This 'n That In Agriculture

The first annual 4-H Light Horse Leaders Conference was held in Lincoln May 11&12. Included in the program were topics on "Genetics of Horse Breeding," "Feeding & Fitting the Quarter Horse" & "Unsoundness and Care of feet & legs."

Several classes of light horses were judged. Schmadeke does not claim he won the hat judging horses but he did win a Stetson hat at the conference.

Tips on Grooming
"Take care of the hair" is a by-word which, if observed now, can pay dividends later for the 4-Hers fitting baby beeves for exhibition.

An adequate coat of hair which can be groomed at show time enhances the appearance of a calf. And, despite an unfavorable summer climate in Nebraska for growth of hair, it can be stimulated by following some simple procedures faithfully right up until the time the animal enters the ring.

Proper hair care begins with washing and curling every two weeks until fair time, beginning the middle of May. In addition to stimulation of hair growth, the other obvious benefit is in keeping the skin and hair clean and easy to work with.

"Ask 'Mom to suggest a mild soap or detergent which can be used for regular hair washing."

In addition to the regular twice-a-month washings, the following procedure should be observed daily, beginning about two months before the date of the fair or show at which the animal is to be exhibited:

- Keep the calf in cool, shady place during the daytime; never allow him to stay out in the sun.
- When the air cools off in the evening, hose down the animal with cool water.
- Curl the hair and brush upward for 10-15 minutes.
- Shut the animal outside in the exercise lot at night when the temperature is cool.
