

Beatrice vs. PHS Here Tuesday

TWO FT'S COMING UP!—Plattsmouth day night's Frosh game here. No. 11 is Jim Bierl freshman Jim Lutz (white shirt) is clobbered of Plattsmouth. Lutz and John Chudy led Plattsmouth to a Bellevue defender on this play in Thursday's game.

Some Lineup Shifts Seen For Devils

It'll be a battle of the ambitious when Beatrice and Plattsmouth High meet on the basketball court here Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

And, Plattsmouth Coach John Adkins is figuring to work more younger players into the lineup along with the veterans.

It's a battle of win-hungry teams. Plattsmouth has only one win in nine games, Beatrice none in eight.

Latest ventures for the teams were a 57-71 loss to Missouri Valley, Iowa, in the first round of last week's AK-Sar-Ben Conference Tournament at Ralston for Plattsmouth; and a 36-51 defeat by Lincoln Plus X for Beatrice Friday night.

Adkins said he would probably start Fred Groce and Denny Campbell at forwards, Rog Beverage at center and Tom Smith and Bill Nettlemann at guards, Nettlemann and Groce moving into the starting lineup and Campbell going from guard to forward.

Also ticketed for more action than in past games are guard Dave Nettlemann, forward Dan Schultz and center Jim Ingwerson.

Adkins said Saturday he still intended to use seniors who have been starting most of the games as much as possible and try several combinations of players.

Workouts the past week were curtailed somewhat because of examinations.

In Beatrice, the Blue Devils will be meeting a team which has fair height and a good scorer in Jerry Naaf. Naaf got 17 Friday night, mostly shooting from the outside.

The reserve teams of the two schools will clash at 6:30.

The games are the last here until Feb. 10. After Tuesday, the Devils are at Lincoln Northeast Friday and at Falls City Feb. 3.

Next home games are against Ralston, Ak-Sar-Ben Tourney champion again, Feb. 10, and the home finale against Ashland Feb. 14.

The Devils wind up their regular schedule on the road, against University High, Bellevue and Lincoln Southeast, Feb. 17, 21 and 24.

Ice Fishing Is Popular

LINCOLN — Gather about 50 cars and 200 people around a Sand Hills lake, and you can bet the word has spread that the crappie are biting.

Such was a scene at Smith Lake at Sheridan County. Ice fishermen were making a party out of a crappie spree. Conservation Officer William Anderson, Rushville, estimated about 100 crappie per car, with good hauls reported by many.

Most crappies were running nine inches. Largest checked by Anderson was a 12-incher. Northern pike tops was a 24-incher.

The White and Niobrara rivers hosted a number of open-water trout fishermen last week. Trout up to 18 inches were coming from the Niobrara River in Dawes County, with others nearly as big being taken in the White River in Sioux County.

The Bridgeport Pits in Morrill County produced trout running 12 inches.

Mrs. Shortly was discussing the latest fashions with a caller. "Did you say your husband was fond of those clinging gowns Mary?"

"Yes. He likes one to cling to me for about three years."

PHS Frosh Win, 48-46, in Double Overtime

John Chudy's two free throws gave Plattsmouth High's freshman basketball team a 48-46 victory over Bellevue here Thursday night in double overtime.

The teams, Plattsmouth's effort featured by great free throwing by three players, were deadlocked at 42 at the end of regulation play. It was 46-46 after the first three-minute overtime.

The second overtime was scheduled for three minutes but ended when Chudy hit his free

Jim Lutz scored 12, including 8 for 11 free throws, and Mary Lancaster got 9, including 7 for 11 free throws.

Lutz got 7 for 8 free throws the first quarter but Plattsmouth had to settle for a 15-17 deficit. Bellevue added to its lead, 22-24, by halftime.

Punishment Promised for Gun Vandals

LINCOLN — "If we ever find any hunters willfully destroying property, we'll make it tough for them," Game Commission Director M. O. Steen warned grimly.

Steen was reviewing recent incidents in a case involving shot-up buildings and trespassing, and which reads like a thriller.

"There was no absolute proof that the damage in this case was done by the teenagers involved, but the farmer was at least able to file a complaint of hunting without permission.

"If we do catch anyone in the act of maliciously destroying personal property, the law can make it rough for them," Steen continued. "If damage exceeds $100, they can be sent to the penitentiary for one to three years or be fined up to $1,000. If less than $100, the fine runs from $100 to $500, with imprisonment up to six months."

The case provoking Steen's comments began in early December when Daniel Hurt of near Farwell heard shooting on his farm. Investigating, he found windows knocked out of a set of farm buildings in which he had stored grain. He also found empty shells which matched the guns of six teenagers he had stopped from leaving.

Since the boys denied shooting at the buildings and threatened to "come back to get him" if he turned them in, Hurt let them go. Later Hurt was persuaded to file a "hunting without permission" charge against the boys which is still being processed.

"No farmer should fall to take action because of any threats made to him," Steen urged. "He has the full support of the law and all law-abiding hunters, which fortunately make up the most of our Nebraska sportsmen."
