

A PASTOR'S WIFE CURED OF PELVIC CATARRH

She Suffered for Years and Felt Her Case Was Hopeless—Cured by Peruna.

MRS. ANNA B. FLEHARTY, recent Superintendent of the W. G. T. U. headquarters, at Galesburg, Ill., was for ten years one of the leading women there. Her husband, when living, was first president of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, at Lincoln, Neb.

In a letter written from 401 Sixty-seventh street, N. W., Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Fleharty says the following in regard to Peruna:

"Having lived a very active life as wife and working partner of a busy minister, my health failed me a few years ago. I lost my husband about the same time, and gradually I seemed to lose health and spirit. My daughter is a confirmed invalid, and we both felt great need of an invigorator.

"One of my neighbors advised me to try Peruna. A bottle was immediately secured and a great change took place in my daughter's, as well as in my own health. Our appetites improved very greatly, the digestion seemed much helped, and restful sleep soon improved us, so that we seemed like new women. 'It would not be without Peruna for ten times its cost.'—Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty.

What used to be called female diseases by the medical profession is now called pelvic catarrh. It has been found by experience that catarrhal diseases of the pelvic organs are the cause of most cases of female disease.

Dr. Hartman was among the first of America's great physicians to make this discovery. For forty years he has been treating diseases peculiar to women, and long ago he reached the conclusion that a woman entirely free from catarrhal affection of these organs would not be subject to female disease. He therefore began using Peruna for these cases and found it so admirably adapted to their permanent cure that Peruna has now become the most famous remedy for female diseases ever known. Everywhere the women are using it and praising it. Peruna is not a palliative simply; it cures by removing the cause of female disease.

Dr. Hartman has probably cured more women of female ailments than any other living physician. He makes these cures simply by using and recommending Peruna.

Mrs. E. L. Brown, 329 Elliott street, Memphis, Tenn., writes:

Mrs. Jacob Spooner, of Kerr's Corners, N. Y., during the absence of her son and husband, went into a corn crib. The door closed with a spring lock, making her a prisoner. When the son and husband returned, late in the evening, they found her frozen to death.

Most of the jewelers in the Philippines are women, and they are very expert in their art.

Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty.

"I suffered for several years with headache brought on by nervous prostration. I was also afflicted with insomnia. I would get up in the morning more weary than when I retired and I used to dread the approach of night. Peruna came into my home as a welcome guest, and within three short months I was like another woman. I have now enjoyed perfect health for over a year, and those who have suffered as I did will know how happy I am."—Mrs. E. L. Brown.

Mrs. Esther M. Milner, De Graff, Ohio, writes: "I was a terrible sufferer from female weakness and had the headache continuously. I was not able to do my housework for myself and husband. I wrote you and described my condition as near as possible. You recommended Peruna. I took four bottles and was completely cured. I think Peruna a wonderful medicine."—Mrs. Esther M. Milner.

Congressman Thad. M. Mahon, of Chambersburg, Pa., writes: "I take pleasure in commending your Peruna as a substantial tonic and a good catarrh remedy."—T. M. Mahon.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

DEADLY SUBMARINE BOATS.

To Play Important Part in Naval Operations in Future.

There is not the slightest doubt that, in future warfare on the seas, submarine boats will play a very prominent part. In the system of naval tactics which has been evolved by hundreds of years of sea fighting, these small, inconspicuous boats will bring about changes which will be almost revolutionary. The blockading of ports, as practiced under our present system, will be well-nigh impossible. The immensely wealthy sea coast cities, which have trembled at rumors of war because of the likelihood that an enemy would steal up to their doors and destroy them, may put aside their fears. A few submarine boats will be able to clear any harbor of attacking ships of war. Against the stealthy and underhand, but terrifically destructive assault of such a craft, a battleship can have no defense but flight.

At Santiago, for example, our men-of-war would never have dared to close in around the mouth of the harbor if the Spaniards had had three or four vessels like the Holland scurrying about and delivering quick and unforeseen blows from the depths of the ocean. A battleship cannot attack one of these naval sharks, for the very simple reason that it presents no target. Be the lookout ever so vigilant, they cannot, of course, detect an enemy approaching beneath the surface to attack from a water ambulance. No armor plate that has ever been devised is as efficient as a score or more feet of water.

Ordinary torpedo nets will give no protection against submarine attack; the assailants will be able to dive under these nets, or send through them a torpedo which will tear a hole large enough to enable the boat itself to pass. I think it is not putting it too strong, says Lewis Nixon in Success, to say that, in a harbor protected by submarine boats, blockading, as practiced under the present system, will be a thing of the past. I believe that it will be necessary to devise some type of war vessel to withstand these boats. What type this will be no man can yet say.

ASSASSINATION INSURANCE.

Prince Henry of Prussia the Only Man Who Carries It.

Prince Henry of Prussia, our recent royal guest, is probably the only person in the world who is insured against assassination solely. He has an insurance of $900,000 on his life which is payable in case he is assassinated and not otherwise. He took out this singular policy when he sailed for the East to take over the command of the German fleet in Chinese waters some years ago. It was at Prince Henry's departure for this command, it will be remembered, that his brother, the Kaiser, made his celebrated "mallet fist" speech. This assassination risk upon Prince Henry's life is held by German companies and there does not seem to be any special danger of their ever being called upon to pay it, for Prince Henry is a popular person and there are several lives between him and the throne.

It would seem as if the Czar of Russia would be the monarch most in need of a special insurance against assassination, but that potentate, while heavily insured, has no special clause in his policy regarding assassination. He is a great believer in life insurance, is the Czar, and, considering the manner in which anarchists and nihilists seek his life, it is no wonder. Within a week of the birth of his daughter, the little Grand Duchess Olga, the Czar had her life insured for $2,500,000, and his wife, the Czarina, is insured for $1,250,000. He himself carries an insurance of $4,000,000.

Prince Henry's brother, the Kaiser, carries an insurance of $5,000,000, and his uncle, King Edward, is insured for $3,000,000. George Vandervilt is said to be insured for $1,000,000, and "Our Chauncey," the bridegroom, for $500,000, while John Corbary of Philadelphia is said to carry an insurance of $1,300,000.

Origin of "Stateroom." Most people who have slept on ocean steamers in the tiny boxes that are called "staterooms" have wondered whence the magnificent name was derived. A British colonial paper gives an explanation of what we have never before seen explained. On the early Mississippi steamboats the cabins were divided by curtains only. But an enterprising owner built wooden partitions in his boats, and named the cabins after the various States of the Union. The innovation proved popular, and passengers coming on board would ask: "What State are you putting me in this trip?" The derivation of the term is plausible. But were there not "staterooms" on passenger vessels before the days of steam?

Mrs. Sangster to Stage-Struck Girls. No vacation is so full of drudgery and so beset with disappointment as is the stage. Many fall utterly, few succeed brilliantly, and mediocrity is ill paid and little esteemed. Except for the occasional girl, the stage is a profession to avoid. As for any general culture a girl may have had, if thorough, it will serve her as well elsewhere as in a theatrical career.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Electricity Has Aided Mariners.

Electricity has increased the power of sea coast lights to that of 3,000,000 candles. The mineral oil lamp of the "Doty system," which was in almost universal use previous to the introduction of electricity, did not exceed 54,000 candles in the strength of its illumination.

The Coyote.

The coyote is usually very lean, has a long, slender snout and bushy tail, and looks very much like a wolf, to which family, in fact, he belongs. His fur is lighter colored in winter than in summer, being in the former season grizzly gray, with black streaks on the back, hips and shoulders, and tawny ones along the legs. The under side of the body is dingy white.

A Detroit paper of a recent date contained this advertisement: "Notice—If—, who is supposed to be in Chicago, will communicate with his friends at home, he will hear of something to his advantage. His wife is dead."

HEALTH AND ALL ITS BLESSINGS

Health will come with all its blessings to those who know the way, and it is mainly a question of right-living, with all the term implies, but the efforts which strengthen the system, the games which refresh and the foods which nourish are important, each in a way, while it is also advantageous to have knowledge of the best methods of promoting freedom from unsanitary conditions. To assist nature, when nature needs assistance, it is all important that the medicinal agents used should be of the best quality and of known value, and the one remedy which acts most beneficially and pleasantly, as a laxative, is—Syrup of Figs—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

With a proper understanding of the fact that many physical ills are of a transient character and yield promptly to the gentle action of Syrup of Figs, gladness and comfort come to the heart, and if one would remove the torpor and strain attendant upon a constipated condition of the system, take Syrup of Figs and enjoy freedom from the aches and pains, the colds and headaches and the depression due to inactivity of the bowels.
