It was thought that he was getting along nicely and improving but a hemorrhage of the bowels Friday night caused him to die very suddenly and he was conscious to the last. Delbert Ayers returned from Wyoming about three weeks ago on account of sickness at that time from which he had grown steridly worse. His parents were notified at Brownlee, arrived Saturday morning about two o'clock and started home with the remains a few hours later. The interment will take place at Brownlee. The deceased was a charter member of the S. & D. of P. of Valentine and was a member of the M. W. A. of Simeon.

That seventy-first original was almost enough to turn the "milk of human kindness into clabber."

Pearl Tetherow, Alphonse Carbonneau and Steve Estes are new non-resident enrollments this week.

A row of shelves for the accommodation of magazines and papers have been added to the conveniences of the H. S. room.

Miss Hess has such an abrupt way of putting the history questions that the seniors can say with absolute veracity, "Oh! it's so sudden!"

An opinion is prevalent among the seniors that the man who made the geometry mixed his pre-fixes and that many so-called propositions are in reality impositions.

The _____ society has made out its program. This item failed to appear last week, not thro' any malicious wish to suppress the doings of the illustrious _____s, but simply because the aforesaid had not assumed any name whereby they might be mentioned. We feel, however, that a matter of such moment ought not to be kept longer from the public and trust to the latter's powers of penetration to discover whom we mean.

The world is full of noble people, full of beautiful things. If we could only choose good friends read good books learn good songs practice good deeds, and put ourselves in touch with the beautiful harmonies of nature and art, life would be a glorious thing so far exceeding its present tete as to be almost unrecognizable. There is no reason why the average person should not enjoy life in the truest sense. Nature with a lavish hand spreads her beauties before us. The man who goes through life, never rejoicing in a glorious sunset never feeling a thrill of expectation upon beholding the grand old hills, never feeling the impress of divinity upon the tiny blossom at his feet nor the proof of immortality in the eyes of a little child, he indeed, misses the kernel of life and eats but the husks'.

THOMPSON-AUSTIN

The greatest event in the social history of Simeon took place at the residence of C. A. Austin Wednesday evening, October 30, 1901. It was the marriage of his daughter Sadie F. to John W. Thompson. The Thompson and Austin families have, for a long time, been residents here and have a large circle of friends.

In response to seventy-five invitations, forty relatives and friends were present. Promptly at 8 o'clock the bride and groom took their places attended by brides-maids Miss Mattie Thompson and Cassie Richardson; groomsmen, Robert Thompson and W. N. Ballard. The bride was very neatly dressed in cream colored henrietta trimmed in cream colored satin, silk lace and pearls. The groom wore a very neat evening suit. The ceremony which made them one was conducted by Rev. Cumbow of Valentine. After congratulations came supper which was as fine as any person ever sat down to consisting of all the delicacies of the season.

After supper the young folks enjoyed themselves dancing until midnight when all departed for their respective homes all wishing the bride and groom a long and happy life. The groom had furnished his residence so everything was in readiness for the reception of his bride. They moved in Thursday and settled down to married life as residents of the Schlegle valley, and as they have always ranked among our most popular young people so they will continue to hold a prominent place in public estimation. They extend a cordial invitation to all their friends to come and see them.
