

Devils Need Firepower To Match Pawnee City

Plattsmouth High's basketball squad ends a 14-day layoff from game action Friday night at Pawnee City. The prospect is for a rugged return to action.

Coach Lowell Johnson who personally scouted Pawnee City in its latest game saw a need for tightened defense and more scoring if Plattsmouth is to post its second win in six games.

Pawnee City ran up 75 points its last time out, earning a fourth win in six games. Not outstandingly tall, the Pawnee City club features hustle and firepower, headed by 5-10 guard Bill McWhinney.

Plattsmouth, in games to date this season, has not scored big, will likely have to increase its field goal output to win.

The Blue Devils have worked out most days since last playing a game, losing at Blair Dec. 22. But, Johnson was not pleased with workouts and this week gave his squad a talking-to and worked it strenuously.

He plans to use nine or 10 players at Pawnee City and probably will start Roger Beverage, 6-3, at center; Dan Schultz, 6-11½, and Denny Campbell, 5-11, at forward; and Tom Smith, 5-9 and Jack Scott, 5-8, at guard.

Pawnee City which owns wins over Tecumseh, Humboldt, Wyomere and Lewiston Community will likely start McWhinney and Tom Allison, 5-8, at guard; Harry Joe Allison, 6-0, and Max Martin, 6-0, at forward and Kent Olson, 6-2, at center.

The Plattsmouth-Pawnee City game here last year resulted in a win for Plattsmouth, 64-60, to end a long sports victory drought and touch off a celebration.

A selection of prize-winning photographs from the 15th Annual Kodak High School Photo Contest is on display at Plattsmouth High School Library this week.

This salon of award winners will tour the nation's schools and later will be shown overseas. Several color pictures are included, as the competition is for both black-and-white and color photography.

The purpose of the contest is to encourage creative competition among young people and to afford them a means of artistic expression through the exercise of their photographic skill. It is open only to high school students regularly attending any public, parochial, or private school (grades 9 through 12) in the United States or its possessions.

Awards total $11,750 with top prize in each of the four picture classifications in each of the two contest divisions — the Senior Division for grades 11 and 12, and the Junior Division for grades 9 and 10. The Color Section is "open," with no restrictions on subject matter or high school grade.

Entries in the contest were judged at the George Eastman House, the national museum of photography in Rochester, New York, by a panel of five.

Entries for the next competition will be accepted through March 31. Information may be obtained free of charge by writing Kodak High School Photo Awards, Rochester 4, N. Y.

Lincoln—Nebraska's Rio Grande turkeys survived the first rough blast of winter, report Game Commission technicians who observed the birds at the Red Willow Creek release site.

Seven birds were seen on December 21, about a month after they were released by the Game Commission. They were sighted approximately one mile from where they were turned out.

Landowners in the area reported seeing the turkeys throughout the general release area.

'Expense-Account Economy' Due For Changes

Changes in Internal Revenue regulations may make great changes in America's "expense-account economy," a Lincoln attorney told the Rotary Club in an address at its regular meeting Tuesday.

Warren Dalton, nephew of Rotary program chairman Les Dalton, and son of the late Carl R. Dalton, and the former Mrs. Dalton formerly of Plattsmouth now of McCook, said Internal Revenue Service is armed with a new tax law fostered by the Kennedy administration and intends to take a much closer look at claims for deductions for business travel and entertainment expenses.

Generally speaking, he said, entertainment expenses will no longer be allowed, with a few exceptions. Social club dues will not be allowed as business deductions.

Transportation expenses will still be deductible but deductions for food and lodging will have new limits, Dalton said.

And, by 1963 new mechanical means of checking income tax returns are expected to be in operation. They will make it harder for taxpayers to be "careless" about reporting income, the speaker said.

He said the Internal Revenue Service Office in Omaha lists these among the most common honest errors on returns:

- failure to sign return.
- failure to show names of dependents.
- failure to check the appropriate square indicating type of return (as "head of household").
- failure to include W-2 form.
- failure to enclose or properly attach supplementary schedules.
- in reporting depreciation, failure to indicate whether figure listed is "per cent" or "years" of depreciation.

Graveside Rites for Infant at Malvern

Graveside services were held Jan. 2 at 2 p.m. at the East Liberty Cemetery in Malvern, Iowa, for JoAnn, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Christie of Bellevue.

JoAnn was born Dec. 29 at St. Catherine's Hospital in Omaha and died a few hours later.

The Rev. George Randal, pastor of First Christian Church of Bellevue, officiated at the graveside rites.

The infant is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Stenmetz of Plattsmouth and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Christie of Bellevue.

Mrs. Christie, the mother, is the former Evelyn Stenmetz.

Walter Reuther, president of the auto workers union: "Unions contend with one another for the right to organize certain types of workers. Unions still raid each other."

Feathers Tell Tale

LINCOLN—Feathers returned by Nebraska hunters show more Canadas harvested here than any other goose during the 1961 waterfowl season.

Feathers sent to the Game Commission totaled 504, with Canadas accounting for 54 per cent of the kill. The others were white-fronts, 18 per cent; snows, 16 per cent; and blues, 11 per cent.

The feathers also tell game technicians a story of a summer's good luck or troubles, and this year there was a hint of hardship. Most of the geese taken were older, indicating a poor reproductive year.

In spite of poor reproduction, hunting success was better than might have been expected.

Flight patterns were generally the same as in other years, although northeast Missouri River hunters reported more white-fronts than usual. One blue goose, usually an eastern flight bird, was killed as far west as Alliance.

How seriously the low reproduction may affect future flights has not been determined. Final analysis will come later and will include data from other states in the flight route.

Goose hunters responded well to the call for feathers.
