TIME AND THE RIVER—The old year was fast slipping away when this shot of the impetuous Missouri River was taken this week. There may be a little more ice on the river come one New Year's Day or another but the Mo just keeps flowing along. The river had not been frozen over this winter at the time photo was taken.

Obituary

Mrs. Alice M. Shipley

Funeral services were held at Caldwell-Linder Chapel here Dec. 27 for Mrs. Alice M. Shipley of Murray who died Dec. 22 of a heart attack.

Mrs. Shipley was born June 17, 1885, at Plattsmouth; daughter of the late Deurey and Rye Graves, pioneers of this community.

She was married July 7, 1917, at Glenwood, Iowa, to Wm. E. Shipley.

The early part of their married life was spent in Sarpy County where they farmed near Fort Crook. Later, they bought a farm northwest of Plattsmouth and farmed several years.

Two years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Shipley retired from the farm and moved to Murray. There she died suddenly Dec. 22, at her home at 76.

She is survived by her husband, Wm. E. Shipley at Murray; brother, Jack C. Graves, Bellevue; sister, Mrs. Lillian Tangeman, Omaha; half brother, Alts Homan of Omaha and several nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Shipley was an active member of the Christian Science Church at Plattsmouth. Reader Clarence Kuhlman of Omaha conducted the funeral services. Richard Cole had charge of the music, with Mrs. Twyla Hodge at the organ.

Casket bearers were Alts Homan, Ted Homan, Jack Graves, Everett Neale, Bob Shipley, Woodrow Shelton. Burial was in Bellevue cemetery.

Pre-New Year's Livestock Trade Erratic at Omaha

Pre-New Year's livestock trade at Omaha took an erratic course.

Better fat cattle last week sold steady to 25c higher, strictly prime steers up more, but lower grades ranged from steady to 50c lower, steers grading good and down hardest hit. Hogs came and also finished on a higher note but sharp breaks in between—resulting in part from a Wednesday-Thursday work stoppage in one major packing plant—made for a net loss. Fat lambs, meanwhile, scored a solid upturn.

Slaughter steer and heifer tops last week at Omaha were best since January and March, respectively—prime steers weighing 1,280 reaching $27.75, comparable heifers weighing 1,148, $26.25. Average price of steers at midweek was 32c up, heifers 48c higher, than a week earlier.

Cows sold steady to 25c higher; stockers and feeders steady. Butcher hogs ended up weak to 50c lower, closing top $18.25, the week's high $18.75, best since late September.

Fat lambs advanced 50c-$1, shorn up most, woolled to $17 in late trade, earlier as high as $17.25, even $17.50; shorn to $16.50. Feeder lambs sold steady, Westerns to $15.50.
