Thursday, July 25, 1901

Every day brings some new and startling revelation of some deed of violence committed by an infuriated mob, who are to say the least mostly peaceable and law abiding citizens in every other respect and are always our best citizens. They are not willing that a continuous farce be perpetrated by our so-called officers of the law. Late Saturday evening July 13, 1901, Gov. Savage paroled ex state treasurer Bartley after he had served 4 years and 1 month on his 26 year sentence for stealing over $500,000 from his state. Numerous attempts have been made to defeat justice in his case but he was speedily sent behind the bars to pay the penalty of a half million dollar steal with a 20-year sentence which he was serving and would have served but for the election of republican state officials last fall and how soon he was paroled which is equal to his pardon. This is a good indication of how much the republican party deplored being caught by populist and democratic victory in 1896. In 1892 when Joe Bartley was a banker at Atkinson he conceived of a plan to accumulate wealth faster than the two per cent a month plan and loaded up a car with delegates and with banners flying from the chartered car such as Joe Bartley for State Treasurer went down to the state convention taking it by storm but finding Mr. Hill a strong candidate for the same place he withdrew with the promise that in two years he could have the place when Hill had gotten his fees. Bartley had never held office of any kind before of any consequence nor had he tried nor would he try for anything but for state treasurer and for which he waited patiently until it came, then like a hungry wolf seizing his prey he began to make use of the office. It could not be said that Bartley suffered for other's wrongs. If he was a law-abiding citizen and not the perpetrator he should and would have told who the guilty parties were. It could not be said that he was ignorant nor a fool, for who ever heard of a banker who had done business for years being anything but a shrewd business man fully able to take care of his own interests. He was simply a thief, as he was proven to be, stealing over $500,000 from the state treasury and hoped to be let down easy by republican officials which thank fortune were not elected and he was sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary by what some people call pops or demo-pops when they wish to insinuate that they are a know nothing people. If nothing else had been done in Nebraska by the populists than sentence Joe Bartley they could claim a better record than the republican party. Miss Smith came down Tuesday from the boarding school and went up to Pine Ridge agency to visit her brother who is a teacher in the school at that place.
E. R. Vandegrift of Brownlee came up to Valentine last Saturday and returned the following day with a load of supplies preparatory to commencing his hay harvest.
Send in or come before August 1 to see that your personal taxes are all paid. You will save costs by paying up. If you do not read THE DEMOCRAT you will lose money. Only one dollar a year.
This issue of THE DEMOCRAT contains a new ad for The Red Front. The hot weather does not deter this enterprising firm from keeping the public informed about their general merchandise business.
Mrs. Geo. Veach, of Valentine, who has been visiting with her sister in this city, Mrs. Wm. Ennis, returned home Tuesday night. Her husband came up to accompany her on the trip.—Chadron Chadronian.
Frank A. Thackrey and wife returned Tuesday morning from Hot Springs and Wind Cave where they visited several days during the past week. Grandpa Thackrey who went with them is coming back over land with the team that Jas. E. and John E. left last spring on account of the high water. Rev. Cumbow went up to Hot Springs last Monday and will accompany Grandpa Thackrey home.

A Song

Backward, turn backward, O, time in thy flight,
Give us a rain again just for tonight;
Pull out the plug in the bung of the sky
Let rain descend on the earth, hot and dry.
Lam so sick of this waterless spell
Weary of winds that are hotter than—all get out.
Weary of torments that fever the blood—
Turn on a flood, mister, turn on a flood.
—Sixty in State Journal.

In a Glass of Water.
Put a handful of glazed coffee in a glass of water, wash off the coating, look at it; smell it; is it fit to drink? Give LION COFFEE the same test. It leaves the water bright and clear, because it's just pure coffee.
The sealed package insures uniform quality and freshness.

IT'S HERE
We keep studying the needs of people. That's why we so seldom lack the item you want. The loss of a sale is a trifle, but the customer is disappointed. Several disappointments and he may not come again. The loss of a customer is a serious loss to any store. Not merely a loss of profit, but a loss of prestige.
We try to make our store useful and helpful. We want it to be known as a place where everything that a druggist ought to sell may be found, and where little accommodations are given—and not grudgingly. When we don't quite please you, tell us—it will help us to make our store better.
Quigley & Chapman,
Druggists,
Valentine, Neb.

Dr. A. N. Compton went over to the Rosebud reservation Friday in the interest of his profession and returned to Valentine Sunday. He informs us that Mrs. William Smith and Mrs. K. Leaton were quite sick.

Wednesday evening we had a little shower here which cooled the atmosphere and brightened up things considerably. Cody reports a good rain and similar reports are received from along the state line north.

O. W., J. H. and Chas. W. McDonald, of Woodlake, were in the county seat last Tuesday proving up on their fine hay claims in that part of the county. They paid this office a business call before returning home.

A very pleasant social dance was given last Monday evening at Cornell hall in honor of Miss May Thacher by a few of her friends. The evening passed very pleasantly after which a supper was served at The Donohoe.

Genevieve Delgetta, of Bassett, was here last Friday in the interest of a piece of land she owns in this county. Miss Delgetta is well known here having been connected with a millinery store here some two years ago.

Last Thursday F. M. Jersig shipped in three hundred and fifty two year old steers from Omaha and unloaded them at the stock yards here. They were taken out to Henry Ballard's pasture where they will be fitted for the fall market. Mr. Jersig also shipped one car into Woodlake.

Pat Hett has been hauling and furnishing stone for the Quigley and Brayton buildings and last week went up to Cody to put up hay for Jas. H. Quigley on his ranch. Mr. Hett has some of the finest building stone on his place that is found in this vicinity.

C. C. Perkins and his uncle J. M. Clarkison called at this office for a pleasant visit Monday. Mr. Perkins made a two weeks visit here from his home in Arkansas and left Tuesday morning for White, South Dakota, to visit with other relatives before returning.

Harry O. Tucker arrived here from Port Orchard, Washington, last Sunday morning to be at the bedside of his father who has been quite sick for some time. We hope that his father will soon regain health sufficiently to allow Harry to return and take care of his business interests in the west.

The county officers to be elected this fall are: County Treasurer, Clerk, Sheriff, Superintendent, Surveyor, Coroner and Commissioner in the 3rd district. Two weeks ago a line of copy was omitted by mistake in setting it up which made the list incomplete. Convention will be held the latter part of September or the first of October.

About $4500 is taken from the county general fund and returned to the school funds of the county and to the Valentine village fund by the recent action of the county commissioners. Interest on delinquent taxes, has formerly gone into the county general fund when paid with the exception of that proportion which has always been exacted by the state as its share in the interest. This interest has now been apportioned severally to the school districts and the village funds.

Jolly Pat Peiper was seen on our streets yesterday and ordered his paper changed from Irwin to Simeon where we understand Mr. Peiper will continue in the stock business. Notice his stock brand.

The ladies of the M. E. church wish to thank the people for their liberal patronage at the supper they gave last evening. They netted about $27.50. The ladies appreciate the patronage of the public and it goes to show the liberality of the people of Valentine and they can be assured that their money goes for a good cause.

A Y. W. C. T. U. was organized in the M. E. church Monday evening with twenty one members. The following officers were elected: president, Miss Iva Efner, vice president, Mrs. Brown; corresponding secretary, Miss Frances VanBuskirk; recording secretary, Miss Frances Harden; Treasurer, Miss Elsie Sherman. We wish this society the best of success.

James Brantner received a telegram last Friday morning that his father had died at Plattsburgh, Nebraska, Thursday evening after a short illness. The telegram was received at the office Thursday evening but was not delivered until the next morning so Mr. Brantner could not have reached home in time for the funeral which took place Saturday morning.

Edward Elliott, of Kilgore, and Miss Lizzie M. Thomson, of Valentine, were married at Kilgore last Sunday, July 21, 1901, by W. A. Wilson. The groom is not known very extensively in this city but we understand has many friends around Kilgore and McCann. The bride has resided in or near Valentine for a number of years and a host of friends, with which THE DEMOCRAT unites, extend very best wishes for their future.

Robert C. McBroom and Miss Nellie Goodin, of Cody, were married last Wednesday, July 24, 1901, by Justice William Wilson. Mr. McBroom, during his residence in Cherry county, has made many friends both here and at Cody and the bride is one of Cody's fairest ladies having lived in the vicinity south of there for a number of years. This happy young couple departed this morning for Boise City, Idaho, where they will make their future home. This paper unites with their friends in extending congratulations.

James D. Thacher and daughter are here visiting the former's brother Albert E. Thacher. Mr. Thacher arrived here last Friday morning from Philadelphia expecting to remain about two weeks but was called away this morning to attend to business interests in the east. Miss May has never before visited the west which adds to the pleasure of this occasion while Mr. Thacher will be remembered by some as having visited his brother, Albert, here some years ago. Miss May accompanied her father on his return and both unite in assuring our people of a very pleasant visit in Valentine and only regret that they could not stay longer.

The sad intelligence reached this city last evening of the death of Glen, the one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Northrop, of Glen Rock, Wyoming. The little one had been sick for about ten days with brain fever and Monday Mrs. J. C. Northrop was telegraphed and started Tuesday morning reaching the bedside just one hour before death which occurred at 9:30 Wednesday evening. The remains will be brought to Valentine for interment and the funeral will occur tomorrow, Friday, afternoon. A host of friends extend to Mr. and Mrs. Northrop their sincere sympathy and condolence in their hour of bereavement.

Tuesday night was the grand opening of the Owl saloon in the new stone building provided by the Krug Brewing Co., on the east side of Main street one block from the F. E. & M. V. depot. This building was built by Jos. Stolze and contract for finishing was given Wm. Maier, the court house contractor, who have done their work well. A brick side-walk ten feet wide is laid in front of the building and is an example of what can be done by any one wanting a cheap everlasting walk that can be repaired a brick at a time if necessary at small expense. "Frie Beer" went the rounds at the Owl in their new headquarters and Krug beer flowed plentifully and free to all from 6 P. M. to 12 o'clock. No charge being made for anything called for. There was a line that could not have been broken by the "Noble Six Hundred," at the bar. Our good natured townsman, Jim Hull, stood at the distributing point while T. A. Yearshaw with a pleasing countenance looked bither and yon to the comfort of their guests. Even Matt Woodson moved about with the gracefulness of a Pullman porter with everything as harmonious and orderly as a church festival. It was Dan Handy's night off or his smiles would have been added to the assembly. Notice the ad of the Owl saloon on first page.

Dan Truax and Charlie Gartside were down from Cody this morning.

Frank Fischer went to Neiligh to look after his land interests at that place. From there he will go to Omaha.

Charlie Cooper is in town today and reports the arrival of a baby boy at his home yesterday and all parties doing well.

Notice our local weather record on first page. You get a fresh report every week which is well worth your time to read and compare.

Dave Stinard and his three daughters Ada, Ida and Lucilla departed this morning for Buffalo and will go to Mt. Vernon, N. Y., his former home from which he left coming west 17 years ago. Mr. Stinard has been engaged in the mercantile business since coming west and also owns a ranch and a good herd of cattle down east of the Fort of which our friend W. T. Bishop is manager. Mr. Stinard has done well in Cherry county. H. Buttinghaus or "Sticks" as he is better known will run Mr. S.'s clothing store during the absence of the family, Mrs. Stinard having preceded the others two or three weeks, and is, perhaps even now, longing to return to the Land of the Mild Eyed Steer.
