

Lamb, Wool Referendum Set For Producers Sept. 10-21

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has announced a referendum among wool and lamb producers during the period Sept. 10-21 to determine their approval or disapproval of a new agreement with the American Sheep Producers Council, Inc.

This agreement would continue the financing of the Council's advertising, promotional and related market development activities on lamb and wool through deductions from wool payments for four more years, as authorized in last summer's extension of the National Wool Act.

Freeman announced that if producers approve as determined in Section 708 of the act, he will sign the agreement with the Council.

Similar referendums were held in 1955 and 1959 in which producers approved agreements with the Council, providing for deductions from wool payments for the 1955 through 1961 marketing years.

Outcome of the referendum will not affect continuation of the payment program under the four-year extension last summer of the Wool Act to producers on marketings of shorn wool and unshorn lambs during the 1962 through 1965 marketing years.

The new agreement provides for a continuation of deductions from incentive payments on shorn wool and from payments on unshorn lambs (pulled wool compensating payments) made to producers under the National Wool Act for the 1962, 1963, 1964 and 1965 marketing years.

Under the previous agreements, deductions have been made from payments at the rate of 1 cent per pound for shorn wool and 5 cents per hundredweight for lambs. Under the new agreement, the deductions cannot exceed these rates. Funds obtained from the deductions from wool program payments will be used as in the past to finance the Council in its activities to enlarge or improve the market for products of the industry.

Because deductions from wool payments for financing the program are based upon the volume of wool and unshorn lambs sold by each producer, producer approval will be based primarily on volume of production as it was in the preceding referendums. Thus, the agreement will not be put into effect unless approved by producers owning two-thirds of the sheep and lambs represented by votes in the referendum.

However, in determining whether or not the referendum results adequately reflect producer approval on a representative basis, consideration will also be given to the number of votes cast for and against the agreement by individual producers.

Section 708 provides that the requirement of approval in the referendum shall be compiled with if either producers having two-thirds of the volume of production represented in the referendum or two-thirds the total number of producers voting, indicate their approval.

All producers who have owned sheep or lambs, six months of age or older, for any one period of at least 30 days since Jan. 1, 1962, will be eligible to vote. Each producer will report the number of sheep and lambs on his ballot.

Ballots will be distributed to producers by mail prior to the voting period. Ballots may be voted during the period, Sept. 10 through Sept. 21. The two-week period of voting is aimed at encouraging participation in the referendum by as large a number of sheep producers as possible. Preliminary referendum results will be announced late in September.

While the law and USDA regulations permit a cooperative to vote as a group, the major wool marketing cooperatives such as the National Wool Marketing Corporation, the Pacific Wool Growers, and the Midwest Wool Marketing Cooperative, Inc., have advised USDA that their members will vote individually in the referendum.

The American Sheep Producers Council Inc. was organized following passage of the National Wool Act of 1954 to carry out provisions of Section 708 of the act. The Council is governed by a board of directors elected from a delegate body representing every state or area and eight national or area organizations.

The Council has separate promotion programs for wool and for lamb. Wool promotion is on a national basis. Lamb promotional activities are presently conducted on a regional basis in areas of high consumer acceptance and nationally on a cooperative basis with food manufacturers.

The activities for both include advertising to create consumer interest; promotion work to urge cooperation by packers, processors, manufacturers, and retailers; and an educational program for retailers and consumers (including schools and colleges) through use of booklets, educational films, and other aids.

The Council's budget, which is approved each year by the Secretary of Agriculture, totals $3,231,500 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1963.

At the maximum rates of 1 cent per pound of shorn wool and 5 cents per hundredweight of unshorn lambs marketed, receipts from deductions from the shorn wool and unshorn lamb payments would average around $3 million a year.

The Council carries a reserve, accumulated in the first few years of its operations when deductions from payments to producers exceeded the Council's expenses, to maintain continuity of programs through years when the deductions may be less than the budget or when payments may not be required and no deductions are made.

If voting in the referendum indicates that producers do not favor the agreement, no deductions will be made from payments for the 1962, 1963, 1964 and 1965 marketing years. In that event, whatever funds remain from the deductions under the agreement of Oct. 23, 1959, will be used by the Council until expended.

It's What You Eat

By State of Nebraska Department of Health

The human body is one of the miracles of all time. It takes a lot of abuse without showing immediate ill effects. It may be several years before it becomes apparent to scientists that certain foods are detrimental to health because they do not contain the essential basic requirements.

Comparative studies have been made and results have shown that deficiencies in proteins, minerals, and vitamins will take their toll in later years.

Children need protein for growth. Each cell in the body depends on it. Adults need protein to retain their health. This is found in beans, peas, and cereal grains as well as in the milk foods, red meat, poultry, fish, and eggs.

The body needs some 20 different minerals in varying amounts. An adequate supply of calcium and iron are the ones we are most likely to lack. Muscles and blood as well as bones and teeth need calcium.

Whole, skim, dried, evaporated or butter milk are the best sources for calcium. White cereals, sweets, fats, and meat are low in calcium content.

Anemia is the result of not getting that "speck" of iron needed each day. Liver is the best source; dried fruits, lean meat, eggs, greens, and whole grain or enriched cereals are excellent.

Scurvy, beriberi, and pellagra are not common as they were when the cause—lack of vitamins — was unknown. However, there are other conditions, not as dramatic, which may be traced to this deficiency.

If we want to keep young, healthy, and full of pep, we must learn to eat well. Use fruits and vegetables in variety, especially the deep green and deep yellow; don't forget the potato which gives us iron, ascorbic acid and thiamine.

Bread is our best single source of energy. Four eggs a week in cooked foods or "as is" are considered a sufficient number for most people. Remember, it's the yolk that counts. Meat and milk products round out the average diet.
