

'Courier' To Have New Publisher

LOUISVILLE (Special)—Richard A. Graham, editor and publisher of the Louisville Courier the past year, will leave Louisville next week.

Leigh Abbey, a former Kansas and Colorado weekly newspaperman, will be the new editor-publisher and will arrive in Louisville April 10.

D. C. Huffman, former editor-publisher of the Louisville Courier for 25 years, who retired a year ago, will "sit-in" until Mr. Abbey arrives. Cal Stewart of O'Neill will do the mechanical work until Abbey arrives.

Mr. Graham, his wife, Jeanne and sons, Stephen and Michael, will vacation for a short time before assuming duties on a Nebraska newspaper, the place not announced as yet.

The Grahams are moving their household goods to Alma. They both regard O'Neill as their home town where they were graduated from the St. Mary's Academy. Both had been employed by the Frontier newspaper there.

A Classified Ad in The Journal cost as little as 50 cents.

Mrs. Edwin Earl Sterling

Clarine Jane Petersen Weds Edwin E. Sterling March 26

The Methodist Church in Weeping Water was the setting for the 2 p.m. wedding March 26 of Miss Clarine Jane Petersen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Petersen of Weeping Water, and Edwin Earl Sterling of Omaha.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. John Sterling of Hazelton, Kansas, brother of the groom.

Bouquets of white gladioli and multi-color daisies with seven branch candelabra on either side decorated the altar of the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of organza over acetate taffeta. The bodice featured a tiny basque waist accentuated by a cummerbund and bow of organza. The gown had a low, round neckline with short sleeves. The full flowing skirt and the left shoulder was defined with puffed rose applique of french lace.

Her illusion veil was held in place by a half crown of seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She wore a single strand of off graduated cultured pearls. She carried pink sweetheart roses with white carnations, centered on a white Bible with white streamers.

Miss Leanne Lutzmann of Auburn, cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Ossenkop of Louisville, sister of the groom and Mrs. Richard Nickels of Weeping Water.

Miss Lutzmann wore a yellow dress. Mrs. Ossenkop a pink dress and Mrs. Nickels a blue dress of chiffon over taffeta with a wide satin cummerbund; a taffeta jacket with three quarter length sleeves and a bouffant street length skirt completed the ensemble.

The maid of honor carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and white carnations; Mrs. Ossenkop carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations and Mrs. Nickels a colonial bouquet of blue and white carnations.

Lighting the tapers were John Sterling, Jr. and James Sterling of Hazelton, Kansas, nephews of the groom.

Robert Ossenkop of Louisville was the best man. Groomsman were Dale Lutz of Lincoln and James Zessin of Seward. Ushers were Ronald Petersen, brother of the bride, Joe Ward and Russell Lefler of Waverly.

Mrs. S. H. Harmon was the organist. Mrs. Wayne Rupp sang. The bride's mother wore a navy blue and white dress with white accessories. The groom's mother chose a two piece dress of off white with blue accessories. Both wore a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the wedding. Mrs. Leonard Lutzmann of Auburn, aunt of the bride, cut the wedding cake. Mrs. Henry Petersen of Auburn, aunt of the bride, served the coffee. Mrs. James Zessin of Seward was in charge of the guest book. Helen Mather, Linda Rehmeier and Mrs. William Lee took care of the gifts. Mrs. Edward Van Horn pinned the flowers on the attendants. The bride's table was covered with white with a bouquet of white sweetheart roses and white lily of the valley at either end of the table and centered with a white candle in a crystal candleholder. Serving the bride's table were Doris Baier and Beverly Lee. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. John Groesser, Mrs. Alvin Groesser, Mrs. Richard Lauritzen and Mrs. Vincent Rehmeier.

The bride chose for her going away ensemble a two piece blue tweed suit with black and white accessories.

Mrs. Sterling is a 1959 graduate of the Weeping Water high school, a graduate of the Lincoln School of Commerce and is presently employed at Central Electric and Gas Company in Lincoln.

Mr. Sterling is a 1952 graduate of the Weeping Water high school and is a Junior at the University of Nebraska.

The couple will make their home at 1746 Washington Street in Lincoln after a short wedding trip to Missouri.

Out-of-town guests attended from Omaha, Lincoln, Louisville, Plattsmouth, Nehawka, Waverly, Humboldt, Auburn, Johnson, Tecumseh, Beatrice, Avoca, and Murray.
