Mrs. Cole, Home From Trip, Presides at Garden Club Meet

Plattsmouth Garden Club met with Mrs. Fay Jose Monday afternoon. Mrs. Hermia Swoboda was co-hostess. Sixteen members answered roll call naming a new variety of rose they expect to plant in their gardens this year.

One of the favorites was the new Tropicana, a rich hued red-orange in color.

Mrs. Marjory Cole, president, opened the meeting by reading a poem entitled "Trees."

She also told of a recent trip she enjoyed to California and Arizona and of the gardens and flowers she saw there.

Announcement was made of the 1963 Spring Conference of District 13 Federated Garden Clubs of Nebraska to be held April 29th at the Crossroads Auditorium 72nd and Dodge in Omaha.

Guests for this meeting will be Mrs. S. P. Taylor, State President of the Federated Garden Clubs Mrs. Michael Edwards, 1st State Vice president and several other state chairmen.

Registration is from 9 to 10 a.m., with a noonday luncheon. In the afternoon Mrs. E. L. Sommer of Lincoln, past state officer, accredited, judge, member of Lincoln's Arranger Guild and an outstanding flower arranger will give a demonstration of spring flowers.

A group from the local club plan to attend.

Mrs. Cole, had the lesson on Propagation of plants. She read an article on two unusual kinds of trees—the Cedars of Lebanon and the Torreya—the latter found in only three places in the world, California, China and Japan. The wood from the Torreya tree is also called gopher wood—and it is said to be the variety of wood used by Noah in building the Ark.

In line with the lesson's topic—Mrs. Cole gave some "midwest pointers" regarding propagation of plant life. She quoted from The Flower Grower magazine; "the busiest month in the garden is May in the Middle West."

Planting of dormant stock of trees and shrubbery cannot wait and this operation should be given priority. It is time to move evergreens too before new soft growth makes this too risky. All hardy and half-hardy vegetables should be in the ground early in May. Seeds of annuals can be sown now, but setting out of bedding plants should be delayed until the danger of chilly weather is past.

Seeds of perennials can be planted now. The war on insects begins from now on, and spraying is in order as soon as foliage makes its appearance on the rose plants. The planting of gladiolus bulbs can begin anytime now and the suggestion was made that the planting schedule be every two weeks to insure a continuous flowering of glads in season. The compost heap, never an object of beauty, can be disguised by planting cucumbers or gourds on it. A general discussion on plant propagation followed. A plant exchange was held.

To close the afternoon meeting the hostesses served refreshments.

Mrs. Sybil Hetrick was awarded the door prize.
