Girls participating were June McCormick and Marion Scholting of Springfield and Nancy and Linda Johnson, Cheryl Streeter, Mary Franke, Evelyn Isaac, Sharon Staples and Nancy Inman of Louisville.

Each group has a money making project and the girls and their Worthy Advisor, Marion Scholting, chose this method of making money.

Mrs. McMahon Dies in Omaha

Mrs. Lea June McMahon died July 13 at an Omaha Hospital where she had been ill for two weeks.

She was born May 12, 1924 at Fairfield, Calif., the daughter of William and Velma Foltz Perry. On November 27, 1952 she was married at Fairfield to William M. McMahon.

She is survived by the husband, Major William McMahon attached to Offutt Air Force Base; a son, William Michael McMahon; two sisters, Mrs. Joy Schaeffer of Reno, Nevada; Mrs. Betty Waller of Fairfield, Calif.; brother, William Perry and father, William D. Perry, both of Fairfield.

Mrs. McMahon was born and raised at Fairfield, was a graduate nurse of St. Luke's Hospital at San Francisco. She was a member of the Episcopal Church. The family had a lot of friends in the Offutt Area.

The body was sent by train Friday morning from Omaha. Funeral services were today at 2 p.m. at Fairfield. Interment was also at Fairfield.

Visitation was Thursday evening at Caldwell-Linder Chapel who was in charge of arrangements.

'Museum' To Be Restored Here

Thursday evening the board of directors and the building committee of the Cass County Historical Society met to plan the rebuilding of the Museum, badly damaged in Plattsmouth's disastrous fire June 23.

A settlement of $6,500 was accepted from the insurance firm, which has the museum coverage.

The contract for repairs was awarded to contractors Young and Jose, who built the Museum. Work will begin soon, and it is hoped the building will be "good as new" by Sept. 1. The Korn Carnival Week has been set as the date for re-opening.

Although the Society mourns the loss of a few items which can never be replaced, it is delighted by a number of recent new offers of valuable collections. These will be displayed at the re-opening.

There is a vital need for more Society Members to help pay the cost of operating the Museum, the officers say. Dues are $1 per year.

Some Civil War Centennial Plates with the history of Company A printed on the back are still available. The Society said no more will be made. Mrs. Jack Troop designed these plates, and also a variety of attractive gift items featuring famous No. 7, Pioneer Burlington Locomotive.

BOUNDARIES DETERMINED

For the purpose of the forthcoming Cass ASC Community Committee election, the boundary of each community within the county shall be determined to be the legally established precincts in Cass County, the ASC Office at Weeping Water announced today.

It's the unity in a community that gets the job done

In Lincoln and Southeast Nebraska ...a THRIVING UTILITY

The new Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company office building at 1440 M in the capitol city

L.T.&T. Microwave Tower, furnishing network radio-television entertainment to the community as well as message toll service

Electrical operation of the entire L.T.&T. office building in Lincoln is schematically diagrammed on this colorful control board

The community which pulsates with fast, efficient communications is one of progress. Working together to achieve the ultimate in communications service are the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company with its 1,500 employees and Consumers Public Power District. Electrical power, the basic element in every industry, activates L.T. & T.'s over 150,000 telephones, making possible virtually instant communications throughout the state and nation.

The entire community benefits when these good "civic citizens" work together to provide the rapid, smooth-flowing communications system needed to serve their various communities and to attract new industry to Nebraska.

This is another in a series of salutes to local and regional achievements which demonstrate the power of people working together.
