VALENTINE, NEBRASKA, SEPTEMBER 27, 1900.

NUMBER 36

Our New FALL STOCK Is Attracting Much Attention

And it deserves to, for certainly it is not only the largest and best that we have ever shown, but also superior to any other in this locality. No city dealer will show better styles in fine Dry Goods or quote lower prices. Our steadily increasing business has been obtained by meeting both local and outside competition with better goods and lower prices than could be found elsewhere. We always invite inspection and comparison, and in every instance can offer good inducements to trade here.

DAN LUDWIG IS DEAD.

Passes Away After a Brief Illness—Funeral Tomorrow.

DIED—On Tuesday, Sept. 25, 1900—D. S. LUDWIG, aged 42 years, 8 months and 7 days. Cause of death, nephritis.

It will be a shock to the many friends and business acquaintances of Dan Ludwig to hear of his death which occurred between 6 and 7 o'clock a. m. on the date mentioned above.

Dan, as he was familiarly called by his friends and acquaintances, was taken sick last Saturday morning, and grew steadily worse until Tuesday morning, when death came to his relief. Everything possible was done to save his life, but all to no avail. The immediate cause of death was nephritis.

Dan was a popular man and many expressions of sorrow are heard over his untimely death.

D. S. Ludwig was born in Carey, O., and was the son of Jacob Ludwig. Deceased came to Valentine in October, 1890, and engaged in the lumber and grain business with his father, who died about seven years ago, since which time Dan has conducted the business. He was considered one of the wealthiest men in the town and was a thorough business man.

The nearest relatives of the deceased are a stepmother and a sister, Mrs. Levi Sparks of Cody.

The dead man was a member of the I. O. O. F., K. of P. and Redmen lodges of this town.

The funeral services will be held in the M. E. Church tomorrow at 2.30 p. m., and will be in charge of the I. O. O. F. Interment will take place in the cemetery west of town.

R. S. DENNIS
Valentine, Nebraska. All work well done.

It is with deep regret that we learn of the death, last week, of the esteemed wife of Bro. Burleigh, of the Ainsworth Star-Journal. Mrs. Burleigh was stricken with typhoid fever at the home of her parents in Denver, Colo., whither she had gone a short time ago. The bereaved husband departed for Denver immediately on receipt of the sad news. Bro. Burleigh, we extend to you our profound sympathy in this the greatest loss that can fall to any man—the death of a true and loving wife.

J. M. Morrison of Valentine has leased the Jarchow hotel and opened the same to the public last week.

Mr. Morrison has had considerable experience in the hotel and restaurant business and has a large acquaintanceship on the Reservation. His card appears in this issue.—Gordon Journal.

An editor down at Wayne is said to have been dismissed from church for singing in a loud voice during the singing of a familiar hymn the following revised words: "Let every kindred, every tribe on this terrestrial ball, put down his dollars and subscribe and we'll receipt for all."—Ainsworth Herald.
