'Darkhorse' Proves Popular on TV

By Charles Nenow
First Lutheran Church

While some sponsors and producers have been insisting that it takes "sex and violence" to make a successful television series, a dark horse in the television field (which features neither sex nor violence) has quietly sneaked up from behind to take the endurance lead.

On Sunday, Oct. 1, "This Is the Life," sponsored by the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod, will launch its Tenth Anniversary Year. On the air every week without interruption since the fall of 1951, the Lutheran program now has enough programs on film to round out its tenth consecutive year of telecasting.

This, it is believed, is the longest unbroken run for any 30-minute filmed dramatic program. Approximately 305 stations carry this popular series not only throughout the United States and Canada but also to our armed forces overseas, as well as in Puerto Rico, Bermuda, and Australia.

Professionally produced in Hollywood, but paid for out of the mission treasuries of The Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod, "This Is the Life" is a dramatic portrayal of Christian faith and life in action. It has been estimated that 10,000,000 viewers tune in the program every week.

Locally, the program can be seen on Channel 6 every Sunday at 11 a.m. Sponsoring the program in this community is First Lutheran Church.
