ROBERT GOOD, Editor and Publisher

Official Paper of Cherry County, Nebraska. $1.00 Per Year in Advance

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Entered at the Post-office at Valentine, Cherry county, Nebraska, as Second-class matter.

This paper will be maded regularly to its subscribers until a definite order to discontinue is received and all ar rears are paid in full.

The leading article in one of our exchanges down the road last week was six lines long, and our proof reader counted seventeen errors therein. It was a war article and needless to say was a "corker."

Manager Bidwell, of the Elkhorn, is taking hold of the potato question with in their work. both hands. He says that only 140 cars of potatoes were shipped from this section of the state last year, and says he sees no reason why this number should not be raised to 14,000 cars. Greeley, Cel., ships a train load of potatoes daily, yet we raise better potatoes than does Greeley.

between the editors of the VALEN Regiment, N. N. G., passed through TIME DEMOCRAT and News. Editor Good has issued his ultimatum and if the News man does not accede to his terms for peace by noon on the 21st. the captain's shoulder straps, two bars, inst., war will be declared, and a wail we found no fault with them. Stanwill go up that will find a response in Gordon. We admonish our brother to be Good and cease trying to strew his path with Thorns .- Gordon Journal.

The Rev. Sam Jones, the Georgia evangelist, was holding a series of meetings at a church whose pastor was noted for his lack of good looks. One evening at a revival service, as he strike a lady with a base ball. If was talking about the sin of hypocrisy and and duplicity, he-in a sudden gleam of characteristic humor--turned round to the pastor, sitting in the pulpit behind him, and said, amid a whirlwind of laughter:

"Well, John, your congregation can never accuse you of being a two-faced man, can they? For the Lord knows that if you had another face you'd wear it, wouldn't you?"-May Ladies' Home Journal.

Dissecting Table

There are whole-souled men, smallsouled men, and no-souled men. Among the latter may be classed the men of whom this article treats.

Some time age one of our most prominent young men told us this story, or one substantially the same: He had occasion to enter one of our smaller business houses a short time ago, but upon trying the door found it locked. Hearing voices inside he demanded admittance. On entering he discovered three boys, aged 12 to 15 years, and the proprietor of the place. On the table was a deck of cards, and covered by a paper was a small pile of nickles and pennies. We will go no further; the reader can draw his own week con clusions.

There is another place in town where a dice game is run for a nickle a shot, and young boys are the victims. This is done in a most brazen manner, but if a stranger or older person steps inside, no "coin" will be seen, and the proprietor will probably remark that they are "shaking for fun." This joint is under observation, and when positive evidence is obtained the boss will probably be taught a lesson in American government that will make his teeth chatter. These "men" deserve the contempt of every citizen, but we are sorry to say that the contempt of honest people will have no more effect upon them than will water on a duck. When they stoop to robbing the poor, innocent boys who think they are smart when they learn to play poker, shoot the dice and smoke cigarettes, they show themselves devoid of principles of honor, or honesty, and become fit subjects for the pen of Brann. It is things of this kind that make criminals of our youths.

i Mother, watch that boy!
