Cedar Creek

lying on the scales at the elevator being weighed.

Gone are the sweet prairie williams and blue bells of Mrs. Ault's girlhood but they are still vivid memories of her youth at Cedar Creek.

Another sweet smell lingers in the memory of her daughter, Lorene Cummins—that of the perfume Lew Myers, the druggist, always sprinkled on the girls when they came in his store. "We felt like queens," comments Mrs. Cummins.

Cedar Creek's Doctor Duff was one of the county's best known physicians. "No night was too dark nor no mud too deep to stop him," says Mrs. Ault.

The first schoolhouse was about a mile out of town near Vic Stoehr's place. Hattie Holmes taught several terms there. August Snyder later moved the school building to Cedar Creek where he used it for a hardware store. The building later became the drug store and finally the Ladies Aid building for which it is still used.

Mrs. Ault went to Gretna to relatives to attend high school. She then taught school at Heil School.

She had 4 children. Berniece, now a children's librarian with a Masters from Columbia, has taught in Cass County schools, as well as other schools all over the state.

Jack Ault operates Ault store in Cedar Creek.

Lorene Cummins, a young-looking five time grandmother, lives in Lincoln and works at the State House in the Department of Education.

Kenneth gave his life in World War II. He was navigator on a B-29.

Lorene, reminiscing on her childhood in Cedar Creek, commented that there were two passenger trains a day into the town. They could go to Omaha at 9 a.m. and return at 4 p.m. but it was a rare treat when they did.

One particularly exciting moment was when Chris Metzger's buffalo got loose and terrorized the town. The Ault family was having Sunday dinner when the shaggy fellow came and stuck his head in the gate as if he'd like to be invited in.

McBride was in the butcher shop then and the children loved to go in to get the hog bladders for balloons.

Mrs. Ault has a sister, Mrs. George Sayles, living in Plattsmouth. Another sister, Mrs. Emma Hopple is County Superintendent at Bridgeport in Morrill County.

Many years have passed since the 76-year-old, Mrs. Ault (who now lives with Mrs. Cummins) hiked to Metzger's Ponds. Fire has taken many of the Cedar Creek buildings. Cars have taken many of its people away but memory stirs up little dust swirls around the feet of barefoot children oblivious to the cares of tomorrow, knowing little of the yesterdays already gone yet happy in the simple country pleasures of little "Inhelder's Station" that pleased their grandparents.

9 Questioned After Incident At Elmwood

A tripping incident involving two youths at the skating rink in Elmwood erupted Saturday night into a major disturbance resulting in injury to three, the Sheriff's Office said here today.

Sheriff Tom Solomon was summoned about 9:45 p.m. Saturday. At the rink, he found about 80 persons on the street. Officers were told that nine youths from Lincoln were involved. They were brought to Plattsmouth for questioning.

Two of the three injured required physician's care. One had an eye injury, another a jaw injury and one a head injury and possible fracture of an arm.

Statements were taken from those taken into custody and information was turned over to County Attorney James Begley.

The Lincoln youths said they were held at gunpoint by an Elmwood resident and prevented from leaving Elmwood until the Sheriff arrived, the Sheriff said.

When the Elmwood call was received by the Sheriff, he and Deputy Joe Kruntorad were checking the Murray area for two teenaged youths who earlier eluded a State Safety Patrolman just south of the Murray corner.

The boys, who had been hitchhiking, ran into an open field when the patrolman stopped to question them.
