The Valentine Democrat

ROBERT GOOD, Editor and Prop.

VALENTINE, NEBRASKA

Japan comes to the front with a defalcation of $750,000. And yet they eay that country isn't fully civilized!

The Memphis Scimitar says: "Miss Ittye O. Hayme left this morning for California." Poor girl! Even marriage cannot help that name.

While Queen Victoria's reign has been notable in many respects, it has experienced many things which Englishmen would like to forget.

The Houston Post undoubtedly is right in saving that "this is a time for sober second thought." But why not have such thought first occasionally?

A woman in Buffalo wanted to buy the entire police force of that city and nave the men shot and cremated. And they actually locked her up as a crazy woman.

A New York inventor claims to have discovered a way to prevent eggs from spoiling and says he can keep them fresh forever. This will be glad tidings to the one-night-stand actors.

A New Jersey wife has applied for a divorce on the ground of extreme crue!ty because her husband put a live turtle in her bed. That woman doesn't seem to have found matrimony a soft snap.

When you have fixed upon a plan, even in trivial matters, do not reverse it, except for good reason. Decision of character will thus in time become habitual-and habit has well been described as second nature.

If we struggie to overcome a fault or to resist a temptation, and succeed, the time comes when we lose all desire to commit the wrong; the self-restraint is ever, and we enter into the true freedom, where desire and duty are one.

Miss Claire Ferguson, of Salt Lake City, has been commissioned a deputy sheriff. Unless Miss Ferguson's newspaper pictures flatter her, we are ready to wager that if she ever issues an attachment for an unmarried man she will land him.

various star parts in the European theaters of peace and war, but has failed to make a good impression chiefly because the audience has mistaken his heroics for farce-comedy. The play's the thing, but William must be in it.

A genius in Lochester, N. Y., nas discovered, or thicks he has, the cause of the hard times. He says it is bleyeles. There are 30,000 bicycles in that city of 180,000 inhabitants. This wiseacre estimates their cost at $2,100,000, and that the owners do not earn any more wages because they possess the wheels. and therefore concludes that the bulk of the owners economize in the matter of food, boots and shoes, clothing, shaves, drinks, street car rides, liveries, and so on. That genius thinks that the wheel, which has afforded so much pleasure and brought rosy cheeks to heretofore pale faces in such large numbers, is destined to keep on maintaining hard times. That genius will bring up in a madhouse if he does net throw over that peculiar phase of the bicycle question. His friends should present him with a bicycle and set him to riding it. That will be the surest way to divert him from spicide or an insane asylum. What the world wants on the bicycle question is information that will lead to the extinction of the scorcher.

Chicago Times-Herald: For many years James Aram resided and prospered in the pretty village of Delavan, Wis. He was not what might be termed a rich man at his death, a few weeks ago. He had taken part in most of the enterprises calculated to advance the interests of his town. It is apparent that he wanted to live in the thoughts of the people after he had crossed the river, for he generously remembered several of the churches and the cemetery association and then directed that $20,000 be used in building a home for superannuated Methodist ministers and their families, to be located at Delavan. That was to be in memory of his father and mother. He did not stop there, but left another $20,000 to be used in establishing a public library and reading-room, These be monuments that are monuments.

memory will be preserved by them builded them himself. Fortunate, indeed, is the village or city that has a James Aram, living or dead. . One of the boasts made upon the ac-

They are none the less valuable, non-

the less prized, because the man whose

LOGAN THE SOLDIER.

HIS VALOR AND RESOLUTION IN DESPERATE CRISES.

When "Black Eagle" Charged the Battle Line Knew Not Fear-Chiv-

Black Jack's Career.

John' Alexander Logan, one of nature's captains, was born in Jackson County, Ill., Feb. 9, 1826. In a mighty drama he played a commanding role. When he had hung up his sword he was raised to a select group of his nation's statesmen, and there he continued to sustain the respect that his blameless valor had won him on the bloody field. Named to sit beside the head man of his countrymen, he led gallant charges in that civil campaign that shook the eventful summer of 1884, and, though unrewarded with victory, he forfeited not the love and admiration of his followers, who afterward saw with satisfaction their swarthy chieftain continued in his statesman's chair. With powers unabated for future high service he was suddenly called on the 26th of December, 1886, to exchange his toga for his shroud, These are the influential facts in John A. Logan's distinguished career:

He was of Irish stock, his father emigrating from Ireland to Maryland, to Kentucky, to Missouri, to Illinois.

He was educated at a common school, and by a tutor and at Shiloh College. served well.

After the Mexican war he studied law, In 1851 he was graduated at Louisville University, admitted to the bar, and be-Jenkins.

made him a man to be chosen to lead. Therefore in 1852 and in 1856 he sat in the Illinois Legislature. He was also elected prosecuting attorney.

In 1852 he removed to Benton, Franklin County.

He was elected to the Forty-second when night closed down the battle was Congress, but was chosen United States | ended and the Federal troops were mas-Senator before that Congress convened, ters of the field. Some of the regiments He took his seat March 4, 1871. He be- that went into that sanguinary conflict came chairman of the Committee on Mili- | came out with but thirty men, and one tary Affairs. He had tilled the corre- which went in in the morning with 200 sponding position in the House of the -- the Twentieth Illinois-came out with Forty-first Congress. but fifteen!

the army.

His term expired, he resumed the law As Logan appeared at the battle of At alrons with Women, and the Unrest- in Chicago, but again was elected to the lanta so he appeared in all the conflicts in ing Friend of the Nation's Veterans. Senate to succeed Oglesby, and took his , which he participated during the war. He

gress and worked well for the reduction of and with fury-a tempest of thunder and was the idol of the common soldier; whenever he was seen galloping recklessly in the most exposed positions, his long locks floating in the wind, the men set up a cry of "Logan, Logan; we'll follow where the Black Eagle leads!"

fire-a hailstorm of shot and shell. And

Care for His Men.

Dr. Roler was with Gen. Logan during the entire war. He declares that one of Logan's marked characteristics was his pected them to fight, to dare anything which promised victory. At other times no commander could have been more attentive to questions of food, shelter and hospital care. Dr. Roler relates an example of this which occurred at Huntsville, Ala. The army spent two or three months there in winter quarters. Logan was popular even with the Southerners there because of his fairness and geniality. One of the Union generals, now dead, was known to sympathize strongly with the enemy, although in Federal uniform, This general and his staff had been quartered in a large mansion in the outskirts. of the town. It belonged to a Southern seat in the extra session convening March | gentleman to whom that particular gen-18, 1879. He was re-elected in 1885, af-| eral was much attached. He promised He served in the Mexican war and ter a memorable fight, signalized by the that when he and his staff retired the loyalty and endurance of Logan's faithful house should not be ocupied further by the army. When the time came to move, In the presidential convention of 1884, however, there were many sick and in Chicago, Logan received for President, wounded to be left behind. The only came partner of his uncle, Alexander M. on the first ballot, 631/2 votes, Blaine sub- available house suitable for a hospital was sequently being chosen. Logan was nom- the old gentleman's mansion. Dr. Roler and the lumber amendment also brought He was now developing the gifts that inated for Vice-President, and with his called on Logan and related the circumassociate went down in the defeat out of stances. Logan at once said: "When it Teller and Pettigrew, Early in the day comes to a conflict between our friends and our wounded soldiers, I'll take the Logan at Atlanta, The moment in Gen. Logan's career part of the wounded," and immediately take all necessary steps for the release which the sculptor has chosen to depict ordered the house to be used for hospital of the Competitor prisoners from prison in the monument unveiled at Chicago is purposes.

THE WEEK'S DOINGS IN SENATE AND HOUSE.

WORK OF CONGRESS.

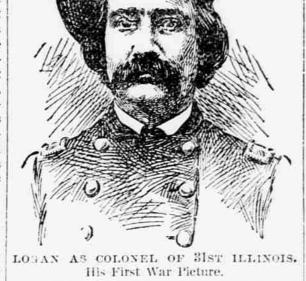

A Comprehensive Digest of the Proceedings in the Legislative Chambers at Washington-Matters that Concern the People.

Lawmakers at Labor.

The conference report on the tariff bill was adopted by the House shortly after midnight Monday by a vote of 185 to 118. This eclipses all previous records. The result was accomplished after twelve hours of continuous debate. But twospeeches were made by the Republicans, one by Mr. Dingley in opening the debate care for his men. During battle he ex- and one by Mr. Payne of New York in closing it. In all ten Democratic and one-Populist speeches were made. The sugar schedule was the main point of assault. Every Republican in the House who was present voted for the report. The Democrats, with five exceptions, voted against the report. The exceptions were Slayden of Texas, Broussard of Louisiana, Meyor of Louisiana, Davey of Louisiana and Kleberg of Texas. An analysis of the vote shows that 180 Republicans and five Democrats voted for the report, and 166 Democrats and twelve Populists against it.

> The tariff conference report was presented to the Senate Tuesday, but little progress was made on it beyond the formal reading of about two-thirds of the report. Mr. Tillman openly threatened a filibuster until next December if 🗃 bagging and cotton ties were not restored to the free list, but the threat was regarded as selecwhat facetions. The sugar amendments occasioned a long debate, out animated criticism from Senators the Senate passed a joint resolution authorizing and requesting the President to at Havana. Representative Mitchell of New York has introduced a hill in the House to establish a currence reserve fund for the redenaption of United States. and treasury notes of 1890. The fund shall aggregate at the start $150,000,000. of which not over $100,000,000 shall consist of gold and the remainder of United States treasury notes. The fund shall be added to from time to time as the treasury's cash balance exceeds $75,000,-000; but shall never aggregate more than someonen The fund sin to redeem United States and treasury, notes, which shall not be reissued, except in exchange for gold, to be deposited in the reserve fund. The Senate concluded the formal reading of the tariff conference report Wednesday. Mr. Jones made a contest against the conference committee on the ground that it had exceeded its mathority in so amending the paragraph relating to printing paper as to place a retaliatory duty against the countries paying an export bounty on wood pulp. His point of order was debated at much length, and finally overruled by Vice President Hobart. This removed the only obstacle thus far encountered by the report. The reciprocity amendment and the abandonment of the stamp tax on honds and stocks developed much criticism. When the House met Mr. Evans from the Conmittee on Ways and Means reported a joint resolution which finally passed, requesting the President to make such investigations as will elicit all the facts in reference to the restrictions put upon the sale of American tobacco in foreign countries under what is known as the "Regie" or government contracts. It also authorizes the President to enter into negotiations with the governments of those countries with a view to obtaining a modification of these restrictions. In the Senate Thursday the debate on the report was participated in by Senators Chilton of Texas, Jones of Arkansas and Petugrew of South Dakota in opposition, while Mr. Aldrich took frequent occasions to defend the report against the criticism of these Senators. The credenticis of the new Senator from Tennessee, Thomas B. Turley, who succeeds the late Senator Harris, were presented to the Senate by his associate, Mr. Bate, Mr. Turley was then escorted to the Vice-President's desk, where the oath of officewas duly administered. In the House, Mr. Stone introduced a bill to authorize the appointment of a monetary commission and to provide for its expenses. One hundred thousand dollars is appropriated by the terms of the bill for the expenses of the contaission. This bill has been prepared by Mr. Stone, after consultation with H. H. Hanna, chairman of the Inlianapolis convention, and is understood to have the approval of the administraion. In the Senate Friday a House bill was cassed authorizing the President to susnend discriminating duties into sed on foreign vessel- and commerce. Mr. Allison they moved to proceed with the parifi confedence report, but Mr. Thinnan comtested this with a motion to take up his re olution for an investigation of alleged sensitivities specification in sugar shoeld. Mr. Affinat rude the point of order that deste was not in order, and the providing (Borronstained the point. A joint result article while presided for the second in a eventeent building at the trans-Missisno incomptional exposition at Omalia he conductation of the main conference esory was then resumed, and Mr. Teller of Colorado took the floor for a generapoech. The House passed the bill pass. al by the Senate to ratify the compact which arose Grover Cleveland.

"103."

Rockefeller one day gives a militon follars to endow a church or college. The next day with a stroke of the pen he raises the price of some product of od for a week and gets it back. This is "business" in partnership with religion.

"Who wouldn't be an editor? When he goes to his office he finds that some friend has been there and left melons, fruits and vegetables. And the best part of it is, there being no graveyard here, we have prospects of living always."

The Phillipsburg (Pa.) Record says: "Our handsome young friend, Jack Barnes, is spending a few days in town. Jack is all right and a nice boy; but those rattlesnake pants are corkers." Well, they might be worse; suppose they were trousers.

An insurance publication in the East fas issued "Fire Tables for 1897." From this series of figures it is seen that in 1896 the losses were $118,000,000, a decrease of $24,000,000 from the losses of 1895, $22,000,000 under those of 1894, $50,000,000 less than 1893, and $34,000,-600 lower than 1892. Unfortunately there is no text with the figures showing the cause of the encouraging decrease.

The editor of the Merkel (Texas) Mail rises to remark that "the editor of the Guide has merely assumed greatness, with no provocation whatever to don such an unbecoming disguise. His puerile attempts at witticisms are irreducible and proportionately irrelevant. He is about as much of an editor-and gentleman-as a sheep is a billy goat." This ought to help to been the undertaker's business a little.

Sir Ashmead Bartlett's information from a "source usually reliable" that Queen Victoria will soon abdicate may be correct. Stories of Victoria's approaching abdication have been set afloat at least once a year ever since the prince consort's death in 1861, and the world is at last getting skeptical on this point. There has been no volugdary abdication in the annals of British royalty. Few English sovereigns die and none resign.

The expected has happened and isat-cession of the present czar was that there would be greater religious freedom for the subjects of Russia. According to information lately received. however, it would appear that, on the contrary, the established church is going to greater lengths than ever in its prosecution of dissenters. With the aid of the government extreme measures are being resorted to to punish The Waller (Texas) Free Press says: those who refuse to conform to the regulations of the State church. These are being carried on by the chief procurator of the holy synod, who has already made himself notorious by his work against the dissenters. The latter are said to number from ten to twelve million, embracing many sects and varieties of belief. The curious thing about the prosecutions is that they are being carried out against some persons who, "owing to the absence of a formulated creed, try to strengthen the basis on which their faith is built by conforming themselves to the moral and practical demands of Christianity." That is certainly strange ground for prosecution, but the procurator finds it sufficient for the harassing of these people. It will only sow deeper > sia is to reap. A movement is on foot to secure pardons for the notorious Younger brothers, who have been in prison for the last twenty-one years for complicity in the robbery of the Northfield, Minn., bank and the murder of two men at that time. The Younger and James boys were the leaders of a desperate gang of bank robbers and murderers of that day at whose door many crimes have been laid, but to whom are attributed by admirers many of those qualities which distinguish better men. Jesse James went to his bloody account many years ago. His brother Frank is living a life of comparative decency among a community where the James boys were regarded as deities. The Youngers were captured and have since been in prison. The warden, who is said to favor their release, speaks of their having given twenty-one years of "honest, manly and faithful service to the State," and a St. Paul newspaper professes to discover that there is "something fundamentally good and noble in men who preferred capture and probable death to deserting a wounded brother." It is asserted that during their incarceration they have been thoroughly reformed, and that no good can be had by their further imcer William has written a play. The prisonment. If this is really the case German Emperor was long overdue for they might be liberated, but there is the mine. His column first entered the

In 1856 he was a presidential elector when he took Gen. McPherson's com- As an instance of his unfailing courtesy on the Buchanan and Breckinridge ticket. mand at the battle of Atlanta. This was to the enemy, and especially to women one of the bloodiest battles of the war. and children, Major Mitchell, one of Lo-In 1858 as a Douglas Democrat he went to Congress. In 1860 he went again.

the seeds of the whirlwind which Rus-He was a Douglas man in the presidential year of 1860, but when he heard the South threatened trouble he said he would sheulder his musket to have Lincoln inaugurated.

In July, 1861, Lincoln had secession on his hands, and Congress was in extra session. Troops were leaving Washington corps, was ordered to press the enemy on gan at once stationed a guard at her for the front. Logan quit the halls of the left flank, while Gens. Schofield and house and kept it there until the army Congress, chased the troops, grabbed a Thomas were to attack his right and moved. gun and stayed at Bull Run until there rear. McPherson soon discovered that were extra good reasons for leaving the field.

He returned to Illinois in August, re colonel, Sept. 13.

Donelson, at the latter assault getting a wound that disabled him for some time. March 5, 1862, he became brigadiergeneral of volunteers. That summer the people at home said, "Come back, Logan, and run for Congress," and Logan replied: "I have entered the field to die, if need be, for this Government, and never expect to return to peaceful pursuits until the object of this war of preservation has become an established fact."

In Grant's northern Mississippi camsaign Logan commanded the third division of the Seventeenth army corps under McPherson. He was made major general of volunteers Nov. 26, 1862.

He fought at Port Gibson, Raymond, Jackson and Champion Hills. He commanded McPherson's center at Vicksburg and made the assault at the explosion of

It was July 22, 1864. Hood had succeed- gan's old staff officers and a Board of ed Johnston in command of the Confed- Trade man now in Chicago, relates the erate forces, and these were intrenched in following incident: "When the army was Atlanta. Gen. Sherman, however, be- encamped at Huntsville a Southern womlieving that the enemy had evacuated the an, whose husband and sons were in the city, ordered McPherson to move forward Confederate army, applied to Logan for n the direction of East Point and over- protection. She lived alone with her two take the Confederates. Major Gen. Lo- daughters, and was afraid that the famgan, commanding the Fifteenth army ily might be molested in some way. Lo-

Sherman had been completely misled, and the old seldier. After the bitter campaign ordered Logan's troops to go into position of 1884 an old volunteer, lame and broken for battle. About noon, the firing baving in health, presented himself before the signed his seat in Congress, organized the become general all along the line by that general one evening. He preferred a re-Thirty-first Illinois, and was made its time, McPherson rode out almost alone to quest, compliance with which would have observe the carrying out of his orders. In placed Legan in the position of an appli-He was at Belmont at the head of his passing through a narrow bridle path he cant for favor from the administration. own hot bayonets, and lost a horse. He came upon a stray company of Confeder- Much agitated at the old man's story, the led his regiment at Fort Henry and Fort ates from Hardee's corps, lying down in general at last exclusion stormily;

Logan never could resist the appeal of something eccentric, and a survey of	no use in becoming mawkish about the	city, and he was made its military gov-	the woods. The captain commanded Mc-	"I have never asked a political favor	entered into between the States of South-the field showed that when he finally	matter.	ernor.	Pherson three times to halt. McPherson.	from this administration and 1 never	Dakota and Nebrasha relative to the dis-

broke out it would be in the histrionic	marter,	In November, 1863, he succeeded Sher-	supposing it to be a detachment of his	will."	pated bandary Ene.
dine. There was nothing left. He had		man in command of the Fifteenth army	own troops, with his usual courteous man-	The poor volunteer stole out of the room
	Salary of Senators.	corps. In 1864 he led the advance of the	ner, lifted his hat. Immediately after	abashed and disappointed. After half	Cornted the Geese.
performed in music, made faces and	There is a common impression in this	Army of the Tennessee at Resaca, repuls-	perceiving his mistake, he wheeled his	an hour the storm began to abate in Lo-	Under Heavy V. of England an net cther unpleasant pictures, gone to	country that the salaries of the United	ed Hardee at Dallas and drove the enemy	horse, was fired upon and killed.	gan's mind. He rose and said to Mrs. Lo-	Concentration of the statistical data for catch whales (and caught Tartars),	States Senators are larger than those	from his line of works at Kenesaw Moun-	Gen. Sherman at once ordered Logan,	gan as he went out:	of full-intent ordered all the geose in and done about everything else from	of the Representatives. As a matter	tain.	the next in rank, to take command. Never	"Mary, I can ask nothing of this admin-	during to be control, and the sherings failing to go in when it rained to bluff-	of fact the two classes are paid exact-	At Atlanta he succeeded McPherson,	did a general on either side in the four	istration myself, but I've got to do some-	of the countles were required by fire-
Ing the other powers of Europe, Now	ly the same-$5,000 a year each, with	and saved Sherman from disaster.	years' war display more superb qualities	thing for that poor fellow or I shan't	27 sh s.N mirrow feathers from angle it was time for him to rise up and shine	allowance for stationery and mileage,	When Atlanta fell, Sept. 1, 1864, Logan	of courage. He brought order out of	sleep to-mght."	t arree, again, and naturally he wrote a play.	anovance for stationery and interge,	went home and took part in the presiden-	chaos and victory from defeat. The news	He put into execution a plan which
A description of the piece has been pub-	There was formerly a difference in the	tial campaign, but returned to Sherman	of McPherson's death having spread, Lo-	soon brought his comrade all that he had	Fusing of the Skirt Bagog, transmission to the second second lists in lost	and active service until Johnston surren-	gan rallied the troops with the cry: "Mc-	asked.	France is dolariaway with the skire lished, but it is not material to the epi-	stream the second second second second	dered, April 26, 1865. May 23 he was	Pherson and revenge." Logan took com-		data e and there is a return to filmer of.
sole beyond establishing the fast that	somewhat greater than that of the	appointed to the command of the Army of	mand on that famous black stallion of his,	Luncheon in Two Courses.	the beautiful, stately damess-rine min-
the dramatic attack is acute. The play	Representatives, but many years ago	the Tennessee,	and became a flame of fire and fury. He		not, the gravitue, the pavane, and the will be praised by the critics and possi-	this difference was abolished. Cabinet	The war over, he resigned his commis-	was everywhere; his horse covered with	River Bottom Park on Wednesday	straburd-which lent grace to the bly acted, and that will end the matter	Ministers receive $8,000 a year each.	sion, saying he did not wish pay when not	foam and himself hatless and begrimed	evening. Lunch consisted principally	elgineenth century.
as far as the public is concerned. But	and this fact is probably responsible	on active duty. President Johnson ap-	with dust; perfectly comprehending the	of onions and garileMartinsville
William ought to sustain this latest	and this fact is probably responsible	pointed him minister to Mexico, but he	position; giving sharp orders to officers as		Hawair's Eest Safeguard.
freak longer than has been his custom	for the popular blunder, many persons	declined the honor.	he met them, and planting himself firmly	Post.	The second strength and the supposing that a Senator is paid as	In 1866 he was elected as a Republican	in front of fleeing columns, with revolver	The next hors of Great Pritain and	The American may over Hawall will with the others. He ought to inject a	much as a member of the Cabinet.	to the Fortieth Congress, and was a man-	in hand, threatening, in tones not to be	Ireland are estimated to be the heat-	be a better defense for the islands
part for himself and go into the acting		ager in the impeachment trial of President	mistaken, to fire into the advance did they		than half a dozen warships charged
The for a season. He needs the train-	We wouldn't be a prodigal son for	Johnson.	not instantly halt and form in order of	equivalent to nearly 4,000,000,000 1964	with maintaining an uncertain protecting in detail. He has been appearing in	the little yeal there is in it.	He was elected to the Forty-first Con-	battle. The battle was resumed in order	of coal.	mateSt. Louis Globe-Democrat.