Accept Fall Teaching Posts

Two Nehawka students are among 65 Per State Teachers College candidates for fall teaching positions who have accepted contracts, the college's director of placement said today.
They are Larry Whittington, secondary education degree candidate, who will teach at Bradshaw, and June Rosa, elementary education alumni candidate, who will teach at Murray.
Teacher candidates who have accepted contracts to teach at Cass County schools include Maryanne Applegate and Fred Applegate, both of Cook, who will be at Louisville High, and Ernest Robinson of Wymore, who will be at Elmwood High, according to the placement director.

OPENING DAY—About 300 anglers turned out at Goose Lake on the Plattsmouth Game Refuge Monday on opening day. Refuge Manager Harold Edwards estimated 260 fish were caught the first day, mostly bass ranging up to 2 1/2 pounds. A few channel cat and a bluegill or two were also hooked. Morning fishing pressure eased Tuesday when public school reopened after Easter vacation but afternoons and evenings were busy. Most of the early attention was given to the south portion of the lake, to the left of the dike shown above.

2 FIRE CALLS
Plattsmouth Volunteer Firemen answered two calls Tuesday and Wednesday.
Soon after midnight Monday, they were called to Holman's Beach north of here. Fire destroyed an unoccupied cabin. The volunteers, notified after a passerby saw the fire, found the blaze out of control and were unable to save the building.
Wednesday morning, a pile of creosoted posts caught fire from a trash burner at Plattsmouth Lumber Co. The firemen quickly controlled the blaze with hand extinguishers before any more damage was done on a windy day.
