10 Women among Would-Be Archers

LINCOLN — Some will argue that the woman's place is in the home. But there are at least 11 people, all women incidentally, who will argue just as vehemently that their place is in the field, armed with bow and arrow in pursuit of deer.

Of the 380 persons who have applied to the Game Commission to date for $10 resident archery permits, 11 are women. Either sex is eligible, providing the person is 16 years or older. There is no limit on the number of permits, and applications are available from all county clerks, most permit vendors, Game Commission district offices at Alliance, North Platte, Bassett, and Norfolk, and the general office in the State Capitol.

The bow-and-arrow on deer runs from September 16 through October 27 and picks up again on November 2 and continues through the rest of the year. The entire state is open, and the season bag limit is one deer.

Deer Hunt Application Pace Quickens

LINCOLN — Time and choice of hunting area are running out on Nebraska's big-game hopefuls. According to the Nebraska Game Commission, more than 61 per cent of the 14,000 rifle permits authorized for deer hunting have been taken, with the October 28 through November 1 season but two months away.

The Blue and Wahoo areas are already filled, with six others—the Missouri, Elkhorn, Keya Paha, Nemaha, Omaha, and Republican—breathing down their necks with only 315 permits remaining between them. The Nemaha is nearest the "sold out" mark, having but 11 permits still asking.

The ranks of antelope enthusiasts, too, are closing. Only 146 permits are still available in the Box Butte and Banner areas. The North Sioux area is at capacity.

Applications for the $10 resident deer or antelope permits are available from all county clerks, most permit vendors, Game Commission district offices at Alliance, North Platte, Bassett, and Norfolk, and the general office in the State Capitol.

Following are the different deer hunting areas with the number of permits remaining in each respectively:

Pine Ridge (1495), Sand Hills (715), Loup (222), Missouri (39), Platte (475), Buffalo (136), Elk-
