PH YOUP Finger on Your Puse

You feel the blood rushing But what kind of blood? That is the question.
Is it pure blood or impure

If the blood is impure then you are weak and languid: your appetite is poor and your digestion is weak. You cannot sleep well and the morning finds you unprepared for the work of the day. Your cheeks are pale and your com-plexion is sallew. You are troubled with pimples, boils, or some eruption of the skin. Why not purify your blood?

will do it. Take it a few days and then put your finger on your pulse again. You can feel the difference. It is stronger and your circulation better. Send for our book on Impure Blood.

If you are bilious, take Ayer's Pills. They greatly aid the Sarsaparilla, They cure constipation also.

Write to our Doctors. Write them freely all the particulars in your case. You will receive a prompt reply, without sost.

Mural Decorations. Probably at no time in the world's history has as much attention been paid to the interior decoration of homes as at present. No home, no matter how humble, is without its handiwork that helps to beautify the apartments and make the surroundings more cheerful. The taste of the American people has kept pace with the age, and almost every day brings forth something new in the way of a pic ture, a draping, a piece of furniture of other form of mural decoration. One of the latest of these has been given to the world by the celebrated artist, Muville, in a series of four handsome porcelain game plaques. Not for years has anything as handsome in this line been seen, The subjects represented by these plaques are American wild ducks, American pheasant, American quail and English snipe. They are handsome paintings and ing room walls, though their richness and beauty entitles them to a place in the parlor of any home. These original plaques have been purchased at a cost of $50,000 by J. C. Hubinger Bros. Co., man ufgernrers of the celebrated Elastic Starch, and in order to enable their numerous customers to become possessors of these handsome works of art they have had them reproduced by a special process in all the rich colors and beauty of the original. They are finished on heavy cardboard, pressed and embossed in the shape of a plaque and trimmed with : heavy band of gold. They measure forty inches in circumference and contain no reading matter or advertisement what Until Sept. 1 Messrs, J. C. Hubinger Bros. Co., propose to distribute these plaques free to their customers. Every purchaser of three ten-cent packages of Elastic Starch, flatiron brand, manufactured by J. C. Hubinger Bros. Co., is en titled to receive one of these handsome plaques free from their grocer. Old and new customers alike are entitled to the benefits of this offer. These plaques will not be sent through the mail, the only way to obtain them being from your grocer. Every grocery store in the country has Elastic Starch for sale. It is the oldest and best laundry starch on the market and is the most perfect cold process starch ever invented. It is the only starch made by men who thoroughly understand the laundry business, and the only starch that will not injure the finest fabric. It has been the standard for a quarter of a century and as an evidence of how good it is twenty-two million packages were sold last year. Ask your dealer to show you the plaques and tell you about Elastic Starch. Accept no substitute. Bear in mind that this offer holds good a short time only and should be taken advantage of without delay

Alas and alas for my bad little boy! It happened one summer day That the light went out of the tired eyes

And the little feet lagged on the way. And just as the sun was going down To his kingdom under the sea, The angels came for my bad little boy And took him away from me.

There is quiet now when I want to write, There is never a toy on the floor. Nobody teases the cross old cat. Nobody pounds on the door.

Nobody spills my ink; I have plenty of time to read and work, I have too much time to think,

Nobody loses or breaks my pens, his eyes and a curse on his lips. His family was in too great disfavor for him to care to mingle in a crowd of loyal citizens.

Tom Reilley, although a new recruit, was winning the approbation of the officers by his military bearing and the skill with which he executed the maneuvers of the drill, but his heart was heavy, for to him enlisting had meant more than the mere facing of danger. It meant relinquishing the last hope of winning the beautiful Spanish girl whom he loved.

Suddenly he looked up and met Chancita's gaze. Surely there was no anger there. Admiration shone in her eyes, and there was a wistful look in the drooping corners of her scarlet lips. Never had he seen her face so soft and tender. Forgotful of military discipline, Tom would have left the ranks and gone to her but for the sharp reprimand of the Captain, which recalled him to his duty.

However, the drill was soon over, and Chancita, womanly wise, lingered.

Walking home under the shadowy trees, Tom carried his first assault against the Spanish. Never was an attack more sudden nor a surrender more complete. What was said is a secret between them and the stars, but Chancita found herself a prisoner within the barricade of his arms.

"And the banns shall be published next Sunday," declared Tom, triumphantly.

"Why such haste?" "That I may have a wife to look after my interests at home," said Tom, gazing tenderly at the sweet face resting against his shoulder.

And Chancita, smiling contentedly back at him, consented .- Boston Post,

AN ISOLATED RACE. Ainos of Japan, Who Had Never Seen a Foreigner.

Mrs. Mabel Loomis Todd writes for the Century, from personal observation, an article entitled "In Aino Land." Mrs. Todd says: In the summer of 1896, as a lay member of the Amherst College expedition which visited northern Japan to view the total eclipse of the sun, I had the rare opportunity of seeing the absolutely primitive "hairy Aino" of that region. In the southern portion of the island, near Hakodate and Sapporo, and about Volcano Bay, travelers have visited these shy and silent people. But several hundred miles north are many Ainos who, until the summer of 1896, were strangers to the members of any race but their own or the few Japanese who are establishing small fishing villages along the coast.
