

ACP Practices for County Outlined by ASC Committee

The ACP Development Group has again set up an outstanding program for the farmers of Cass County...

The Federal Government thru the Agricultural Conservation Program is ready and willing to help defray part of the cost of this conservation work...

A number of new practices have been added to the 1963 program, that we feel will be of interest to the farmers of this area...

The 1963 approved practices for Cass County are:

- A-2 Establishment of permanent cover. A-3 Vegetative cover for crop rotation. A-4 Treatment of cropland. A-7 Tree and shrub planting for forestry purposes.

- A-8 Tree and shrub planting for erosion control. B-7 Live stock water dams. B-10 Forestry improvement. C-1 Sod waterways. C-4 Gradient and level terraces.

- C-5 Diversions. C-6 Erosion control dams. C-10 The drains. F-2 Control of noxious weeds. F-1 Wildlife habitat. G-2 Wetland Development. G-3 Ponds for wildlife.

We hope that all farmers will review the practices and make a survey of their farms to determine the practices that are most needed on their farms...

Madame Legislator

The following was written by the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation. Lady legislators have been the unusual in Nebraska...

A casual survey of the records in the Nebraska Blue Book of those who have served in the state legislature...

There have been almost 4,000 Nebraskans who have served in the state's lawmaking bodies since 1867...

Who could claim to be the first lady legislator in Nebraska might be considered a three-way toss-up. The casual survey showed three ladies in the House in 1925...

Seven of the twelve ladies won their legislative spurs through election; and five were appointed to fill vacancies...

The first lady elected to the Unicameral was Kathleen A. Foote, Axtell, 1955-1957. Prior to her service, two ladies had been appointed to fill vacancies...

The lady with the longest service in the Unicameral is the incumbent, Fern Hubbard Orme, who is representing a Lincoln district for the third time...

Did January Seem Cold? It Was!

BY P. J. DINGMAN

In short January was cold and snowy. The average high temperature was only 24.00 (7.0 Degrees below the normal 31.0), and the average low was a minute 4.70 (8.7 degrees below the normal 13.4).

Therefore the average temperature was only 14.35 degrees putting us 7.85 degrees below normal. The 5 warmest days were: 56.1 8th, 48.8 7th, 48.7 9th, 39.0 10th, and 32.0 on the 1st and 5th.

The 5 coldest days were: -17.6 23rd, -17.4 27th, -10.0 24th, -9.8 26th, and -9.4 on the 12th. We also had 27 days when the mercury didn't rise above the freezing mark...

The 5 warmest days were: 56.1 8th, 48.8 7th, 48.7 9th, 39.0 10th, and 32.0 on the 1st and 5th.

'Livestock Best Opportunity for Farm Income Hike'

McCOOK—Livestock production offers the greatest opportunity for increasing net farm income among the agricultural enterprises currently available to the Nebraska farmer...

Dr. Robert M. Koch, chairman of the Department of Animal Husbandry, told 450 farmers attending the first in a series of three area swine days around the State...

Dr. Koch said that Nebraska, which is in seventh place among major swine producing states, is in a favorable position to raise its rank.

"Iowa, which raises 21 million hogs annually, is not five times better than Nebraska in the productivity, inclination or ability to raise hogs," he declared.

Listed as factors which should encourage more hog production in Nebraska were: strategic position in relation to markets and abundant feed grain stocks...

Dr. Koch said that southwestern Nebraska which has a deficit of hogs is trucking much of its milo to other states. The production of feed grains must be brought into balance with that of livestock if Nebraska agriculture is to move forward...

The University spokesman encouraged the 450 producers present to pool their individual resources—including know-how—with that of neighboring farmers in planning expansion of swine operations.

Memorial Books

The following books have been presented to Plattsmouth Public Library by friends and neighbors of Vaclav and Fannie Zoubek:

- Schlesinger—The age of Roosevelt, Vol. 11, Crisis of the old order, 1919-1933. Schlesinger—Age of Roosevelt, Vol. 2, Coming of the New Deal. Santayana, George—Dominations and Powers.

Milo Perry Heads County Heart Fund

Mrs. William Hasebrook, state chairman for the Nebraska Heart Fund, has made the following appointments: Milo Perry, Plattsmouth, Cass County Chairman; Mrs. Russell Schalk, Plattsmouth Chairman; Mrs. Donald Luben, Weeping Water Chairman; Mrs. Fred Schliefer, Louisville Chairman; Mrs. Glen Rutledge, Nehawka Chairman; Homemakers' Extension Club, Murray Chairman.

Mr. Perry has appointed Tom Conks, County Urban Chairman, Ralph Hill, County Rural Chairman and Chas. Warga, County Publicity Chairman.

The American Legion Auxiliary to Post No. 56 is sponsoring the Heart Fund Drive here. Heart Month, February, will be a time filled with a variety of activities for Heart Fund workers. Special fund raising events are planned in many communities. Rural Heart Weeks are being held and the campaign will reach its high point on Heart Sunday, Feb. 24...

These contributions support the Heart Association's research, education and service programs. The Heart Fund, however, does not concentrate solely on one disease. Dollars brought in during February help in the fight against stroke, rheumatic fever, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, congenital heart defects and many other diseases.

Since 1948, more than 75 million research dollars have been brought about new methods of diagnosis and treatment. Seven heart research projects are being conducted in Nebraska alone this year.

Nebraskans have been enjoying the first 10 days of Feb. since we've received almost no new snow or arctic cold waves. The past 4 days have been chilly and slick since the below freezing temperatures have refrozen the water that trickled down the streets.

The Murray Rural Fire Protection District will have its annual meeting Feb. 21 to elect officers and directors to fill expiring terms. The meeting will be at 7 p.m. at Murray Town Hall. R. A. Noel is currently president; Clarence Engelkemier, secretary-treasurer.

World War I Veterans Attend District Meeting

John Ahrens, Herman Ellingson and H. M. Johnson attended the meeting of the 6th District of the Veterans of World War I at Omaha Sunday afternoon. A survey shows that the District and the Department of Nebraska are well ahead of previous years in membership.

It was announced that Kai Koch, Department Quartermaster-Adjutant of Omaha, had been appointed chairman of the National Defense and Security Committee by the National Commander. He reported on a recent meeting of the national officers and committeemen of the Veterans of World War I in Washington, D. C.

Officials Review Conservation Programs in Cass County

BY CLARENCE SCHMADEKE County Extension Agent

Cass County USDA officials met in conference to review Soil & Water Conservation programs in the county Friday, Feb. 8. Represented were ASCS County Committees and Office Manager, SCWD board members and SCS personnel and Extension Board members and County Extension Agent.

Each agency briefly outlined its responsibilities and programs. The purpose of the meeting was to get better acquainted with these programs and to look ahead for more coordinated efforts to accomplish the job of "Natural Resources Conservation" in Cass County.

The meeting called by County Extension Agent Schmadeke was held in Weeping Water at the County Extension office. A new variety of spring oats has been developed by University of Nebraska Agricultural Experiment Station researchers, according to Extension Agronomist J. C. Swinbank. The new variety is called Neal. It has just been officially released and seed for increase is available from the Foundation Seed Division of the University. "Neal is an early maturing, short-strawed, lodge resistant variety which has produced excellent yields in the southern half of the State, where it is recommended for production. It is resistant to several races of stem rust, partially resistant to crown rust and appears to have a tolerance of yellow dwarf virus disease. The grain varies from ivory to buff in color and is satisfactory for milling as well as for livestock feed," Swinbank said.

State Park Use Increase Noted

LINCOLN—State park visitation marks soared to new heights in 1962, Game Commission figures reveal. Total visitation at all Commission areas was estimated at over 4,000,000. The estimated figure for 1961 was 3,906,000. The number of visitors at the state parks, historical parks, Victoria, and Two Rivers State Recreation Area was 922,300 as compared to 904,000 in 1961. Cabin visitors at the four major parks and Victoria Springs Recreation Area numbered 10,462 during 1962, slightly more than in 1961. Individual campers during the past year numbered almost 10,000 more persons than the previous season, according to records maintained at the park areas where registration is required.

More than 2,000 See Winterset Inn

More than 2,000 guests visited the new Winterset Inn at the west city limits of Plattsmouth Sunday afternoon. The occasion was the Open House at which Mr. and Mrs. Marion Endelcato were hosts at their new restaurant. Tours of the main floor were conducted from 2 to 6 p.m. with coffee and cake served to the guests. The Grand Opening ceremonies will be held at a date to be announced.

Kathryn Rumph 'Homemaker' at Louisville High

LOUISVILLE (Special)—Kathryn Rumph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rumph of Louisville, has won the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award at the Louisville High School. Eight seniors took part in the competition here in Louisville. The State Homemaker of Tomorrow is awarded a $1,500 scholarship by General Mills, sponsor of the program. The runner-up receives a $500 scholarship. The school of each state Homemaker of Tomorrow is awarded a complete set of Encyclopedia Britannica.

Teenagers Faced with 4 Growing Up Tasks

LINCOLN—Teenagers today just as those of any era are faced with four growing up jobs or developmental tasks," a Federal Extension specialist in human relations told 300 persons attending the State 4-H Leaders conference. Ed Pope spoke at the annual 4-H Leaders Conference which continues through Friday afternoon at the University of Nebraska Center for Continuing Education. Those attending represent 4-H leaders in every Nebraska county. Pope listed these "growing up tasks" which all teenagers face: "The need to be accepted in one's own age group which includes learning the manners and behavior appropriate to teenagers as compared to children. "Choosing one's life work or career. This is particularly important for both boys and girls. An increasing number of women work after marriage, so that the average girl today can look forward to 25 years of paid employment. The tremendous growth in job opportunities in many fields makes it increasingly difficult for both girls and boys to choose careers. "Developing a philosophy of life or set of values which will guide one's self in using energies and talents for those things one considers worthwhile. There are so many sets of values floating around these days, that it is difficult for the teenager to think them through and select those which are more worthwhile than others. When one does select certain values over others, this gives a sense of direction in life and eventually a philosophy of life. Pope said that human behavior is based on our genetic inheritance, what we need to be reasonably happy and what we think other persons expect of us as well as our stage in life.

Scout Week Observed

Boy Scout Troop 369 here is observing "Scout Week" Feb. 7-13 by taking part in all the events sponsored by the Covered Wagon Council.

Wednesday evening, four Scouts, John Clويد Jr., Lloyd Fitch, Billy Rishel and Gary Way attended a recognition dinner at the Knights of Columbus Hall in South Omaha and were part of the entertainment for the evening. Edward Wehrbein was honored as the Plattsmouth Old Time Scouter of the Year.

Lloyd Fitch Sr., Lions Club Institutional Representative for Troop 369, and John Rishel, Scoutmaster of Troop 369, also attended. Thursday evening, Troop 369 decorated a "Scout window" in the Consumers Public Power Building and received a Blue Ribbon for the display. Troop 461 of Myrdal also shared in the window display. Friday night the Scouts of Troop 369 made a trip to Manley and camped out with the Manley scouts on their school grounds. The Scouts had a "good campout and are looking forward to another get-together with the Manley troop."

Saturday Troop 369 returned from Manley, changed into their uniforms and marched in the Scout Parade in South Omaha. More than 1,000 Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts took part in this parade. Sunday, Troop 369 attended the Methodist Church in a body after which they helped at the "Smorgasbord" at the Lions Club. Tonight, the Troop will hold its regular meeting and elect officers for the coming term. This will climax a very active week in which all phases of Scouting have been observed.

Boy Scout Troop 369 is sponsored by the Plattsmouth Lions Club. Following is a listing of Boy Scout units in Plattsmouth. Cub Pack 399, sponsored by the VFW Post, Ivan Hill, Cubmaster; L. J. Simpson, Cubmaster-elect. Cub Pack 398, sponsored by St. John's School, John Hereford, Cubmaster. Scout Troop 368, sponsored by St. John's Church, Jerry Otterstein, Scoutmaster; Walter Smith, institutional representative. Scout Troop 369, sponsored by Plattsmouth Lions Club, John Rishel, Scoutmaster; Lloyd Fitch Sr., institutional representative. Scout Troop 399, sponsored by Leppert Wolever VFW Post, Harry Porter, Scoutmaster; Chuck Ault, institutional representative. Explorer Post 399, sponsored by Plattsmouth Junior Chamber of Commerce, Russell Nielson, Advisor; Robert Sedlak Jr., institutional representative. Explorer Post 369, sponsored by Plattsmouth Lions Club, George Bunch, Advisor; Lloyd Fitch Sr., institutional representative. This is a new Scouting unit in Plattsmouth and made its first appearance as a unit with a float in the Scout Parade in South Omaha Saturday. George Bunch has served Troop 369 as assistant Scoutmaster for two years and is now leader of the new Explorers.

Madame Legislator

The following was written by the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation. Lady legislators have been the unusual in Nebraska, but the fact is there have been more madame legislators than most Nebraskans realize. A casual survey of the records in the Nebraska Blue Book of those who have served in the state legislature, including the House and the Senate and the Unicameral, found the names of twelve ladies listed. All served either in the House during the two-house era; or in the Unicameral. There have been almost 4,000 Nebraskans who have served in the state's lawmaking bodies since 1867, but for most of that time ladies were not eligible to be legislators. It has been only since 1920 the ladies could hold office or vote; and then the first lady to serve in the Legislature waited five years. Who could claim to be the first lady legislator in Nebraska might be considered a three-way toss-up. The casual survey showed three ladies in the House in 1925, all elected. They were: Mable A. Gillaspie, Oretina; Clara C. Humphrey, Mullen; and Sarah T. Muir, Lincoln. Lady legislator Gillaspie apparently enjoyed her service for she served five consecutive terms from 1925 to 1933, the longest service of any lady lawmaker. Sarah T. Muir came back to the Legislature for a second term in 1933. Seven of the twelve ladies won their legislative spurs through election; and five were appointed to fill vacancies, sometimes in cases where their husbands died in office. House members elected were: Mable A. Gillaspie; Clara C. Humphrey; Sarah T. Muir; Myrtle Muaser, Rushville, 1931; and Marjorie G. Stark, Norfolk, 1935. Appointed to the House were: Barbara Sloup, Omaha, 1930; Edith Beckman, Omaha, 1933; and Ruth Work Cushing, Ord, 1935. The first lady elected to the Unicameral was Kathleen A. Foote, Axtell, 1955-1957. Prior to her service, two ladies had been appointed to fill vacancies. The first lady member of the Unicameral was Nell Krause, Albion, 1946. Fay Britt, Lincoln, was appointed in 1954. The lady with the longest service in the Unicameral is the incumbent, Fern Hubbard Orme, who is representing a Lincoln district for the third time. She has served continuously since 1959.

The 5 coldest days were: -17.6 23rd, -17.4 27th, -10.0 24th, -9.8 26th, and -9.4 on the 12th. We also had 27 days when the mercury didn't rise above the freezing mark (almost twice the normal 15), 30 days when the mercury fell below freezing (only 1 more than normal), and 17 days when the thermometer registered zero or below (this is 10 more than normal for the month and 3 more than normally occurs in an average year). Snowfall amounted to 13.1 inches (5.4 inches above normal), and precipitation amounted to .94 inch (.21 above normal). We also had 4 days of heavy fog (3 more than normal), 9 days when we received .01 inch or more of precip. (.3 above normal) and 4 days when the sky treated us to an inch of snow or more (twice normal). Nebraskans have been enjoying the first 10 days of Feb. since we've received almost no new snow or arctic cold waves. The past 4 days have been chilly and slick since the below freezing temperatures have refrozen the water that trickled down the streets.
