

THE VALENTINE DEMOCRAT.

VOLUME XV

VALENTINE, NEBRASKA, JANUARY 10, 1901.

NUMBER 51

We are after a Record—It will Pay you to Help us

We are not ashamed to take you into our confidence—in fact are glad of this opportunity to own up just what we are trying to do. It's just this way. January as a rule is a dull month. Every year we endeavor to make it a busy month by attractive sales in all departments. Never since we have been in the business have we failed to show an increase of January sales each year. We don't want to fail now, and that accounts for such prices as these. If you see a thing here that you need, there isn't the least doubt that we can save you money on it:

100 lb Granulated Sugar	$6.60
20 lb of Prunes	1.00
1 gallon can Peaches	.50
1 " " Syrup	.40

THE RED FRONT

TALK OF THE TOWN.

Rice writes insurance.
E. E. Sparks is at home this week.
Dr. Holsclaw has moved his office to Merriman.
Dave Hanna, of Woodlake, spent Monday in town.
J. G. Stetter spent Sunday in town with his family.
W. G. Ballard was in the city Monday on business.
Good horse and saddle for sale. Robert McQuade. tf
C. P. Jordan was in town from Rosebud, Tuesday.
Claud Reece is once more out among the people.
Several fresh milk cows for sale. Inquire at this office. 51tf
Pettycrow has the biggest and best line of mittens and gloves.
Gus Gunderson came in from Cody on business, Tuesday morning.
Inez Pettycrow went to Georgia, Monday morning to teach school.
Charley Rider, of Rosebud, spent a couple of days in town this week.
C. L. Nicklin, the Cody merchant, visited the county seat, Tuesday.
E. J. DeBell, Rosebud's popular merchant, spent Tuesday in town.
Jim Ray has commenced harvesting ice, and is employing about a dozen men.
Bob Bruce and Manly Wyman were up from Woodlake on business, last Friday.
Andrew Schatzthauer becomes a patron of our advertising columns this week.
We will club this paper with the Twentieth Century Farmer for $1.50 a year in advance.
W. A. Bonser came over from Rosebud, Tuesday afternoon, to attend the Masonic lodge.
Frank Hook came down from Cody, Monday evening, and spent a day or two with the boys in town.
Three good rooms to rent over THE DEMOCRAT office. Suitable for small family. Inquire I. M. Rice.
W. E. Brown returned from Gordon where he had been doing a job of painting, Tuesday morning.
This paper and the weekly edition of the World-Herald will be sent to any address one year for $1.65.
S. K. Hull, of Hot Springs, who had been visiting with his sister, Mrs. R. A. Marroll, returned home, Tuesday night.
Have you seen those fine pictures and frames in R. Anderson's window? They go at $2.00 each during holiday trade. 48
Ed Shackleton, formerly of Sparks, who went to Canada with the crowd last spring, returned to Cherry county Tuesday morning.
Jesse Reubideoux drank a lot of wood alcohol, New Years night, on the reservation, and died from the effect thereof shortly after.
Bryan's paper, The Commoner, will appear about January 20th. The Commoner and this paper will be sent to any address one year for $1.75.
Fred Vincent the affable young "extra" agent of the F. E., came down from Gordon, Tuesday morning, to visit with his parents for a week or two.
There have been at least five cases of smallpox (?) in Crawford, but the papers published in that burg say these are all nearly well and no new cases have developed.
In order to keep out of trouble, sportsmen should remember that it is now against the law to shoot quail or prairie chicken; the "open season" having come to a close on January 1.
Gene Thompson and June Bassett, of Norden, were married at Springfield, on Friday, Nov. 27th. Both are well known here, the bride being the daughter of Rev. Bassett, who at one time filled the pulpit of the Presbyterian church in this place.
Pete DeCory, the widely known horse man from Rosebud, came over on a business trip, Monday evening. Pete is gradually closing out his bunch of horses, having sold over 400 head during the last eighteen months. He says the range is cut up too much for his business, and will henceforth give more attention to other lines.
Better pay your taxes now because distress warrants will be served again about the first of February.
Buy a Woodmanse windmill, guaranteed for five years, all repairs furnished free of charge. For sale by R. ANDERSON. 35-tf.
Conductor J. B. Leader lost his fine bird dog Tuesday night, the result of an air gun in the hands of a careless boy.—Chadron Journal.
Jim Hudson and Newt Grooms were visitors from Sparks, Tuesday. Newt has trimmed his whiskers in such shape that he makes a fair imitation of Uncle Sam.
J. H. Quigley returned Friday night from Lincoln, where he had been on business as state brand commissioner. Gov. Dietrich will not make appointments to succeed the present commission for some time to come.
We offer space on last page of THE DEMOCRAT among stock brands to our advertisers. 6 inch double column or more will be given exclusive right among stock brands if desired. Also space on 5th page for sale.
J. A. Sparks returned last Thursday night from Omaha. Mrs. Sparks has practically recovered from the effects of the operation which she underwent in Omaha, and is now visiting with her relatives in St. Joe, Mo.
Ed Parry, accompanied by his wife and sister-in-law, came down from Gordon, Sunday morning. Ed returned on the midnight passenger, and the ladies will visit relatives and friends in Valentine and vicinity this week.
G. W. Roan, who is establishing a nice ranch southwest of Woodlake, paid this office a friendly call the first of the week. He went to Pierce county, Tuesday morning, to see about some property he owns down there.
County Treasurer Thackrey has rearranged the interior of his office so that he now has more room, and at the same time gives his visitors space in which to turn around. The entrance is now one door west of the old entrance.
Wm. Yancey, the young man who has charge of the financial end and is chief rustler for the Cody Cow Boy, spent Friday and Saturday in town. He is a very enterprising young man, and the Cow Boy is fortunate in having secured his services.
E. J. Davenport returned Sunday night from Lincoln, where he had been assisting in the inauguration of Gov. Dietrich. He describes the reception and attendant ball as being very gorgeous affairs, well befitting the inauguration of a governor with military and imperialistic ideas.
Dave George appeared before the county judge on Monday charged with assault upon Frank Janies with intent to kill, waived examination and was bound over to the district in the sum of $1,000, which bond he furnished. Janies is rapidly recovering from his wound.
Dan Handy returned Sunday morning from Lead, where he had been all week, attending a trial in which his brother Al sued a physician for malpractice which resulted in the partial loss of his sense of sight. The suit was brought for $10,000 damages and a verdict secured for $1,900.
Through one of those unaccountable lapses of memory which sometimes occur to a newspaper man, we neglected last week to mention the fact that E. E. Thorn had sold his blacksmith shop to E. Breuklander, in order to give his attention more fully to selling the Great American Gate.
The small pox has abated at Valentine. Every quarantine has been raised and people now come and go with no fear of the disease. There is absolutely no danger in Valentine now, unless the newspapers "break out" again and necessitate being "re-vaccinated." The indications now are that the last dose of virus "took." We have always maintained that next to Gordon, Valentine was the best town on the line, and her people the most generous and liberal hearted, and it was for that reason that the town was honored by being given a second meeting of the E. V. E. A. next June, when all the boys will be there and participate in the love feast. All our petty bickerings and animosities will be buried for the time being.—Gordon Journal.
