CALLS FOR THANKS.
President William McKinley Issues the Yearly Proclamation.
President McKinley has issued his first Thanksgiving day proclamation as follows:
"In remembrance of God's goodness to us during the past year, which has been so abundant, let us offer unto Him our thanksgiving and pay our vows unto the most high." Under His watchful providence industry has prospered, the conditions of labor have been improved, the rewards of the husbandman have been increased and the comforts of our homes multiplied. His mighty hand has preserved peace and protected the nation. Respect for law and order has been strengthened, love of free institutions cherished and all sections of our beloved country brought into closer bonds of fraternal regard and generous co-operation.
"For these great benefits it is our duty to praise the Lord in a spirit of humility and gratitude and to offer up to Him our most earnest supplications. That we may acknowledge our obligation as a people to Him who has so graciously granted us the blessings of free government and material prosperity, I, William McKinley, President of the United States, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the 25th day of November, for national thanksgiving and prayer, which all of the people are invited to observe with appropriate religious services in their respective places of worship.
"On this day of rejoicing and domestic reunion let our prayers ascend to the giver of every good and perfect gift for the continuance of His love and favor to us, that our hearts may be filled with charity and good will and that we may be ever worthy of His beneficent concern.
"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.
"Done at the city of Washington this twenty-ninth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-second.
"WILLIAM M'KINLEY.
"By the President:
"JOHN SHERMAN,
"Secretary of State."

HONOR TO A HEROINE.
Public Appearance of Senora Cisneros in New York City.
The popular reception to Miss Evangeline Cosio Cisneros, in Madison Square, New York, the other night, was an extraordinary demonstration. Fully 50,000 persons, probably one-third of them well dressed women, crowded the upper half of Madison Square park and filled Broadway and Fifth avenue and waited patiently for the congratulatory speeches to be finished and the Cuban heroine to appear.
J. Lincoln De Zayas was speaking when a carriage containing Miss Cosio and Carl Decker, her rescuer, appeared at the stand. Attired in white satin and enveloped in a large fur-caped cloak, the Cuban girl mounted the narrow steps to the platform, bowing and smiling to the people. Once on the platform, Mr. Decker led his charge down the aisle between the musicians to the front of the platform. Miss Cosio Cisneros' appearance was the signal for a tremendous demonstration by the crowd, which stretched out for 100 yards before her. The men yelled and waved their hats, the women waved their handkerchiefs and the band played a Cuban battle song. With a bouquet in her right hand and a pleased, but diffident expression on her face, Miss Cisneros bowed to her audience, and then turned to Mr. Decker, indicating that she wanted him to understand that the applause was as much for him as for her.
For several moments the two stood forth, while the cheering continued. Then Miss Cisneros was led back to the rear of the platform, where she bowed and smiled to the crowd on that side of the platform. Then she descended the steps to the carriage, which was driven around the square and back to Delmonico's, and the reception was continued. Previous to the appearance of Miss Cisneros on the platform there were a number of short speeches interspersed with selections by the band. Murat Halsted was chairman and introduced the speakers. United States Senator Thurston of Nebraska was the first speaker. He was very hoarse and could be heard for only a few feet away from the stand. Senator Thurston said it was the duty of our Government to grant belligerency to the Cubans.

"If I had my way," said he, "not only would the belligerency of Cuba be recognized, but I would send a battleship to anchor in Havana harbor in order to inspire with hope and courage those who are struggling for freedom."
Congressman Sulzer was the next speaker, and he was followed by Doctor De Zayas, who was the chosen representative of the Cuban colony in New York. He described the work being done by the Cuban army and scored Weyler. The crowd frequently applauded him. Among those present at the reception in Delmonico's were former Ambassador Rustis and wife, Col. Erben Allen and Charles Dana Gibson. Nearly every prominent member of the Cuban colony was present.
It is understood that Superintendent Duffield of the United States coast and geodetic survey will soon be asked to resign, and that it is probable that Edward S. Holden of the Lick observatory, California, or Prof. H. S. Pritchard of the Washington University at St. Louis will be appointed to the vacancy.
Among the passengers who arrived at San Francisco on the steamer Alameda upon her arrival from Sydney via Honolulu were Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson and her daughter, Mrs. Isabella Strong, from Apia, Samoa.

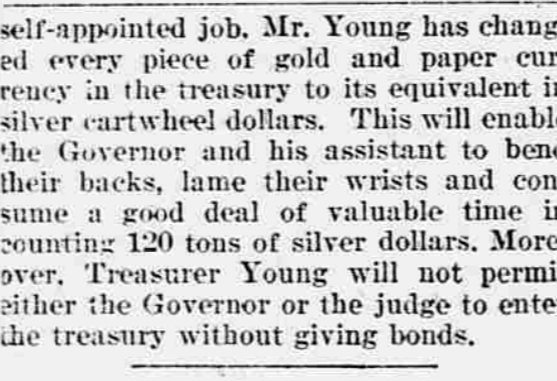

self-appointed job. Mr. Young has changed every piece of gold and paper currency in the treasury to its equivalent in silver cartwheel dollars. This will enable the Governor and his assistant to bend their backs, lame their wrists and consume a good deal of valuable time in counting 120 tons of silver dollars. Moreover, Treasurer Young will not permit either the Governor or the judge to enter the treasury without giving bonds.
Blanco says he will end the Cuban war in seven months. Weyler was going to do it in six.
Among recent incorporations in New York is "The Motherhood Company, Limited." Very.
Notwithstanding the reports from London, Salisbury probably will neither resign nor blow out the gas.
There is a rumor afloat that the Yerkes telescope is the finest one in the world; scientists ought to look into that.
"The Last Fly of Summer" is the title of a poem printed recently in a Maine paper. It is a very spectacular production.
The writer of an article in a current review who says that "there is no excitement in modern military life" evidently had not heard recently from Fort Sheridan.
A young woman in Brunswick, N. J., has just fallen heir to $25,000,000. The dispatches do not state whether she is beautiful or not, but she certainly has a magnificent figure.
We suggest that Gen. Weyler's hand baggage be searched before he leaves Cuba. Unless Spain adopts that precaution he will probably take his famous troucha away from the island.

DEATH OF HENRY GEORGE.
Noted Apostle of Single Tax Succumbs to Apoplexy.
Henry George, the apostle of single tax, died suddenly at 5 o'clock Friday morning in his room at the Union Square Hotel, New York City. Apoplexy was the cause. Mr. George made four speeches Thursday night in his campaign as candidate for Mayor of Greater New York, and was very fatigued when he retired. It is believed the sudden attack that ended his life was brought on by the unusually severe strain occasioned by his speech-making.
Henry George was the mayoralty candidate of the silver Democrats of Greater New York. He had made up to the night before his death a red hot campaign, in which he promised, if elected, to do his best to send Richard Croker to the penitentiary. To his denunciations of Croker he added denunciations of Senator Thomas C. Platt. He had entered the contest with great earnestness, and his campaign speeches throughout were marked with great fervor and earnestness. His exhaustive labors are thought to have led directly to his death.

Henry George was born in Philadelphia on Sept. 2, 1829, and as a boy went to California. He drifted into journalism in San Francisco and attained some celebrity as a writer on political theories. In 1879 he published Progress and Poverty, which acquired a world-wide reputation. In it he gave the result of his investigations among the poor of the great cities and his theories for reform. About the same time he first expressed his plan of taxing property on a single value—that is, taxing the land itself and not the improvements thereon. This was the origin of the single tax doctrine.
In 1880 he removed to New York. The following year he published a volume on Ireland and England. His publications of various theories on political economy made him one of the best known men in the country. In 1886 he was the candidate of the laboring element for Mayor of New York, but was defeated by Abram S. Hewitt by 22,000 votes. He led Theodore Roosevelt, the Republican nominee, by 8,000 votes. Ever since then Mr. George has been more or less identified with political movements.

PULLMAN'S WILL.
Palace Car Magnate Left Many Bequests to Charitable Institutions.
The will of the late George M. Pullman was filed in the probate court at Chicago the other day. Norman B. Ream and Robert T. Lincoln are named as executors, his wife not being appointed because of his wish to relieve her of the responsibilities of the position. The total value is shown by the petition for a letter of testamentary to be over $7,000,000. Of this amount, $6,800,000 is in personal property and $800,000 in realty. The bulk of the estate goes to the two daughters, Mrs. Frank O. Lowden of Chicago and Mrs. Frank O. Lowden of San Francisco, who received $1,000,000 each, and also a residuary estate. To his widow he left the homestead on Prairie avenue. She is also to receive $50,000 for the first year and thereafter during her life the income of $1,250,000.
"Castle Rest," on one of the Thousand Islands in the St. Lawrence river, is given to his daughter Florence (Mrs. Lowden), with the furniture, for life.
The eighth provision is as follows: "Inasmuch as neither of my sons has developed such a sense of responsibility as in my judgment is requisite to the wise use of large properties and considerable sums of money, I am painfully compelled, as I have explicitly stated to them, to limit my testamentary provisions for their benefit to trusts producing only such income as I have deemed reasonable for their support." Accordingly the bonds and other securities set aside yield each an annual income of $3,000.
"To Royal Henry Pullman, John M. Pullman, Helen Pullman West and Emma Pullman Pluhner, brothers and sisters of the deceased, is bequeathed the sum of $50,000 apiece. Thirteen Chicago charitable institutions receive $10,000. The sum of $200,000 is given for the erection of a manual training school in Pullman, which is also endowed with $1,200,000. Five of the old employes are given $5,000 each. The household servants get from $250 to $500 apiece. There are numerous other bequests to relatives ranging from $500 to $25,000.
GROVER, JR., IS BORN.
Fine Boy Comes to Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland at Princeton.
To Grover Cleveland came at noon Thursday a boy. He was born at Princeton, N. J., in the white mansion under the oaks in the room where the colonial mantel displays its pretty thin columnettes of an exquisite ancient art. The infant heir has blue eyes, hair that is like a mist and lungs that make his cries resound till his sister Marion rolls her eyes in amazement. He is strong and weighs twelve pounds. There is little else to say, since in him the father and the mother have their fondest wish realized.
Telegrams of congratulation were received without number. Among the first to proffer congratulations by wire were Joseph Jefferson, E. C. Benedict, Secretary Thurber and J. G. Carlisle.
Pigeons in the garret of the new cell house building at the penitentiary in Jefferson City, Mo., made an unnatural noise early on a recent morning. Night Guard Gordon, growing suspicious, investigated the cause of the commotion and discovered a convict in the act of lowering himself to the ground with a blanket rope. Three other convicts were found in the garret ready to follow. Their presence had alarmed the pigeons.
At Mandan, N. D., Andrew Johnson and Oscar Peterson were drowned in the Missouri while hunting.

PULSE of the PRESS

The Luetgert Trial.
The Luetgert jury wisely refused to establish a precedent for hanging men on expert testimony.—Milwaukee Sentinel.
Mr. Luetgert's lawyers will probably be unanimous enough to refrain from instigating proceedings against the court and prosecution officers.—New York Journal.
The disagreement of the jury was an expected outcome of this sensational case. The evidence was altogether too circumstantial to make an easy finding possible.—Boston Herald.
The Luetgert trial should be a warning lest its laxity and irregularities are followed in other cases until the administration of justice in the United States shall fall into utter contempt.—Boston Transcript.
There has never been a more conspicuous and disgusting exhibition of judicial unfairness and professional triviality in the United States than the Luetgert trial, and that is saying a great deal.—Indianapolis Journal.
The failure of the jury in the Luetgert murder case to find a verdict is not surprising to anybody in this part of the country. There is actually matter for surprise that an acquittal was not entered.—New Orleans Picayune.
The result is only a repetition of the experience that the courts in all countries, and particularly in the United States, have had where expert testimony is introduced to establish the prosecution or support the defense.—Philadelphia Times.
At present whatever may be the instinctive feeling regarding the guilt or innocence of the big sausage maker, impartial judgment can hardly be otherwise than that his guilt was not proven beyond the shadow of a reasonable doubt.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
In the looseness of proceeding, the lack of intelligent and strict direction of the work and the haphazard method of securing expert testimony, the Luetgert trial gave peculiar emphasis to the faults of practice in criminal trials.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.
The result of the Luetgert trial is what was generally expected. In a case of this kind men hesitate a long while before sending one of their fellows to the gallows on purely circumstantial evidence supported wholly by expert testimony that the layman cannot understand.—St. Louis Republic.
The three dissenting jurors are not without justification for their action. In the absence of positive proof that Mrs. Luetgert was really killed, it seems to us unnecessary to advance any discreditable theory of their pertinacious refusal to condemn Luetgert to the gallows.—Rochester (N. Y.) Herald.
