Snow-Pound—Miss Ora Britain, at her home-stead near Arabia, from Saturday until Tuesday, also.—School-teachers at Valentine, —Misses Thackrey, Pettcrew, Thorn, Morgareidge and probably others.

Crowded out last week. Martin Christensen, the painter, Rasmus Anderson, the hardware merchant, and Chris Elling, the vegetable man went out to the lakes last week for a hunt returning Monday evening. They got some game, had a good time but didn't have their skates, so couldn't make use of part of the weather.

Cody Cow Boy.—Our Merriman correspondent in last week's issue mentioned the number of Louis Cottier, at his home on the reservation north of Merriman. We have since learned that the murderer was Bill Day, a full blood Indian, and that following the commission of his crime, he took his own life, by means of an overdose of cold lead, on last Thursday morning about 49 miles north of the scene of the murder, on Potato creek. From parties who claim to be intimately acquainted with the circumstances and cause of the commission of the crime, we learn that it may be charged to man's weakness for woman, and reads as follows: Louis Cottier was a mixed blood. His father was a Swiss and his mother was a half-breed Indian. He was married; was a shrewd stock dealer, and bore the reputation of being "square;" was well liked by those who knew him. Bill Day was a full blood Indian. He also was married and had a family, but sometime since became intimate with an Indian woman other than his wife. This woman had also fastened her captivating influence about Louis Cottier and therefore Bill Day put on the "green goggles" and looked up his rival with envy, while at the same time he maintained friendly relations with him. On Tuesday, Day went to the house of Cottier and by mutual arrangement Day took Cottier's buggy leaving his own wagon, and went to Merriman and returned later in the day, well loaded with booze. He had plenty in his person and also a supply about his person. He had evidently secured this booze for his nerves to put himself in condition to commit the deed, and shoot Cottier with, first through the heart and then through the head. He then rode north declaring that he would kill the woman and then kill himself. When next seen he had been his own executioner and was bathed in his own blood.

Mrs. Underwood visited Valentine Saturday.

Miss Eva Heath was at the county seat, Saturday, and took the teachers' examination.

J. C. Gaskill has rented his farm, located north-west of Valentine, and come to Cody with his wife and daughter on Sunday. Tuesday morning Mr. Gaskill and daughter Lulu, left for Montana, where other members of the family reside. Mrs. Gaskill has rented a house in west Cody and will make her home here for the coming summer at least.

F. H. Good fellow and wife came up from Valentine, on Friday, and went down to the ranch, south-west of Cody the following day.

Misses Jennie Weed and Lillian Goodin came over from Bailey, last Friday, and went to Valentine, Saturday morning, to take the teachers' examination. Miss Goodin, we are informed, will teach the first term of school in the new Lindberg district, beginning about the first of April. The district has yet to build a school house.

Joseph Wisser and Lorenzo Lindberg are preparing to "pull up and push out." Mr. Wisser, we understand, has purchased a business house in some town in southeastern South Dakota, and expects to engage in the mercantile business. The "Cow Boy" can say, with many other friends, that we regret to see these two families leave this section of the country.

Gordon Journal.—George Johnson got a hand tangled up in a hay rake, some way last week, and when it was released he found the index finger of his left hand so badly mashed that it necessitated amputation at the first joint.

Bert White, of Merriman, was married on the 14th inst. to Miss Faith Hale.

W. A. Kimbell has negotiated for a barber shop at Valentine and will move to that place the 1st of April. Mr. Kimbell is a No. 1 barber and all regret to see him leave Gordon.

Billy Metzgar, who was injured some time ago by a horse falling on him, has been in a very precarious condition all winter. He will be taken to an Omaha hospital for treatment as soon as he is able to stand the journey.

Chas. Basic came to town Monday and had Dr. Elmore take an inventory of the injuries he received the day before in an encounter with a bucking broncho. The most serious was a fractured ulna, which Dr. Elmore adjusted and now Charley wishes he had taken out an accident policy in the W.O.W.

Chas. Dix returned from Ainsworth via Stanton, Monday morning. He had a very nice visit with Mr. and Mrs. Knepper whom he reports delighted with their new home at Stanton and prospering in business. He also made arrangements to rent a farm near Ainsworth for his father.

Notwithstanding business has been a trifle slow in Gordon since the holidays our business men have shown a loyalty to their home paper that is commendable and that is appreciated by the editor. The business men of Gordon who support a newspaper are of the loyal sort that stand by it through adversity as well as prosperity.

DIED.—Dorothy, Only child of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Morrison, died, Saturday, March 16, 1901, after an illness of four weeks with that dread disease, scarlet fever. Age: five and one half Ainsworth Herald.—About this time openeth the wily uniliner. And she has the stylish bonnet. And the wife of the poor man goeth to see the bonnet. And her husband thereafter giveth her five-and-twenty pieces of gold, and maketh various remarks therewith.

Harrison Press Journal.—Delaware, in the U. S. senate, is represented by two vacant seats. If Nebraska has no better senatorial timber to represent her interests in the upper house than the republicans have trotted out so far, the state, like Delaware, will be best represented by two vacant seats in the American house of lords.

Holt County Independent.—When you visit the printing office and wish to make yourself exceedingly popular, set yourself at the desk and cheerfully examine everything it contains. Go behind the cases and monkey with the compositors, read and criticize every proof that may be hanging on the hooks, or on the case. Never leave the office without taking type from the case, and when you put it back be very careful that you put it back in the wrong box. Pursue the cause diligently and the printer will forever carry you in his memory as the biggest dod gasted fool that ever wore hair.

Bassett Eagle.—A Nebraska editor, lately married, asks: "What is the difference between a honeycomb, a honeymoon, and a pretty girl?" That's dead easy: A honeycomb is a small cell; a honeymoon is a big sell and a pretty girl is a ammel.

COMMUNICATIONS

Along the Minnehaduzza (Left over from last week on account of lack of space.)

Fine weather and grass has started in low places. Lots of hay in the valley. Stock in fine condition.—Geese and ducks are numerous. Mike Duffy, of Glenrock Wyoming, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Clara Burnes. He has taken up a claim and intends to make this his home. Mr. Thomas Reed, who owns an orange grove in Florida, talked of going to the same but received a letter from his brother who informs him that the frost has again frozen up the trees. We hear Mr. Robertson intends building in the spring. Wm. Hatten is suffering with a sprained ankle. Tan Burnes bought some cows and a team of horses from C. Burnes. A great many of the land owners are fencing and more are contemplating fencing. We hear Kilgore is going to have a skimming station.

EXCUSEME.

Bailey Briefs Money talks, yes and legislature. The first presidential veto was by Washington and a congressional apportionment bill was the object of disapproval.

An editor says he has two subscribers who frequently get full and every time they are in that condition they come in and pay a year in advance. One of them is already credited to 1911 and the fraternity throughout the state are crazy to find out what brand of whiskey he drinks. They want to offer it a premium.

All persons desiring help and out of employment should write at once to the state labor bureau and let their want be known. The legislature of 1893 and 1897 passed a law making this a free employment bureau for the entire state. Those who want help should state in their applications exactly what kind of help is wanted, in what branch of labor, etc. Those who want situations should state sex, age, height, weight, trade or experience, reference, etc. All information received by the bureau will be held strictly confidential and all services rendered will be free. Absolutely no fee will be charged in any case. This is a free employment bureau and is designed to do away with the private employment agency nuisance in the cities, by which so many worthy people are victimized. All desiring help—carpenters, brick-makers, mill men, farm hands, city laborers, cooks, servant girls, or help of any kind; should immediately apply to this office and they will be put in communication with those in the line of service desired. Persons out of employment should also write without delay. All unfilled applications should be renewed after thirty days. Communications should be addressed to State Labor Bureau, Lincoln, Neb.

Anybody who didn't know, would think that Charlie Maxwell was an angel of deliverance judging from the way the Physics class act when he comes in to ring the closing bell.

And there abide these three: "He" "Doc" and "Scipio", all Philomathians, but the wisest of these is "Scipio".

Miss Need was a visitor in the school last Friday.

"A man ought to be stronger than anything that can happen to him."

A lot of new school supplies arrived last week, noticeably a great many instruments of torture for the physics class.

We have fixed the evening of April 12 for the date of our first program, to be given in Cornell hall.

Those who intend to follow Prof. Watson's advice on reading poetry should not fail to get the little book of poems by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, entitled "How Salvo! Won; and Other Recitations."

Father—(darned) Who in the world is that hollering upstairs? Sounds as if murder were being done! I'll investigate.

Fond Mother—For shame! that's our Lucy practicing her graduation essay.

Glen Hoening had charge of Miss Moses' room last Thursday, Miss Moses being ill.

Examination! "A word to the wise is sufficient."

Mr. Frank Thorn was a congenial visitor in the H. S. Monday morning having been detained from his duties in Woodlake by the blizzard.

Mr. Growden, at the present writing is trying to invent a scheme whereby he may transform the pump (recently borrowed for the benefit of the physics class) into a machine for the destruction of Latin infinitives. We believe that Mr. Growden "is about to be praised everlasting."

The 8th grade drawing class exhibits some specimens of original designs which could result only from care, skill and practice.

Cloye Quigley of the 9th grade was absent from school duties last week on account of illness.

When Miss Towne's bell rang at half past three she thought it was a mistake when in reality it was only that physics class again experimenting with electric dynamos.

"On tip toe" should be the motto of every 8th and 9th grader.

Let us not become so interested in what the Roman senate did 2500 years ago that we forget to find out what the American senate did yesterday.

Prof. Watson is much better he being able to dispense with both bandage and glasses.

Clay Day, our reporter for the Republican. That he intends to discharge these duties as faithfully as ever was made manifest by the manner in which he attacked the dispositions of the "Quiet Family."

Mr. Morgareidge and Miss Inez Pettreyer visited the H. S. Monday afternoon.

Mr. Healdy, a ranchman of White river, was visiting his cousin Miss Cook Saturday and being detained by the blizzard paid pleasant visits to several of the rooms.
