Tyranny.

"Is fashion a tyrant?" she repeated.

"Well, I should say so. Why, I shouldn't be a bit surprised if good health were to come into vogue, and if it does, everybody who proposes to be an fait will simply be compelled to eat wholesome food! Oh, a perfect tyrant!"—Detroit Journal.

STATE OF NEBRASKA

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN A CONDENSED FORM.

Revolver and Pitchfork Used in an Affray Near Coleridge—After Being Twice Shot John Hentz Uses a Pitchfork on Philbrick.

A shooting affray took place on the 20th inst. about a mile from Coleridge, which may probably prove fatal to one of two persons, if not both. John Hentz went to a farm rented by a man named Philbrick to get some straw, which he said he owned. Philbrick refused him the straw and threatened to shoot if he persisted in remaining about.

Hentz said he would not be bluffed. Philbrick drew a revolver and shot several times. Hentz was wounded twice in the shoulder, whereupon he took a pitchfork and knocked Philbrick down and beat him into a state of unconsciousness. Hentz then fainted.

The wounded man was taken to town, where the bullets were extracted. The other man is said to be in a critical condition. The sheriff went to Coleridge and placed both of the participants under arrest.

CORNELL SUSTAINED.

Supreme Court Declares Insurance Law Unconstitutional.

The supreme court, in an opinion rendered last week by Chief Justice Norval, declares unconstitutional the law enacted by the last legislature making many changes in the conduct of the insurance business of the state and transferring the department from the auditor to the governor.

The supreme court reversed and remanded the verdict of the district court of Omaha against the bondsmen of ex-State Treasurer Joseph Bartley, wherein $600,000 is at stake.

The verdict in the district court of Omaha favorable to the Omaha National Bank and against the state, being another feature of the Bartley defalcation, with $200,000 involved, is also reversed and remanded.

Bartley is at present serving a twenty-year sentence in the penitentiary.

MINISTERS ESCAPE JAIL.

Attorney Secures Supersedeas for Omaha Clergymen.

Revs. J. T. Mackay and J. C. Herrig, who were held in contempt by Judge Scott of Omaha and refused a new trial, will not have to go to jail, as threatened by the judge. Their attorney appeared before the supreme court at Lincoln and secured a writ of supersedeas, which admits the defendants to bail. Bond is fixed at $500 each which was immediately arranged for. It will probably be several months before the case comes on for hearing. Meantime Judge Scott will step down from the bench, his term expiring Jan. 1. The judge took a parting shot at the ministers, saying, "The pulpit of Omaha are covered with a thin veneer, and that is not religion, but hypocrisy."

Killed His Brother.

A 4-year-old son of William Cruise, who lives east of St. Edward, was shot and killed by his 5-year-old brother a few days since. Mrs. Cruise had loaded the gun and placed it under the bed. Her husband was absent during the night. The boy got up in the morning while his mother was busy preparing breakfast and pulled the gun out from under the bed and handed it to his brother, who was still in bed, telling him to play he was a soldier and snap it, which he did. The contents entered the boy's head just above the right eye. Medical aid was summoned, but he died in a short time.

Pro-Boer Resolutions.

A mass meeting held in Lincoln to express sympathy with the Boers was largely attended by state and county officials and pastors of the city churches. Resolutions commending the cause of the South African republics and condemning oppression were adopted. Gov. Poynter was one of the vice presidents and John P. Sutton, former Secretary of the Irish National League of America, took a leading part.

Dorsey Case Submitted.

The appeal of Frank Dorsey, convicted at Omaha of bank wrecking, was argued and submitted before the United States court of appeals at St. Louis last week. Owing to the immense amount of business before the court and the fact that little will be done during the holidays, it will be about six weeks before a decision is rendered.

John M. Meddins, formerly a well-known politician of Lancaster County, was declared insane last week in New York City. He is the man who was taken into custody because of his peculiar actions. He claimed to have run against W. J. Bryan for congress.

Stock Breeders and Cattle Men.

The improved stock breeders of Nebraska together with leading men of Missouri, Kansas and Iowa, held a two days' session in Lincoln last week. Associated with the stockmen, but holding independent meetings, were the Jersey cattle breeders and sheep men.

Boy Dies of Dropsy.

Killed in Waterwheel.

G. Quinton was instantly killed at the Arcadia roller mills. He was caught in the waterwheel. He had been in the employ of the mill for several years. At the time he was cutting the ice away from the wheel.

Collins Pleads Not Guilty.

Thomas Collins, who shot and killed Charles R. Grove, familiarly known as "Shorty," was arraigned in Omaha a few days ago and entered a plea of not guilty.

Serious Accidents.

A 12-year-old son of Henry Beckman, living north of Hartington, had an arm accidentally shot off in getting off a load of hay. The gun was discharged and tore the right arm off the boy's body. The arm was amputated. Charles Goeden had his right hand caught in a corn sheller and lascerated so badly it had to be amputated.

Church Dedicated.

The new Presbyterian Church at St. James was dedicated Dec. 17 with imposing ceremonies. This is one of the finest churches in the county.

SELL LIQUOR TO INDIANS.

Reports Reach U. S. Marshal that Bootleggers Are Numerous.

Reports have reached the office of United States Marshal Mathews in Omaha that the Omaha and Winnebago Reservations in Thurston County are being overrun by "bootleggers" who are constantly selling liquor to Indians. United States Commissioner Sloan of Pender writes that these dealers in liquor are swarming over the reservations, many of them coming from Dakota City. He says that their favorite haunt is at Homer, from which point they work in all directions. Scores of the Indians are constantly in a state of intoxication and fights and drunken rows are of frequent occurrence. He adds that in one of these rows two Indians were nearly killed.

Prior to the time of the abolishment of the office of field deputy in connection with the marshal's office Deputy Allen was stationed at Pender and whenever he heard of a bootlegger being on either of the reservations he promptly arrested and jailed him, and his stock of liquor has been taken away. Since the abolishment of the office referred to no deputies have been stationed on the reservations and the bootleggers have come in from all the surrounding towns. The favorite method has been for a man to enter the reservation with a load of liquor in pint and half-pint bottles. With this he travels past the residences of the Indians and parcels out his goods, receiving fabulous prices. Complaints are filed, but before an officer can go from Omaha to the reservation the liquor sellers have departed and so far it has been impossible to catch them.

Government to Reinter Bodies.

The war department has informed Adjutant General Barry of this state that a corps of undertakers left San Francisco Oct. 25 for the purpose of locating, disinterring and shipping to their country the remains of all soldiers buried in the Philippines and at Honolulu. It is intended to complete the work by the close of winter. Applicants for remains will be notified by telegraph from San Francisco when the bodies are received there and will be shipped to the destinations requested at the expense of the government. Unclaimed bodies will be buried at the Presidio.

Tar and Feathers for St. Peter.

A man who gave his name as St. Peter, and who was at work on the new courthouse at Auburn, was arrested a few days ago for undue exposure of his person. After lying in jail for several days he was released, only to resume the same pleasantries. Thursday night last a body of indignant citizens treated him to a dose of tar and feathers and notified him that if the offense was repeated he would be treated still more roughly. He has left town.

Exposure Prevents Swindles.

Lawyers in Polk County have been receiving circulars from a realty corporation of Newark, N. J., offering to loan money at 6 per cent. The manager, O. W. Roper, has now been placed under arrest in New York. The first thing asked for after application for a loan was $10 to pay for making the necessary inquiries. The exposure of the firm's methods prevented numerous deals being made.

Fortune Awaits Mrs. Ida Lebo.

A search is being made at Laramie for a woman named Mrs. Ida Lebo. A letter was received in that city from I. S. Meyers of Hendley, this state, a few days ago saying that a large fortune was recently left to Mrs. Lebo by the death of a relative and the other heirs are anxious to find her.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y.

The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation.

With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.

Great Russian Tea Caravans.

During the first twenty days of January last 19,000 sleighs laden with tea passed through the city of Tomsk. The ordinary size of these tea caravans is from fifty to seventy sleighs, though sometimes from 200 to 300 are included in one caravan. The average load is five bales, each weighing from seventy to 120 pounds.

Five sledges are fastened together, drawn by one horse, and one man attends to the detachment. To the rear sledge of each group are tied a bundle of hay and a measure of oats, so that the horses may feed during the march. This facilitates progress, for the caravan does not need to halt for the purpose of baiting the horses. As the horse in front, however, does not have anything to eat before him his place in the caravan must be changed occasionally to give him an opportunity to eat his lunch.

The caravans travel night and day. The only halts during the twenty-four hours are in the villages where the weary horses are exchanged for fresh animals. The drivers sleep on the sledges while traveling, in spite of the severe cold.—Tomsk Siberian Latest News.

A MOTHER'S MERCY

Always Anxious to Save the Little Ones from Suffering.

Lack of Proper Care in Childhood Lays the Foundation for Habitual Constipation, Causing Lifelong Suffering.

Nothing so sweet and touching as a mother's care for her little ones.

What a tender, watchful eye her anxiety keeps on the young hopefuls.

In the young nearly all ailments are directly traceable to stomach and bowel complaints.

Physic and purges are the most common and most dangerous of all medicines. Nearly all contain opiates or mercurial and other mineral poisons, which permanently affect the tender bones and tissues of the child.

The only proper laxative for a child is a gentle, positive vegetable liver stimulant, like Cascarets Candy Cathartic. For the babe-in-arms the mother eats a Cascaret. It makes her milk mildly purgative, and benefits the baby. Older children eat a piece of a Cascaret like candy. They taste good, make the liver lively, prevent sour stomach, purify the blood, and regulate the bowels perfectly.

Go buy and try Cascarets to-day. It's what they do, not what we say they do, that proves their merit. All druggists, 10c, 25c, or 50c, or mailed for price. Send for booklet and free sample. Address Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago; Montreal, Can.; or New York.

CCC This is the CASCARET tablet. Every tablet of the only genuine Cascarets bears the magic letters "CCC." Look at the tablet before you buy, and beware of frauds, imitations and substitutes.

FAMILY WITH SIX TOES.

Singular Malformation Which Appears to Be Hereditary.

"Down in Kimble County, Texas," said a visitor from the lone star State, "is a remarkable six-toed family, about whom, as far as I know, nothing has ever been told in print. Their name is Higgins and the family is composed at present of a grandfather (who must be over 90), four middle-aged sons and a drove of grandchildren, numbering twenty-five or thirty.

"Old man Higgins, who is called 'Mexican Bill' for some reason I was never able to learn, has six toes on each foot and his wife, who is now dead, was equally well provided. They were cousins and all their sons have six toes except one, whose feet turned in noticeably at the ankle, but are otherwise normal. All the grandchildren have at least six toes and several of them have seven, the extra one in each case being more or less rudimentary and not developed like the others. I can vouch for this personally, as I have seen the whole tribe on a number of different occasions, and in summer time they generally run around barefooted. 'The Sixtoe Higginses' is the name the family is known by among all the neighbors. Old Mexican Bill has told me that his parents were both six-toed and that the same peculiarity existed among his relatives as far back as he knew anything about."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Valued as a Vegetable.

When the dahlia was first introduced it was as a vegetable. The plant is said to be really akin to the potato, and it was thought that it would prove an important addition to the food resources of Europe. It came from Madrid, the Spaniards having, it is believed, found it first in Mexico, and it was introduced into France as well as England. A few daring adventurers appear to have made a trial of it as an edible root, but it is never an easy matter to popularize a new article of food, and the tuber of the dahlia did not take on. If it had done so the probability is that we should never have troubled much about its cultivation as a flower. The double dahlia was a later product than the single, and for many years almost entirely superseded the simpler flower, which not many summers ago came into vogue again with the interest of a new discovery. To a considerable extent they have gone out again now, and the double one is again to the front in popular favor.

Remarkable Cases of Salvage.

A remarkable case of salvage is that of the steamship Milwaukee, which last autumn went ashore at Port Errol, near Peterhead. Finding it impossible to float her, as a large part of her fore end was inextricably jammed, she was cut in two with belts of dynamite cartridges. The after part, extending from just before the forward end of the navigating bridge, was towed to the Tyne and moored in that river until a new bow end was built, launched, and made ready for connection to it. It is remarkable that this part of the vessel was towed with the bulkhead end foremost, and that the tugboats were assisted by the ship's own engines. The repairers were so successful in their attempt to dry dock that the two pieces were in correct relative positions, and but little subsequent adjustment was found necessary. A stranger would never suppose he was not looking at the original bow, and would find it impossible to point out where the junction was effected. In point of fact, the Milwaukee is now as perfect and as strong as ever she was.
