Farm Safety Week

National Farm Safety Week, July 21-27, is a good time for farm families to stop and think of the fact that safety is a family affair. Many times, children are the victims of accidents involving farm families, says Rollin Schneider, University of Nebraska Extension safety specialist. In most cases, accidents involving children could have been prevented if they or some other member of the family had adequate training in safety practices. "If the farm family thinks of safe practices as a means of doing things, accident prevention will become a way of life that will preserve the lives of farm families," Schneider points out.
