hospital for a week or ten days receiving treatment for blood poisoning in her hand. She has had a serious time of it but at this writing is recovering rapidly.

Mrs. Lavona Smith, of south of Cody, made final proof on her homestead, Tuesday. As a pointer regarding land values in this county we are informed that she has leased the place for five years for $1,250. The richest parts of the state can hardly equal this.

Alexander Gillaspie and family, of Curtis, Arkansas, came to Cherry county Sunday with his brother Jim, and Tuesday went out to the Gillaspie ranch. This is "Zan's" first trip to the west, but as he is a Gillaspie we do not hesitate in saying that Cherry county has gained another good citizen.

The Atkinson & Northern railroad seems to be an assured fact. Leaving the F. E. at Atkinson the road runs north to the new town of Thorn, thence to Angora, then on and across the river to Perry, in Boyd county.
The entire length of the road is about 30 miles, and the promoters see millions in sight.

Joe Desert and Wm. Harnan left Monday evening for Rock county, where the former has purchased a ranch, on the Gracie. We had hoped Joe would decide to locate permanently in this county, but since it was not to be congratulate Rock county on her acquisition. Joe says he will raise cattle hereafter, instead of sheep.

According to senate file No. 133, approved April 4, at the next village election we will have to elect three trustees to serve two years and two to serve one year. Thereafter trustees shall be elected to serve two years. This is a good idea, and prevents a general overturning of the board in one year.

The imperialistic press generally represent the populists as being devoid of patriotism, but conclusive evidence to the contrary was shown in this city last Thursday afternoon.
J. S. Estabrook, popocratic surveyor for Cherry county, risked his life for his country's flag. He climbed the tail flagstaff opposite this office and roye the halyards for Old Glory, which had broken.

Geo. L. Coleman, one of Cherry county's rising stockmen called at these headquarters Tuesday and chatted for a time on affairs in the country between the Snake and Niobrara.
Mr. Coleman says everybody has a hobby, and his is the saving of calves. He challenges anyone in the county to show a better record in this respect than he has, and says he proceeds upon a system. During calving time he visits his cows once every three hours, at 9, 12, 3 and 6 o'clock.
By this method he saves nearly everyone of his calves.

In the contest case of Davison vs Toliver the court found as follows:
In Pine precinct Miss Davison got 99 votes instead of 97 as returned, and Toliver got 40 instead of 41. Edward Jay, thrown out because under age.
Jake Elk, non compos mentis. P. J.
Murphy, Clate Potter and Malaski, lack of residence. These when properly canvassed and returned gave Toliver 32 and Miss Davison 335, a majority of three.—Longpine Journal

Someone poisoned Dr. Nicholson's stag hound, "Klondike," last Monday.
What makes the act more exasperat-ing is the leaving of some ten young hounds, scarcely old enough to exist.

Bob Good, of Valentine, threatens ments in his NEWS-DEMOCRAT. But Bob will have to get a hustle on himself to improve his already excellent
