The tremendous sacrifices made in lood and creasure by the empire in its effort to subjugate a pair or truy to pubics is strikingly presented by the rindadelphia Ledger, when it points out, "When the first call for money and men was made in England with which to prosecute the Boer was in 1899, the sum of $49,000,000 was asked for, and it was believed by the blind jingoes that the Dutch republic could be extinguished in four months by an army of 47,000 men. The last demand for money in the past year was for the sum of $273, 743,000, and parliment has appropriated altogether $701,948,300 for the conquest of the opers. By the end of the present month, which is the end of the British fiscal year, the total cost or the war will reach at least $844,000,000. The war is in its fourth year, and, instead at 47,000 men, the British force in south Africa at the tast report numbered 237,000 men The average during active operations has been in the neighborhood of 200,000, and the British have just by death of permanent disability over 25,000 men, write the Village of Valentine, Nebraska; a fractional total of British causalties, including the surviving would d, cumbers 101, 101 book endersed by Talwage family Enormous One coming 3 year old heret related in the coming 3 year o di n of PALPH THACHER men and 5,24 oth . . . h . . a tre-
