TALK OF THE TOWN

Dave Dunn, of Britt, was in town the fore part of the week.

John Neiss was over from the reservation the latter part of last week.

Henry Becker, from out on the north table, was in town last Saturday.

T. Ashourn, from down the river, was in town the latter part of last week.

The Ludwig Lumber Yard unloaded nine cars of building material since the first of the month.

R. J. Cook came down from Cody the latter part of last week to spend a few days with his family.

Alex Charbonneau came down from his ranch on the reservation, Monday to visit in town for a few days.

Will Clarkson, the ice man, has recently had his wagon painted which gives it a very neat appearance.

Len Bivens has resigned his position with Davenport & Thacher and accepted a position at the Red Front.

Editor Heath, of the Cody Cow Boy, came down from Cody Monday morning and while in town made this office a pleasant call.

The editress of the Stuart Ledger says she is busy and asks the youth of the town to refrain from making goo goo eyes at the contents of the Ledger office.

The sale of Joseph Schaefer's which was to have been last Tuesday was postponed on account of the blizzard. The sale will take place next Tuesday the 29th.

Wm. Epke, who moved to town last fall so as to give his children a better chance to attend school, moved his family back to his ranch near Crookston, Friday.

The storm of snow and sleet that struck this country Monday night and Tuesday was a good thing for the range but hard on the cattle, many of them not being in condition to stand it.

The Odd Fellows lodge has taken stock in the Fraternal hall and the concern will start out practically free from debt. Committees are at work on plans for a grand opening of the hall in the near future.

Davenport & Thacher are painting and papering their store and when the work is finished the appearance of the store will be very much improved.

Pete DeCory came down from his ranch on the reservation last week to spend a few days in town. Pete has a fine ranch and several hundred head of cattle horses which enables him to enjoy life with comfort and ease.

The "all star vaudeville company" that played here a short time ago went broke at Merriman and one of the actors published a card of thanks, thanking the citizens of Merriman for assisting himself and wife to get back home.

The new village board met Saturday evening and organized by electing Geo. Elliott chairman. They appointed Chas. Sparks treasurer, A. M. Morrissey clerk, and Webb Hillsinger marshal. All the licenses applied for were granted.

The people of Rushville are studying the plans of our court house as a model for a new building for Sheridan county. The majority of the tax payers who have examined the plans are of the opinion that they cannot do better than to duplicate our building.

F. M. Sageser is in town this week from Chambers, Nebr., visiting with friends and his son-in-law, Claude Reece, of near Simeon. Mr. Sageser formerly lived at this place and worked in Crabb & Co's store. He made this office a pleasant call while in town Tuesday.

The Nebraska Experiment Station has just issued Bulletin No. 72, which gives the results of five years' experiments with winter wheat. The bulletin may be obtained free of cost by residents of the State upon writing to the Agricultural Experiment Station, Lincoln, Nebraska.

The newest, and at the same time about the busiest of Valentine's institutions is the cigar factory of A. F. Webb. The capacity of the factory is 600 cigars per day and they are working early and late to supply the demand for their goods and they have orders in excess of Those who shed their flannels Sunday hunted them up bright and early Tuesday morning.

Geo. Elliott has a new sign that just matches the neat front to his store. Christensen did the work.

A soldier fell from a special train near Hay Springs, Saturday night and laid on the prairie all night. He was unconscious for twenty-four hours and there is little hope for his recovery.

Rosewater insists that "clean" men be nominated for office by the republicans and he wants a nomination himself. Well, Rosey has no little ability and he wouldn't steal anything that was nailed down--unless he could get help.

Judge Harrington convened court at Bassett Saturday, for the purpose of passing on the motion for a new trial in the case of George Wiegrefe, found guilty of stealing cattle at the last term of court. The contention of defendant in his motion was, that the property stolen was jointly owned and only one of the owners denied having given consent to any person to take the property. The motion was overruled and the case will be taken to the supreme court. Wiegrefe is 58 years of age and has a wife and family. He is in very poor health and while he was standing to receive sentence he fainted away. It was a pathetic sight which brought to those present very vividly the sternness of the law. The judge said he was sorry to have to sentence the defendant, and that on account of his age and the united request of the jury for clemency he would give him but two years. Chris Pope, who was jointly charged with stealing the cattle with Wiegrefe and who pleaded guilty was also given two years.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to our friends and the fraternal organizations for their kindness and sympathy and for the floral tributes tendered in our recent loss of a beloved husband and father. Very sincerely,

MARGARET J. DAVENPORT and family.

"Be but faithful, that is all,
Go right on and close behind thee
There shall follow an' shall find thee
Help sure help."

Mr. Jamison talked to the H. S. again Thursday morning.

Several were absent Tuesday on account of the blizzard.

Misses Maude Jeffers and Cora Sparks visited Miss Eason's room one day last week.

Earl Pettycrew, of the class of '99, showed his loyalty to his Alma Mater last Friday by driving to Valentine to attend the Delphian entertainment.

Tuesday morning the literary societies elected Floyd Pettycrew to serve as treasurer for the rest of the year, the office having been left vacant since Irvin Query turned in his books.

Mr. and Mrs. Growden drove about forty miles last Friday through the sand hills to be present at the entertainment given by the Delphian literary society of which their son James is president.

Junior: (Picking up a Caesar) I don't see what makes the seniors complain about their Caesar. It's dead easy. Why just listen here: (forte dux in aro) forty ducks in a row; (passus sum jam) pass us some jam.

Miss Glen Hoening closed her school one day to come to town to the Non-Parasit entertainment and on last Friday she rode horseback fifteen miles to attend the Delphian entertainment. Such loyalty on the part of former graduates is certainly commendable.

The Delphian program of last Friday evening was the greatest financial success ever enjoyed by a literary society of the H. S. and compared favorably in every other way with those that preceded it. The total amount realized was $48.60 and after deducting expenses it is found that we have $39.45 to add to the library fund. With this addition we find that we have in all $75 in the treasury a part of which will
