Henry Gable, Texas electrician working on Canaveral projects:

"There is no way the Communists could do this nation's missile effort the damage done by labor at Cape Canaveral."

MUSEUM BEING REPAIRED—Work was begun the past week on repair of the Cass County Historical Society Museum here. The north end of the new building was badly damaged by fire June 23 when the Hotel and Theater buildings were destroyed. Young and Jose, contractors who constructed the building, are doing the restoration. Harold Austin of Austin Plumbing and Heating said the cold air return ducts beneath the building's concrete floor had filled with mud and strips of the floor would have to be torn up to clean them out. Some small boys offered to crawl into the ducts Friday to inspect but didn't get far before they encountered mud.
