Leave them at The Journal Office to be sent later to the School, for handcraft for the children. Box type packages cannot be used, but all paper packages can be. Please leave the cellophane on the package.

Car Burning Ordinance Discussed by Council

A proposed ordinance to regulate burning of junked cars within the city limits Monday night was discussed by the City Council and two men engaged in that business.

Report on Household Employes Required

Have you employed someone to work in or around your home during the present calendar quarter? If so, have you paid your employee cash wages of $50 or more? If the answer is "yes" you must file a report with the Internal Revenue Service next month.

A. F. Silber, district manager of the Social Security Administration in Lincoln, advised keeping an accurate record of wages paid to household employes. He said it is also important to show the employee's social security number correctly on the report.

Report form 942 can be obtained from the Internal Revenue Service. Social Security offices also have a special card, OASI-21, which can be used requesting the form.

Plattsmouth, N. J.—The Calverite Plastic Company told their 140 employes they would find a John H. Glenn, Jr., bonus in their next paycheck.

Msgr. Agius's Services Followed Funeral Procession

A letter received by Mrs. Henry Starkjohn of Plattsmouth this week told of the funeral of Msgr. George Agius, for 39 years pastor of St. John the Baptist Parish here before his retirement to the Island of Malta.

The letter was from Alice Rohran, Monsignor's housekeeper. She said the funeral was held in St. George's Church in Malta. The church is several blocks from the home and Monsignor was carried in an open casket from the home to the church.

Msgr. Agius came to Plattsmouth in 1924 and was here more than 29 years. Six years ago he decided to return to his native land to spend his declining years. He had his 90th birthday Jan. 10.

His housekeeper will return to the United States in the near future.

Man Pleads Guilty To Destruction of Property at Farm

Thomas L. Beatty, 42, of Nebraska City entered pleas of "guilty" to intoxication and malicious destruction of property charges in County Court Tuesday.

He was assisted fines totaling $114 and costs and ordered to make restitution of damages. He is being held in the county jail in lieu of paying the fine.

Beatty was taken into custody at 3 a.m. Tuesday, by Sheriff Tom Solomon after a farm resident reported a prowler. Solomon told the Court that Beatty while under the influence of alcohol, broke the porch door glass and entered while seeking a warmer place to stay. Beatty said he was enroute to Nebraska City from Omaha on foot and that he became cold.

Solomon said Beatty suffered possible fractured ribs in an evident fall on the highway while walking South.

Re-zoning Hearing Continued

A hearing on a request to re-zone six lots in west Plattsmouth Monday night was continued by the City Council until the next regular Council meeting, March 26.

Maynard Tritsch had asked re-zoning of the lots in Richey Place from residential to commercial.

Monday night, Attorney Francis Casey representing Tritsch and three owners of adjacent property were present. The official hearing was continued but discussion was held on the request.

Ray Story, operator of Hill City Trailer Court which adjoins Tritsch's property, asked the reason for the requested re-zoning.

Casey said his client had no plan for commercial use of the property but thought it would be more attractive for sale as commercial.

Story said he spoke for the majority of property owners when he said that on that basis they would be opposed to re-zoning.

A three-fourths vote of the Council is needed for re-zoning decisions. Only three of the four Councilmen were present Monday night. William Highfield being absent.

Hearing Set on Club Application For Beer License

Application was made to the Cass County Board of Commissioners. The Commission will conduct the hearing.

Ident Card 'Not Endorsement'; Plattsmouth Must Sell Itself

BY R. R. FURSE
Chamber of Commerce, Mgr.

This is the time of year the Chamber office is besieged by peddlers, solicitors and door-to-door sales persons requesting identification cards from this office for a local campaign.

Their offerings include everything from magazine subscriptions to baby books. A good share of these companies operate a legitimate business, many of them nationwide.

However, often appears a misrepresented deal, an untrustworthy person, or downright racket.

For that reason, several years ago the Chamber of Commerce set up a screening program and asked for cooperation of local business people and residents of the city.

Under this system, solicitors are asked to get an identification card and register with the Chamber Office. Before this identification card is issued, a thorough check is made for responsibility of the person, his company, correct address and the offering being made.

THIS CARD IS NOT AN ENDORSEMENT OF THE PRODUCT OR REPRESENTATIVE. It simply means the Chamber office has investigated to the best of its ability, has the name of the company and representative on file if later contact is necessary.

The Chamber assumes no responsibility, nor is it an endorsement of the product or representative.

The card issued by the Chamber is to be used for IDENTIFICATION ONLY, and is to be returned to this office upon completion of the solicitation. It is not a recommendation by the Chamber and should any person attempt to use it for any reason than for the purpose intended, we would appreciate your calling this office immediately, or notify the police.

Within the next few weeks, Polling Places Established for Municipal Election

A resolution establishing polling places for the April 3 municipal election was adopted by the City Council Monday night.

Sites are:
First Ward—County Courthouse.

Second Ward—First Precinct, Christian Church; Second Precinct, Methodist Church.

Third Ward—First Precinct, Armory; Second Precinct, Wylse's Garage.

Fourth Ward—First Precinct, Columbian School; Second Precinct, Wintersteen School.

Corporation

Furse, Chamber manager, temporary secretary.

Other committees include:
Francis M. Casey, James F. Begley, Harold Lebens, Walter H. Smith and Paul E. Fauquet, with Steve Davis as chairman, to prepare articles of incorporation and other legal work necessary to establish a working corporation.

And a finance committee headed by Carl Schneider and including Clem Woster and Warren Rhylander was named. Publicity committee includes R. R. Furse, V. V. Clark and Albert Young.

It is expected the articles of incorporation and registration can be completed within the next two weeks and with most of the initial stock already subscribed, the local organization will be in operation in a short time, a spokesman said.

BIG TIP

Daytona Beach, Fla.—A retired show distributor, Timothy Murphy, 73, hired a cab driver to take him to Boston for a total of $321. They stopped in Washington where Murphy tried to cash a $11,000 check. Police were summoned and held the elderly man in custody until relatives were located. Incidentally the cab driver said he got a tip of $24 for his services.

ABOUT TIME

Grandby, Mo.—After living together for 41 years and becoming the parents of five children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goade are finally "married" to the letter of the law.

The circuit judge, Paul Carver, validated their marriage license, when it was learned that Mrs. Goade's married name was placed on the license where her maiden name should have been written.

Schools

The instructor does an excellent job in motivating his students. There is evidence of some fine work.

Suggestions: (1) Broaden program to include advance drawing. (2) Provide mechanical drawing sets for all pupils enrolled. (3) Provide furniture required for effective work in this area.

4. Mathematics—
Program offerings are commendable as courses are available to suit pupil's ability.

Suggestions: (1) Provide for mathematics room and equipment especially designed for the teaching of mathematics. (2) Develop a mathematics library.

5. English—
The composition course offered as an elective and directed toward the interest of pupils planning to attend college, fills a definite need in Plattsmouth.

This extension of the curriculum sets a pattern for other offerings in English and other basic subject areas.

The assignment of English teachers so that each has a grade responsibility in several sections is a strength.

Suggestions: Strive to enrich the program so that all areas of the language arts become more meaningful.

6. Science—
Program offerings are good. The new laboratory work areas for physical science have improved the working conditions for laboratory experiments.

The addition of the demonstration table to the biology classroom is commendable.

Suggestions: Continue to add science equipment and materials making use of government funds wherever possible.

7. Foreign Language—
Enrollments indicate good student interest.

Suggestions: (1) Add third year of Spanish; (2) Add audio-visual aids to strengthen conversational aspects of instruction.

8. Social Studies—
A capable, interested staff is working hard to present social studies in a manner that is meaningful.

Suggestions: Provide areas for additional display of materials, maps, charts, etc.

9. Music—
The long tradition and continued support for a marching band is recognized.

Suggestions: (1) Introduce instrumental music at grade 5; (2) Secure additional personnel to meet the needs of this department's growing responsibilities.

10. Business Education—
A strong program in business education is in evidence designed to meet the needs of pupils in the Plattsmouth area.

Suggestions: (1) Introduce additional electric typewriters into this department; (2) Provide opportunities for experience on a larger variety of business machines.

11. Physical Education—
Excellent dressing rooms—clean and well organized. An improved intramural junior high school program. Elimination of interscholastic competition in the junior high school. Developing varied program of activities in both boys and girls classes with considerable emphasis on physical development activities.

Suggestions: (1) Since classes are large, every effort should be made to add to the supply of equipment; (2) Extend the intramural program to include grades 9-12 and provide an intramural program for girls.

12. Library—
A fine program has been initiated to develop the library required for the girls and boys of the Plattsmouth High School.

Suggestions: (1) Secure services of a full-time librarian; (2) Provide an adequate budget to continue the development of an elementary and high school libraries.

13. Guidance—
The efforts made within the past year to develop an organized guidance program and to provide better guidance services at the junior and senior high levels are certainly commendable. It was quite evident that the three people on the guidance staff were interested and concerned about the students in the Plattsmouth Schools. They apparently work quite well together and carefully evaluate their activities in terms of the needs and welfare of the students.

Suggestions: (1) Secure the services of a school nurse; (2) Provide a remedial reading program for pupils in the secondary school.

The committee concluded their report stating as follows: "The committee is impressed with the sincere efforts of the Board and administration at Plattsmouth in facing up to the problems which in some instances may be perplexing indeed. The committee recognizes that many of the recommendations made are difficult and in some instances impossible of accomplishment operating within the present framework of finan-

Surviving are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Verna Smith of Effingham, South Carolina, Mrs. Mabel Hulfish, of Lincoln, a son, Morris of Elmwood, two granddaughters, a grandson, a great-granddaughter, and a sister, Mrs. Alice Miller, of Garden Grove, California. Three brothers and two sisters preceded him in death.

Services were held Sunday, March 4, at the Methodist Church with the Rev. Mr. Hansen, officiating.

Clean-up of Theater Building Requested

A formal request that the former Cass Theater property be cleaned up within 60 days will be made at direction of the City Council.

Ordinance requires that a burned or partly demolished building be removed or repaired within 60 days after it has been damaged.

The theater burned together with the hotel June 23.

The Council Monday night voted, 3-0, to issue the instruction for cleaning up the property. Parts of some of the brick walls are still standing.

The hotel property was cleaned up last summer.
