Farm Expenses Up Half Billion

Expenses for farm production in 1963 apparently are running a half a billion dollars more than the $28.2 billion incurred in 1962, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

These expenses have been going up over the years, according to USDA, as farmers continue to adopt labor-saving technologies, purchase proportionately more resources, and pay higher unit costs for production items. Investments in machinery and equipment may increase this year, as shipments of tractors by manufacturers, farm machinery and equipment during the first half of 1963 are sharply above last year.

A Classified Ad in The Journal cost as little as 50 cents.

Kernel Is Contributor to Fun in Sun

From San Diego to Bangor summer rates as the nation's favorite time for playing. While corn plants reach skyward in the warm and sunny days, Americans swim, drive, sail, putt, fish, explore, barbecue or sip cool drinks.

Supporting our multitude of playtime activities are versatile products from corn. Their contributions add much fun to summer.

For example, corn is involved in sandpaper for the weekend hobbyist, paper plates for picnics, insecticides for camping trips, film for snapshots. Corn starch is used in all of these products. It also is used in the manufacture of aluminum—aluminum canoes, sailboat masts, outboard engines and aluminum porch chairs.

Products from corn are used in scores of ways in the cars we drive to sandy beaches. Corn dextrin helps process the leather in our golf bags and sandals and was used as a binder in charcoal briquettes. Cosmetic products, such as the lotions we use to prevent sunburn, frequently contain corn starch. The making of our light cotton or rayon clothing required starch, as did our comfortable hammocks.

Try to imagine summer without soda, ice cream, beer, pie, candy, chewing gum, marshmallows, peanut butter and jelly, salad dressings, hot dogs, catsup, cookies and fruit cocktail. Such foods, along with several hundred others, usually contain corn syrup or dextrose or oil or starch—and sometimes all four! Corn also helps produce the poultry, meat, milk and eggs we need to give us strength for playing, for corn is a major feed of beef, pigs, cows, chickens and sheep.

Next time you drive down a highway and see green corn plants stretching acre after uniform acre, remember that the car you are driving, the road map guiding you, the clothes you are wearing and the dinner waiting for you just ahead depended in a variety of ways upon products from the golden corn kernel.

CAPITOL CORNER

By Rep. Glenn Cunningham, Washington, D. C. (Special)—The House approved spending at the rate of almost a billion dollars an hour when the Space Agency authorization bill was acted upon recently.

The President recommended $5.7 billion, which was cut almost half a billion dollars by the Space Committee of the House of Representatives. But the total was still nearly $2 billion more than last year.

The House of Representatives had only five hours allotted for debate on this major bill. Many questions left unanswered were to the judicious use of this huge sum of money. I was one who voted against this bill as an expression of disapproval for the too rapid build-up in this field.

My vote also reflected the hundreds of letters which I received on this subject, almost unanimous in opposing a "crash program" to reach the moon which this legislation authorizes.

Official confirmation has been given to the report that President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev have exchanged some 40 secret messages. This exchange is not without some precedent, such as that between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill prior to our entry into World War II and during the War.

But exchanges of this number have been rare between leaders of opposing camps. Certainly these messages must pertain to vital matters, for why would they exchange messages about other things?

Questions are being raised as to whether these are secret negotiations affecting the entire nation's security. It is suggested that the public be kept informed in at least general terms as to what is going on in this exchange of messages.

One of the financial experts in Congress is Rep. Thomas B. Curtis of Missouri, a member of the House Ways and Means Committee which is considering tax legislation.

Curtis recently wrote some simple facts about our Federal financial status:

"Spending has to be controlled so that, when we talk in terms of tax cuts, we are not talking about financing a tax cut by a new bond issue. Such a bond issue would mean nothing more than deferred tax increases."

Death Beneficiaries Of Veterans Will Get Questionnaire

Approximately 2,000 dependent parents of deceased veterans in Nebraska, who receive service connected death compensation from the VA, will have a special dependency questionnaire enclosed with their check due on or about Aug. 31.

A. H. Duxbury, manager of the VA regional office in Lincoln, said that, at the same time, about 200 veterans who receive additional service-connected disability compensation, because of a dependent parent or parents, will also receive a similar questionnaire.

The parents were definitely determined as dependents on the deceased veteran at the time they were placed on the compensation rolls. The purpose of the questionnaire is to establish whether the dependency continues and if they are still eligible for payment.

Recipients of the questionnaire are expected to complete and return the questionnaire promptly, and in no event later than the deadline Oct. 31. Duxbury cautioned, to avoid having their payments stopped.

Assistance in filling out the questionnaire will be provided, if needed, at any VA Contact Office or by any County or Post Service Officer.
