and industrial development program. Cooperating with state, federal and local agencies, Consumers is aiming at four objectives:

To improve the economic position of existing businesses.

To assist in establishing new industries by local To persuade out-of-state industries to locate in Nebraska. To help communities plan for future use of the Industrial Development Amendment.

Meanwhile, a long range view must be taken in thinking about industrial development. Results, at first, may be slow in coming. Nevertheless, it is certain that, in the end, a unified effort on the part of all Nebraskans will bring
