France's SAC

In Paris it was announced recently that the French Government was creating its own Strategic Air Force, which would be armed with nuclear weapons by the end of next year.

To those familiar with a lack of the stability of French governments in the past thirty to forty years, this was a heavy note. One shudders to think of a world at the mercy of such governments.

It is true, of course, that the DeGaulle Government seems to be stable, relatively speaking, and that it has brought more order and prestige to the Paris Government than has been seen in forty years.

The world is fast reaching a tragic state — wherein the various countries, of all temperaments and sizes, will come into possession of nuclear weapons and rockets and jet air forces. Who is so optimistic as to think that, armed with such terrible weapons, no dictator, no renegade politician on the skills, will, as a last resort, use these weapons?

The nuclear club today consists of four powers — the U.S., the U.S.S.R., Britain and France. (The French are not yet actually in possession of weapons but have completed tests successfully and will have them very shortly.) Soon West Germany and Red China may be added to that list.

Prior to the day when Communist China possesses these weapons, the leaders of the countries which now have these weapons must agree upon a worldwide ban and upon some form of disarmament. This goal is the primary justification for John F. Kennedy's efforts to establish an improvement in relations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Down Memory Lane

40 YEARS AGO

The Journal reported: "Last evening Sheriff Quinton was called upon by an anxious parent who reported that his daughter had disappeared from home in the company with two other young ladies and feared an elopement of the young people with a number of young men but the fears of the parents were entirely without foundation and the girls only enjoyed a few hours outing in the company of each other and the young men were not with the party at all. It seems the girls had decided to pay a visit to the thriving and growing metropolis of western Mills County, Iowa, Pacific Junction, and neglected to notify their parents." — A two-headed, six-eyed pig was reported born on a farm near Union. It was brought here, the report said, and examined by veterinarian Dr. O. Sandin, but lived only a few hours. — One of the big athletic events of the summer was announced by the Catholic Sokols here for July 1-5, a "turning festival." People from Weston, Dwight, Dodge, Howells, Omaha and South Omaha are expected to attend. — The Cedar Creek baseball team prepared for its season opener, at Cedar Creek against Wabash. The Journal declared: "... the team which captures games from the Cedar Creek bunch will have to go some." — Parme Theater advertised "A Musical Extravaganza," "In Hot Ta-Male Land," featuring beautiful girls, elaborate costumes, catchy music, songs and dances, a cast of 60—Reserved Seats 50 and 75 cents. — Everything looks prosperous in Plattsmouth. Why not? — The best town for its inches in Nebraska!
