ADDITIONAL LOCAL

Joe Burleigh's sale October 1. Full account of the races, next week. M. V. Nicholson attended the State Bankers Convention last week. Miss Agnes Piercy returned from a trip to California, Monday night. At Britt next Tuesday J. W. Burleigh will have the biggest sale of the season. The Indians that went from here to Glen Island, N. Y., last spring returned Sunday night. J. P. Gardner was down the first of the week from his ranch near Cody and paid us a nice visit. A number of our young people gave a surprise party on Bert Jeffers who is going away to attend school. Geo. W. Lehr of Hastings is here visiting. Mr. Lehr is remembered as the station agent and operator here, '89 to '91. O. W. Morey the jeweler and optician will be at Woodlake Monday, Sept. 30, one day only. Get your eyes fitted with glasses. A large number of Indians have been in town since last week and their singing and war-whoops could be heard far into the night. Our town has been pretty well filled with people since last Thursday and from different parts of the county and surrounding country. C. E. Foster has gone to Rushville to accept a position as day operator. His place here as night operator is being filled by Fred Vincent. A matched race was pulled off Tuesday for $30 between Rosebud Girl owned by C. P. Jordan and one of Dan Truax's horses. As they came to the home stretch the Truax horse fell down hurting the rider slightly and it is thought the horse was hurt some. The stake holder returned the money though it was claimed that Rosebud Girl had won it by some. Jas. McLean had charge of Rosebud girl. Sid bets were paid. Just at present when we are hearing so much about the disintegration and death of the democrat party, the following prophecy of old Mother Ship-ton, the famous prophetess, possesses an intense interest: When the lion eats grass like an ox And the fish worm swallows the whale When terrapin kills wooden axes And the hare is out run by the snail, When serpent walks upright like men, And dodie lins travel like frogs, When grasshoppers feed on the lion, And feathers are found on legs, When the man eats swim in the air, And elephants roost upon trees, When insects in summer are rare, And snuff never makes people sneeze When fish creep over dry land, And mules on velocipedes ride, When foxes lay eggs in the sand, And we meet in excess take no pride, When dutchman no longer drink beer, And girls get to preaching on time, When billy goats butt from the rear, And treason no longer is crime, When the humming bird brays like an ass, And limberger smells like cologne, When plowshares are made out of glass And the hearts of Nebraskans are stone, When ideas grow in Republicans' heads, And west on the hydraulic ram, Then the Democratic party will be dead, And this country won't be worth a d---. —Bassett Eagle.

How much the heart may bear, And yet not break, How much the flesh may suffer, And not die! I question much if any pain or ache of soul or body brings our end more nigh, Death chooses his own time, till that is worn! All things can be born. —Elizabeth A. Allen.

PERFUMES TALK. They tell a story of personal taste almost as plainly as bees one's dress. Some people select perfume with the most precise discrimination; others are less keen in sensing the quality of an odor. In nothing are we more particular than in the buying of perfumes. Nothing comes here that is not what it should be, and we can please the most exacting judge of odors. Those who ask our help in making a selection can rely upon what we recommend.
